QUAKE KILLS AND MAIMS

Twenty-five Die as Italy Rocks

Total of Injured Estimated at 350 and Damage to Property Enormous

Populace Terror-Stricken; Military Relief Parties in Stricken Areas

ANCONA (Italy) Oct. 30. (AP)—Reliable unofficial sources tonight estimate the dead in the earthquake that shook Italy's Adriatic coast today at twenty-five and the injured at more than 350.

Property damage was enormous, but it is considered remarkable the toll of lives was not greater, for scarcely a building in Ancona and Senigallia escaped damage. The quake struck terror to a score of towns and villages across 1000 square miles of Northeastern Italy.

Casualty figures made available by the Ministry of the Interior show only thirteen known dead, though it is almost certain the number will increase as additional information is received. It is thought unlikely more than thirty-five or forty in all were killed in the quake zone.

The first shock came shortly after 8 a.m. and lasted twenty minutes. There was a tremendous booming from the sea before Senigallia's chimneypots rattled into the streets.

PALACE FRONT FALLS

At Ancona the marble front of the provincial headquarters palace toppled into the Piazza Roma, and a wall of the Church of the Holy Sacrament collapsed.

Telephone and telegraph communication was impossible and it was feared for a time heavy casualties would be reported from isolated inland towns.

This happened in the earthquake which struck last July somewhat to the south of today's disturbance, but as communication was restored and town after town reported it appeared the heaviest damage was in Ancona and Senigallia.

Three were killed at Ancona and many injured. Ten dead and more than 100 injured were listed at Senigallia. Not all the villages in the western part of the Province of Ancona, which includes Ancona, have been heard from.

PLANES RECONNOITER

Airplanes were sent to reconnoiter the isolated section and determine the extent of the damage, but railway service northward from Ancona was not interrupted and trains ran regularly between Ancona and Monte Marciano.

The center of the quake was in the Adriatic Sea off Senigallia, and the area extended for many miles along the coast, across the upper portion of the peninsula, through the Umbrian and Picenum Hills, the northern range of the Apennines and on to the northward of last July's quake zone, where 1500 perished.

The hospital here was quickly filled and bath-houses along the

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 30. [To the Editor of The Times:] Hot election in New York for Governor. I don't know Roosevelt's opponent, but they say he is a fine man. But if you want to find out about Roosevelt go to a little town in the South, where physical affliction predominates, and ask one of them if Roosevelt would be in any way a favorite of Tammany Hall corruption, and for an answer you would be punched in the jaw by a cripple, the same thing that Roosevelt should have done to Tammany Hall. We got two things in this country who get drunk with a little power. One is Wall Street and the other is Tammany Hall. Neither one can stand prosperity and both beef more when they are not getting it.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

NOBEL PRIZE AWARDED TO NEW YORKER

Dr. Karl Landsteiner of Rockefeller Institution Honored for Researches

STOCKHOLM (Sweden) Oct. 30. (AP)—The Nobel prize in medicine for 1930 was awarded tonight to Dr. Karl Landsteiner of New York, connected with the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research.

The award was made for Dr. Landsteiner's discoveries and research in classifying different kinds of human blood.

It was the first of this year's awards to be announced and was made by the Stockholm faculty of medicine. The money grant amounts to about $46,000. The prizes for chemistry, physics and literature will be announced early next month.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Dr. Karl Landsteiner, who has been awarded the Nobel prize in medicine, for 1930, is principally noted for his work in immunology, bacteriology and pathology in connection with the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research.

He was born in Vienna in 1868 and was educated at the University of Vienna. He is married and has one son, Ernest, who was a pathologist at the university from 1909 to 1919. Dr. Landsteiner has been associated with the institute since 1922.

His contributions to medical literature include papers on human blood groups, chemistry of antigens, etiology of poliomyelitis, and etiology of parozysmal hemeglobinuria. He is a resident of New York.

COOLIDGE IN WARNING

Administration Has Omitted Nothing to Aid Recovery, Says ex-President

Nation Called on to Avoid Experiments and Lend Co-operation

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Oct. 30. (AP)—Calvin Coolidge emerged from the obscurity of private life for fifteen minutes tonight and defended, in a radio address, the efforts of the Republican administration to cope with the recent business depression. In his address, designed chiefly for Massachusetts voters, he urged the election of the Republican candidates in this State for Governor and United States Senator.

Speaking from stations WBZ-WBZA under the auspices of the State Republican Committee, the former President urged the re-election of Gov. Allen and the election to the United States Senate of his former campaign manager, William M. Butler.

AVOID EXPERIMENTS

"It is no time for rash experiments in men or measures," he said.

Commenting upon criticism of President Hoover, he declared that "if there was one action that could have been taken by the government of the United States which would have prevented the trouble that has arisen all over the world, no one has convincingly stated it."

He referred to the efforts of President Hoover to relieve unemployment and declared it to be the duty of all citizens and "particularly all public officers without respect to party, not only to co-operate, but to refrain from groundless and reckless statements which can only retard the return of that public confidence so necessary to increased prosperity."

RELY ON EXPERIENCE

"I am not going to discuss issues with you," Mr. Coolidge said. "It already has been possible to learn about them from the candidates and the press. Besides, issues have a way of disappearing after a campaign and never coming up for a decision.

"There will be new problems arising that have not now been thought of or discussed. . . .

"The more I have seen of public office, the more I am inclined to rely on experience. The conduct of an important governmental position cannot be intrusted to the inspiration of the moment . . . The great success that has marked the conduct of affairs of this commonwealth of the Republican party over a long series of years has been due to its rigid adherence to this principle.

TESTED ABILITY

"It has trained up its important office holders through various stages of experience until they have become experts in public administration. By this same process it has tested out ability and character. Those who are deficient in intelligence and discretion do not meet this severe trial year after year and therefore are discarded. Those who remain we can very safely conclude, by reason of their experince and proven ability and character, are worthy of our confidence and support.

"We have a world-wide recession in trade. It has been due to a combination of causes which no one yet comprehends. There has been chronic revolution in China, economic chaos and grave disturbances in India, so that one-half the population of the globe has been turned into a financial liability. South American states have been in revolt. These have had their influence. But probably we are going through that secondary reaction which has usually followed the first revival after great wars.

NO OMISSIONS

"No government worthy of confidence undertakes to guarantee prosperity. It can, however, through wise measures, promoting security and peace accompanied by reasonable taxation, greatly encourage all kinds of business. Such a policy will make business better when times are good and prevent it from being worse when times are bad.

"Of course, during a political campaign, many claims are made, but I do not know of anything which the Federal or State governments have failed to do which either would have prevented the depres-

'KICK' GIVEN TO GASOLINE IN GERMANY

Government in Pact With Oil Men to Mix Surplus Alcohol With Fuel

BERLIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—What to do with some 40,000 to 50,000 tons surplus alcohol yearly was solved by an agreement made between the German government's alcohol monopoly department and private oil companies today. The private companies, in return for 51 per cent of the shares of the Reich's Motor Alcohol Monopoly Company, Ltd., agreed to absorb the surplus by mixing the product liberally with fuel gasoline.

By a decree of July 4, last, companies dealing in gasoline or similar motor fuel had to purchase alcohol from the state monopoly up to 2½ per cent of the amount of gasoline they produced or imported.

The price was 80 marks per hectoliter, but the companies heretofore had the right to return unused alcohol for a refund of 15 marks per hectoliter.

Under that decree many of the companies, instead of ordering alcohol, just paid the government the difference between 80 and 15 marks and saved themselves shipping costs and the need of installing machinery for mixing.

Under the July 4 decree companies were obliged to mix 2½ per cent alcohol with their gasoline. Actually, it developed, that process is technically possible only if 20 to 30 per cent is used. Hence, in agreeing to mix alcohol with gasoline hereafter, the firms rid the monopoly of much more than appeared on the surface.

Duke of York's New Daughter in Christening

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—With water brought from the River Jordan little Princess Margaret Rose, second daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, was christened in the private chapel of Buckingham Palace by the Archbishop of Canterbury today.

A boys' choir from the royal chapel sang hymns selected by the Duchess.

The little Princess is 10 weeks of age today.

'Babe' Now Dad; Two Adopted

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—George Herman Ruth, hitter of home runs, who has brought joy into the lives of thousands of children by signing his name on baseballs, made it possible today for two little girls to affix "Ruth" to their own names hereafter.

The idol of the sandlots and the bleachers signed final adoption papers that made him the legal father of two children who have been members of his household for some time. They are Julie Hodgson, 5-year-old daughter of his present wife by an earlier marriage, and Dorothy Helen Ruth, 9, who was the ward of the first Mrs. Ruth.

CONFIDENCE VOTE GIVEN TO BALDWIN

Former Premier's Policy on Fiscal Matters Upheld by 462 to 116

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Stanley Baldwin went before a full Conservative party meeting today for judgment on his leadership and was accorded its confidence by a vote of 462 to 116.

The former Premier was not in the hall when the actual voting took place. He stalked into the private session at Caxton Hall, where some 6000 Conservative peers, members of Commons and candidates had gathered to sit in judgment on his direction, and in a vigorous speech outlined his proposed policy for the Conservative party.

This Mr. Baldwin defined as the policy of the "free hand" on fiscal matters, referring to such problems as tariffs, and asked a show of hands for a decision.

"I always bow to the will of my party," he said, "and if, after discussion, you think it fit to tell me that you desire another leader I will walk out with no malice in my heart; I will retire from politics."

Then he left, to learn later the meeting had voted confidence in the leader and his party, 4 to 1. He was cheered as he left, and as he entered the House of Commons later his followers gave another tremendous cheer.

Asiatic Cholera Remedy Found

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Discovery of an effective treatment for Asiatic cholera and dysentery by introduction of a parasite that eats up the disease germs is reported to the New York Academy of Medicine.

The new treatment is announced by Dr. Felix D'Herelle, professor of bacteriology at Yale, and the substance used is the still mysterious bacteriophage which D'Herelle discovered six years ago.

Three Killed in Crash of Plane

BOULOGNE, Oct. 30. (AP)—Three persons were killed, one believed to be an American, and three injured in the crash of an Imperial Airways plane at Neufchatel today.

SPEND AND HELP BUSINESS

It has been well said that when times are good it is a shame not to save money, but when times are bad it is a shame to hoard.

The incomes of a large proportion of Los Angeles people have not been affected adversely by the business slump. In fact, they have rather been increased, due to the decline in prices. These should take counsel with themselves and determine to benefit themselves and their community by increasing their purchases. This is a "buyers' market" and a splendid time to lay in supplies of staples, to buy that new car, to paint the house, to refurnish, to build or remodel.

Money put into circulation in this way is bread upon the waters. It stimulates trade, gives employment, creates optimism instead of pessimism, brings cheer into many homes. Increased expenditure, whether of pennies, dimes or dollars, made just now, will bring heavy dividends in the near future. It may be a small amount to the individual but will bulk heavily in the aggregate.

True thrift, wise economy, is never niggardly. It recognizes that there is a golden mean between extravagance and miserliness, that some times are better for spending than others, and some times better for saving.

This is not a good time to crawl into your shell and hold back on normal expenditures. Too much tightness of the purse strings is genuine extravagance.

One of the best outlets for the wise spender at present available is the Community Chest. A contribution to this enterprise is put immediately at work. It circulates; it relieves distress, and it compounds good works as it goes along.

MALIBU MOUNTAINS FIRE PERILS SUMMER COLONY

Fierce Blaze Battled by 500 Men Destroys Canyon Homes and Menaces Rich Estates

Causing a huge loss to watersheds, devastating ranch lands, menacing estates and oil fields and resulting in serious injuries to several fire fighters four major brush fires raged in Southern California yesterday and a fifth was battled at the city limits of Tia Juana, Mexican border town.

Perhaps the largest and most dangerous fire of all was battled in the Malibu Mountains on the Los Angeles and Ventura county border yesterday and last night. Rolling around Triunfo Peak, the fire, which originated at Thousand Oaks on the Ventura highway Wednesday, yesterday crossed the Los Angeles county line and last night was cutting its way through heavily wooded territory toward the ocean.

DANGER INCREASES

Shortly after nightfall the blaze was reported increasing in fury and after plunging into Sycamore Canyon, where six homes were destroyed, began rushing toward a substantial settlement of summer homes. Smoke shot 10,000 feet into the air at intervals, sparks and ashes fell in a radius of fifteen miles and the glow of the flames could be seen for miles.

Fighting to prevent disaster, County Fire Warden Turner hurried 500 men to the scene and established camps all along the fire line. It is believed that the fire can be brought under control if strong winds do not prevail.

AIRPLANE SURVEY MADE

An airplane survey of the Malibu fire district made yesterday with the co-operation of the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service, with headquarters at the Grand Central Air Terminal in Glendale, showed the fire had already consumed several thousand acres and was rapidly eating its way toward heavily wooded territory on the Los Angeles county side. Jimmy Gaskill, who piloted the plane, brought his machine down close to the blaze so that photographs of the terrain might be made.

In Potrero Valley, adjacent to Triunfo Peak and Las Turas Lake, the blaze threatened destruction of the ranch buildings and stables on Old Kentucky Park, valuable estate and stables of F. W. Mathieson, executive officer of the Westclox Company, clock manufacturers. Several sheds and a quantity of feed were consumed and attendants stood ready to lead a number of blooded horses to safety should their stalls be endangered. The near-by property and home of Maj. F. L. French, rancher, were also endangered. Seventy-five men were rushed to this point by Sheriff Clark of Ventura in response to an appeal for aid.

HOMES CATCH FIRE

Ventura county fire forces were taxed to their limit yesterday. Hardly had 700 weary fire fighters gained control over the vast conflagration that Wednesday and yesterday morning swept 22,000 acres between Piru, Moorpark and the Santa Susana Pass, than a fresh blaze broke out shortly after 2 p.m. yesterday in the Yerba Buena district, near the Las Turas Lake region, and four homes were reported burning. The Yerba Buena fire presumably originated from a wind-tossed spark from the fire that started at Thousand Oaks. A dozen more homes were said to be in the path of the flames.

The number of fire fighters in Ventura county burned or otherwise injured as a result of the fire mounted to three yesterday. E. P. Domo, 34 years of age, of Santa Susana, is in the Ventura County Hospital with burns on the head and arms. Paul Doncil, 17, Piru, is still in a critical condition in the same institution from a fractured skull, suffered from falling rocks Wednesday, while William S. Brill, 27, Simi, was severely burned fighting flames near his home.

All Ventura county sent contingents of men to battle the Piru-

PEACE PLEA BY WALES

Prince Supports Nations' League

United States and Canada Cited to Show Power of Co-operation

Address Heard by Millions Through Transoceanic Radio Hook-up

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A plea to the English people for the support of the League of Nations in the "crusade for world peace" was made tonight by the Prince of Wales in a transoceanic radio address before the delegates to the British Imperial Conference.

The Prince pointed to the unguarded frontier between the United States and Canada as an example of what good feeling can do in the relations between nations. He called upon people who doubt the efficacy of the League of Nations to think a little deeper and consider what possible alternative can be offered to establish world peace and rebuild world prosperity. He said the British Empire represents an organization such as the League of Nations is attempting to perfect.

BRITISH SOLIDARITY

"We meet," said the Prince, "at a particularly fitting moment, when the near approach of Armistice Day recalls that period still so vivid to most of us present, when the British Empire demonstrated to the world two outstanding facts. First of all, its own complete solidarity, of the greatest brotherhood the world has ever known, and, secondly, its readiness to help in the building of a similar brotherhood among all nations.

"These facts must increase in reality and importance. They are interdependent and they both find expression through the united policy of the British Empire in membership of the League of Nations.

"I realize that there are still in all countries some people who profess to have no belief in the efficacy of the League of Nations to prevent another devastating world war. I would ask those people to think a little deeper, to reflect first that the way to prevent war is not by some sudden and violent action at the eleventh hour, but by the gradual and steady formation of habits of international co-operation and mutual trust.

NO ALTERNATIVE

"Secondly, I would suggest to those people that they ask themselves, if they mistrust the League, what possible alternative they have to offer for establishing peace and rebuilding world prosperity.

"Tonight's gathering is in itself one of the most convincing proofs of the possibility of international co-operation on a very extensive basis. Here is represented one-quarter of the entire human race, comprising men of different races, languages and conditions, but unit-

POISONS CAUSE DEAFNESS

Digestive Troubles Basis of Many Cases of Faulty Hearing, Scientist Reveals

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Discovery of digestive poisons that could cause more than one form of deafness was made public today. The poisons arise from incomplete intestinal digestion. This new field of attack upon impaired hearing was reported to the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Ocolaryngology by Dr. Mark J. Gottlieb of New York.

He told also of a treatment in these cases which caused some "startling improvements" in hearing.

"The findings," he said, "are the result of eight years' investigation in the hard-of-hearing research clinic at Beth Israel Hospital, New York.

EXPERIMENT RELATED

"The specific complaints are belching, heartburn, fullness for a long time after eating and alternate attacks of diarrhoea and constipation," he said. "Accompanying these are headaches, blurring of the vision and lassitude. These complaints are usually found to have been present before advent of the hearing difficulty.

"The fact that the intestinal contents of certain deafened people are poisonous to guinea pigs on injections and produce among other things bleeding and inflammation in the hearing organs of these animals adds another link to the chain of evidence that deafness in a large number of patients is due to some poison arising in the intestines."

The source of this poison was found in partial failure of the pancreas. This organ supplies digestive ferments, trypsin for digesting proteins, amylopsin for sugars and steapsin for fats. If any of these were insufficient, part of the food was undigested and poisons formed.

EFFECTS OF TESTS

In a "very thorough examination" of forty-one deafened persons, Dr. Gottlieb said, thirty-one were found deficient in pancreatic ferments.

"In many instances," he went on, "the results showed that the patients had little or no digestion of one or more than three important classes of foods—proteins, sugars and fats.

"Twenty-three of the thirty-one were treated by administration of potent pancreatic extract and some very startling improvements resulted in twenty of these.

"Many items in the problem still need clarification," he said. "It will require co-ordinated efforts of the chemist, biologist, pathologist, ophthalmologist, internist and otologist to investigate the obscure problems which still lurk in the darkness of this important subject. For this much assistance will be required."

Ten of the forty-one deafened had normal intestinal digestion and in their cases Dr. Gottlieb said deafness was found associated with the following troubles: Pituitary disease, three; thyroid failure, one; gall-bladder and liver, four; pneumonia, one, and one undetermined.

Major Disaster Threatens in Malibu Mountains

Flames Rage Anew Over Wide Ventura County Area

Santa Susana fire yesterday. On the northwest fire front 100 men with fire-fighting equipment stood guard over the Montebello oil leases in Shiell Canyon, four miles southeast of Fillmore, while the flames circled the field one mile to the south.

Roaring down on the Montebello field the flames were reported three times to have leaped hurriedly constructed firebreaks on the Doheny lease, but were driven back before any damage was done.

Brush around the 112 derricks and about gas absorption plants and office buildings was cleared away. Danger to the oil field yesterday was from an easterly direction, but officials at the lease looked toward a fresh menace from the south as the fire crept near the Grimes Canyon Road and threatened to climb over the summit of Oak Ridge.

VAST AREA BURNED

Los Angeles county fire workers reported the flames had been headed off in their approach into Los Angeles county on the Newhall side. Unless brisk winds again scatter burning brands it was believed last night that the fire in this section will burn itself out without jumping to new territory.

An airplane view of the fire revealed a vast smoke-blackened scar, eighteen miles long and two to five miles across at the widest points, lying on the southern side of Oak Ridge, with its west end burning freely between Fillmore and Moorpark.

IN SAN DIEGO COUNTY

San Diego county also fought the fire menace yesterday. Aided by a driving wind, a large brush blaze that started yesterday morning in Reidy Canyon, near Escondido, swept into Moosa Canyon and shifted back toward Jesmond Dene, where several homes are said to have been destroyed. Early yesterday afternoon the blaze was raging toward Twin Oaks, a cabin district northwest of Escondido. The fire is said to have burned over about 1500 acres and was being fought by volunteers and conscripted fighters from Escondido.

The fire started when an outdoor oven blaze at the home of Robert Topi, vineyardist in Reidy Canyon, ignited the brush near by, when Topi was summoned to the telephone.

Topi's garage, containing his passenger auto and a truck, was destroyed, despite his efforts to smother the blaze. Sweeping toward Moosa Canyon under the impetus of a brisk east wind, the fire ran through the brush for about a mile and then veered back toward Jesmond Dene, where about twenty cabins are located.

HOMES FEARED LOST

Several houses were saved by backfiring, but several others are feared destroyed to the westward. A house owned by Alex Asmus was among those believed burned. Early this afternoon the fire was sweeping westward in the direction of Twin Oaks, where most of the crews battling the conflagration were gathered. Backfiring was being resorted to in an effort to keep the flames from the many homes in the vicinity, it was reported.

Flaring up again yesterday under the impetus of a brisk wind, the brush fire menacing Tia Juana from the southeast, which had been thought under control, was burning strongly early yesterday afternoon in the hills southeast of the border town, according to reports. No property is in immediate danger, according to reports from military attaches in charge of the fire-fighting forces. The continued warm weather had caused a doubling up of field forces, it was learned.

The fire started yesterday in the hills four miles west of Old Town. It destroyed a small house and was eating its way toward the Obregon school when the wind shifted away from the town and toward the ocean. After another flare-up the fire was thought to have been brought under control an hour and a half later, when the wind died down.

HEAVY TOLL IN ITALIAN QUAKE

beach were commandeered as emergency dressing stations. Soldiers brought in camp cots and helped carry the dead and injured from the streets.

POPULACE IN TERROR

In every city and town the people dreaded to return to the buildings from which they had fled at the first shock, lest a second convulsion bring the walls toppling upon them.

In Ancona one of the dead was a child, buried under the collapsing facade of a church. Another was Alfredo Moresi, a customs agent, the father of six children. At Cassero a 2-year-old boy was killed.

Work was suspended with the first wave of panic and crowds gathered in the public squares. They were there as planes swung low over the stricken districts and when two slight tremors followed the first quake.

It was as if some Gargantuan hand had seized the earth to shake it like a carpet. The ground heaved and billowed; walls of ancient buildings caved in upon themselves and the people ran to safety in the open.

WIDE AREA SHOCKED

The three shocks were felt in a wide area from Trieste to Naples and Rome, but the heaviest damage was in a twenty-five-mile semicircle. The Adriatic boiled, but there was no tidal wave.

Military relief parties, profiting from the experiences of last summer's disaster, lost no time in searching homes and buildings for refugees trapped by fallen walls. Occasionally they found them.

Women rushed frantically about the streets searching for their children; some knelt in the squares and prayed, others conquered their fear of crumbling walls and entered the churches.

Relief is heading into the mountains, where villages have been silent since the first shock, but it probably will be days before the real situation there is known.

GEORGETOWN REPORTS RECORDING OF TEMBLORS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Four earthquakes were recorded at Georgetown University seismological observatory last night and today and are thought to have been the records of the quake which did damage in the Ancona region in Italy.

The first temblor was recorded at 10:30 p.m., the second at 12:27 a.m., the third at 1:15 a.m., and the final at 2:32 a.m. The latter lasted about two hours, with maximum shocks at 2:44 a.m.

Sargon Brings Him Strength, Health, Energy

"Sargon gave me such splendid results that I think others, who may be suffering like I was, ought to know about this remarkable treatment", recently stated Henry Cohen, 990 Geary St., San Francisco, linotype operator on the San Francisco Bulletin.

"In my newspaper work I'm under a strain most of the time and eating meals in a hurry at irregular hours, put my stomach in bad fix. I'd have a terrible burning sensation right after eating and I'd feel bloated for hours. I suffered with splitting headaches and was so nervous, sound sleep was impossible.

"Three bottles of Sargon put me in fine condition. My stomach feels like new and I eat with my old time appetite, without any indigestion. My nerves are steady as a die, I sleep sound and get up mornings feeling full of life and energy.

"Sargon Pills stimulated my liver and overcame my constipation, without upsetting me in the least and I never have a headache now. Those who read about my experience will understand why I heartily recommend Sargon."

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

HOOVER'S SON IMPROVING

Herbert, Jr., Will Leave Tonight for Ashville, N. C., to Recuperate From Tubercular Ailment

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Improved physically after six weeks at President Hoover's lodge in the Virginia Mountains, Herbert Hoover, Jr., is to leave the White House tomorrow night for Asheville, N. C., to convalesce from his illness. He was brought from the lodge late yesterday by Capt. Joel T. Boone, White House physician, who will accompany him to Asheville on the train.

The physician said the President's 27-year-old son has shown splendid improvement and returned here heavier and with a deep coat of tan. Nothing has occurred, Dr. Boone said, to change his previous statement an early and complete recovery from the localized tubercular infection is probable.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Jr., and Mrs. Stark McMullen of Palo Alto, Cal., an intimate friend of the family, have preceded the patient and are preparing the house he has leased on Sunset Mountain overlooking Asheville.

The President's son was stricken in September and took an indefinite leave of absence from his duties with the Western Air Express.

With his son no longer there, President Hoover was said to plan no more trips to his mountain lodge until spring.

PACT ACTION SCHEDULED BY FRANCE

Measure for Ratification of Parts of London Treaty to Go Before Chamber

PARIS, Oct. 30. (AP)—A bill for ratification of parts of the London naval treaty to which France agreed at London will be deposited in the French Chamber of Deputies soon after it reconvenes next Tuesday.

Official announcement of France's intention thus to subscribe to the London covenant was accompanied by the statement that the action does not in any way affect the main issues remaining for settlement between France and Italy.

France and Italy have disagreed over limitation of the strength of cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

French ratification is expected to meet no serious opposition in Parliament. It concerns such matters as the humanization of submarine warfare, limitation of guns on aircraft carriers and limitation of the size of submarines which, under the London agreement, are not to exceed 2000 tons.

Foreign Minister Briand today was said to be preparing a speech asking the chamber to give unanimous approval to the bill. Unless strong opposition should develop Premier Tardieu will not take part in presenting the measure.

STIMSON SAYS HE EXPECTED MOVE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Secretary Stimson said today he had anticipated the ratification by France of the parts of the London naval treaty signed by French and Italian delegates and applying to methods of limitation.

No information reached the State Department, he said, as to possible ratification of the treaty sections by Italy.

FICTION QUEST SAVES LIFE

Antidote for Poison Dose Taken by Stanford Senior Developed Through Novelist's Inquiry

PALO ALTO, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Out of the numerous reports regarding the difficulties which beset Marron Kendrick, Stanford senior and son of Maj. Charles Kendrick of San Francisco, when a pharmacist made a mistake in a prescription for a cold, there came today the story of a life saved because of an author's desire to make a fiction story accurate.

Charles G. Norris, novelist, it developed, wished to have one of his characters die of a strange poison. He consulted Dr. Granville Wood of this city and the two got out the medical books and studied them. They finally determined on a poison that answered the requirements.

The workings of the poison were so interesting to Dr. Wood that he kept on studying until he discovered the poison's antidote.

Today it became known it was this same poison which young Kendrick swallowed last Tuesday for a cold remedy. His condition was so serious when physicians were called that they were about to give up hope. Dr. C. E. Shepard, assistant professor of hygiene at Stanford, thought of Dr. Wood. Dr. Wood immediately recognized the symptoms as those of the poison he had been studying with Norris and administered the correct antidote with the result it is credited with having saved Kendrick's life.

HURLEY SAYS DEMOCRATS DEPEND ON OBSTRUCTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Democratic party was charged tonight by Secretary Hurley with having no campaign issue for the elections next Tuesday "outside of its consistent and persistent attack upon the elected leader of the people."

The Secretary of War added, in an address over the Columbia Broadcasting System, that the "Democratic party is a party of obstruction, not a party of leadership."

Hurley also replied to the recent radio address by Chairman Raskob of the Democratic National Committee, asserting that the record of the Hoover administration is "a complete answer to the Democratic campaign of vilification," and that the Republicans had favored a five-day week for working men.

HOOVER RECORD

During the past sixteen years, Hurley said, in "every major emergency that has confronted the nation, Democratic and Republican President alike had called upon Herbert Hoover to relieve suffering and to bring about economic stability among the classes affected In every instance he has succeeded," the Secretary of War asserted.

Referring to the prediction of Raskob that prosperity will return to the United States in three months, Hurley said:

"I am not so confident as to the time of the return of prosperity because I am familiar with the conditions that confront the economic structure of the country, but I am confident that on the foundation laid by Herbert Hoover, prosperity and stability will return despite the efforts of the Democrats to exaggerate economic conditions and prolong the period of national instability for political purposes."

SIX-POINT PROGRAM

Hurley referred to the six-point program proposed by Raskob if the Democrats were in power and asserted, "We find that the Hoover administration has already done the important and legal and reasonable things that he suggests."

Discussing the five-day week, proposed by Raskob, Hurley said:

"Mr. William M. Butler of Massachusetts, the Republican nominee for Senator," he said, "has been running on that platform for months. The President's committee to promote employment has stated definitely that one of its fundamental policies is shorter working time and the employment of a greater number.

"Long before Mr. Raskob's statement appeared, industrialists and municipalities and State governments had been asked to consider the feasibility of shorter time and greater numbers of workers to assist in giving employment to all."

DEMOCRATS SUBMIT EXPENSE FUND SUPPLEMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Democratic National Committee submitted a supplemental campaign expenditures report today for the period between the 23rd and 29th inst., listing contributions of $10,085 and disbursements of $10,000 to the Massachusetts Democratic State Committee.

The report showed a contribution of $10,000 by Robert E. Greenwood of Fitchburg, Mass., and a balance on hand on the 29th inst., of $12,604.

DRY SAYS WETS KIDDING SELVES

McBride Asserts Election Will Prick Bubbles

Ballyhoo Declared Deluding Those Creating It

Liquor Backers Expected to Make Feeble Showing

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Dr. F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, today characterized the recent prohibition poll among Congressional candidates taken by the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment as a "roll call of the wets" and wet hopes for control of Congress based upon it as "bubbles which will burst next Tuesday," election day.

McBride declared dry candidates for the most part ignored the questionnaire sent out by the association and the wet forces will find themselves after the November 4 election with less than one-third the strength in Congress necessary to put through a prohibition repeal proposal.

IGNORED BY MANY

"There are at least 883 candidates for the Senate and House," McBride said. "The wet questionnaire was sent to 823. Of these only 265 are claimed to have replied for repeal, while ninety-nine answered dry and 452 did not reply. Naturally every candidate seeking support from the well-financed wet organization rushed his answer back, while most of the drys paid no attention to this roll call of the wets.

"This latest statement designed to magnify wet strength is characteristic of liquor tactics in this campaign. By inducing as many as possible of those who always have been wet to make a loud noise now they have sought to create the illusion of a strong wet trend.

DELUDE THEMSELVES

"The yarns about brewers getting ready to make real beer and the rumors about the Wickersham committee were all a part of this strategy. They have been wonderfully successful in deceiving themselves. Apparently intoxicated by the exuberance of their own predictions they have gone too far and disclosed their real objective. Unceremoniously abandoning their beer and wine program the wets are now boldly and brazenly for repeal, which means the return of the saloon.

"With repeal as the issue the liquorites will wake up on the morning after election with less than one-third of the two-thirds vote necessary for Congress to merely submit repeal to the States. After that ratification by thirty-six States would have to be secured to bring back booze. And all but fifteen of the States were dry before national prohibition came. There was also a great deal of dry territory in these fifteen States wherever the people were given a chance to vote, under local or county option.

STRAW VOTE SHOWING

"Only five States showed a majority for repeal in the Literary Digest poll which primed the liquor publicity pump and started the flood of wet stampede propaganda. If that is all they could get with straw ballots backed by an unprecedented ballyhoo, how many do they expect to get at a regular election—with real ballots?

"Undoubtedly the wets will get out their fullest possible strength on November 4. But if the voters who oppose repeal go to the polls it will be a revelation to all who estimated wet numbers by wet noise."

The antiprohibition association came right back today with another statement by its president, Henry H. Curran, claiming at least six additional votes in the next Senate for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, and between sixty and seventy more in the House.

"This will all be clear gain," Curran declared, "for we shall not lose nor have we lost a single seat for repeal in either house. The drys will gain no seats at all."

WALES MAKES PEACE APPEAL

ed under the crown of our common tradition of loyalty.

"They enjoy complete civil and political liberty. They maintain their separate nationalities. They pursue their own methods of development: They have passed beyond the state at which it is the duty of a nation to assert its independence. Differences are settled not by a resort to arms, nor even by formal arbitration, but by friendly meetings and conversations around the table.

CANADIAN EXAMPLE

"Canada, we are all proud to remember, has set us an especially great example. Her whole vast frontier facing the United States is devoid of armed force. Surely civilization has now reached a point at which we can believe that these facts have some meaning. If one-quarter of the human race can thus prove the practicability of a true league of united but independent nations, is it mere idealism to hope that the remaining three-fourths should be able to tread the same path?"

In conclusion, the Prince said the differences of nationality, language, etc., made the work of the League of Nations particularly difficult. Education, he said, is needed to build up "the spirit of peace." The League of Nations union, he added, is accomplishing much in this direction.

The other speakers were J. H. Thomas, Labor member of Parliament, and R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada.

GANG'S BULLETS SPRAY TROLLEY

Policeman Witness Wounded by Shots of Trio

Officer Had Seen Hoodlum Kill Companion

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Killers went gunning by daylight today, sprayed a Maywood street car with shotgun slugs and felled, but failed to silence their quarry, a policeman whose testimony is needed to send his comrade's murderer to the gallows.

A hail of bullets and slugs broke the jaw of Sergt. James McBride, imperiled and stampeded a dozen fellow-passengers as guns cracked and car windows crashed.

VICTIM TO LIVE

Barring a fatal infection, surgeons said McBride will live to tell a jury of the gun battle five years ago in which "Three-Fingered" Jack White shot to death another policeman and wounded McBride. Once sentenced to life imprisonment for the crime, White won a reversal in the State Supreme Court and was never brought to trial again. Only a fortnight ago picked up on a vagrancy warrant, he was sent to the County Jail without bond and Chief Justice McGoorty of the Criminal Court reinstated the old murder charge, the State announcing it meant to have the gallows snatch "Three-Fingered" Jack from the city's roster of gunmen.

TRIO IDENTIFIED

Harry Ditchburne, assistant State's Attorney, questioned passengers on the street car and announced he is certain of the identity of the trio of assassins.

McBride had returned only last night from a trip to Wisconsin with two fellow-investigators seeking evidence for White's murder trial. This morning he was on his way to keep an appointment with State's Attorney Swanson at the Criminal Court Building.

GUNS EMPTIED

A sedan swept up on the wrong side of the car. Abreast of McBride's seat it paused; two men leaned from the rear window and emptied sawed-off shotguns and the driver, guiding his wheel with one hand, fired a revolver at the policeman. McBride slumped in his seat. Passengers ducked the flying glass and ran for exits. The car, bearing a Wisconsin license, sped away.

On December 13, 1925, McBride and Policeman Edward Pflaume encountered White and an ex-convict companion, Jimmy Johnstone, in a tavern on the outskirts of the suburb. They shot it out, McBride killing Johnstone, while White, according to evidence at his trial, killed Pflaume. He was convicted, but the new trial ordered by the Supreme Court was never held.

NEW CHARGE IN MOONEY'S CASE FILED

Attorney Says Jury Head Admitted Collusion With Prosecutor and Aide

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Chief Justice Waste of the Supreme Court today announced filing of a statement by J. B. Zimdars, San Francisco attorney, charging collusion between William V. MacNevin, foreman of the Thomas J. Mooney Preparedness Day parade bombing jury, and Charles M. Fickert, then District Attorney, and E. A. Cunha, his assistant. The statement is included in other matter on file in the Billings pardon application matter. Zimdars said he offered his information to attorneys for Billings and Mooney at the recent hearing, but the offer was refused.

Zimdars's affidavit dealt with a purported conversation in 1917 with MacNevin. The affidavit said MacNevin told Zimdars he had been in constant touch with Cunha during the trial.

MacNevin has denied he ever talked with Zimdars.

Helium Gas May Be Used to Heat or Cool Homes

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Helium, the noninflammable gas used in dirigibles, may also be used in the future for heating and cooling purposes and to preserve food.

Experiments indicating possibility of these uses have been reported to the American Chemical Society by W. E. Snyder and R. R. Bottoms.

Because of its high conductivity of heat, helium may be used as a medium for circulation in heating and refrigeration systems. Helium used as a preservative of food keeps other gases, which encourage decay, from reaching the food, their experiments show.

Texas Family Shot to Death

HOUSTON (Tex.) Oct. 30. (AP)—E. A. Hart, 38 years of age, and his wife were found shot to death here early today in the bedroom of their home. Their 13-year-old daughter, Vivian, was mortally wounded, dying an hour later.

Police believe Hart shot his wife and child and then himself.

RED GIVEN CHALLENGE BY WALKER

New York Mayor Admits He Offered to Fight Man for Graft Charges

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Mayor Walker testified today at the trial of a Communist charged with unlawful assembly he had offered to thrash him when the Communist interrupted a board of estimate meeting two weeks ago and by inference called the Mayor a "grafting politician."

Hearing on the case of the Communist, Sam Nesin, was adjourned until tomorrow.

"I called him a whelp," the Mayor said, "and accused him of taking advantage of the government and institutions that granted him freedom of speech."

Chief Magistrate Corrigan previously dismissed similar charges against J. Louis Engdahl, Communist candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, and two women.

Mellon Scores Garner Hint of Tax Corruption

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Secretary Mellon today described as "simply preposterious" any suggestion that the Treasury could make tax refunds "for political or any other improper purpose."

This commnt was made in reply to a statement issued yesterday by Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, who advocated an investigation of income-tax refunds by the next Congress.

Mellon said it is significant that the Internal Revenue Bureau has collected far more in additional taxes than it has paid out in refunds.

"During the past fourteen years," he said, "the total amount of additional assessments resulting from office audits and field investigations has been $5,345,202,277, while the amount paid out in refunds during the same period has been $1,254,317,890.

GERMAN STRIKE ENDS AS 126,000 MEN VOTE

BERLIN, Oct. 30. (AP) — Metal workers balloted today overwhelmingly to return to work October 31, ending a strike of 126,000 men which had lasted more than three weeks. The strikers, of whom more than 35 per cent already had resumed their jobs, favored resumption of work on the basis of an agreement reached by union representatives and employers Tuesday.

JAPANESE PUSH SAVAGE DRIVE

Effort Begun to Envelope Taiyal Tribesmen

Planes and Machine Guns in Use Against Rebels

Fierce Head Hunters Gather in Jungle Towns

TOKIO, Oct. 31. (AP) (Friday)—Rengo News Agency dispatches from Taihoku today said Maj.-Gen. Kamata, commanding the Japanese expedition against revolting Taiyal tribesmen of Central Formosa, ordered a general drive against the aborigines in an attempt to envelop them north of Musha Village, center of the disturbances.

The drive, employing airplanes, artillery and machine guns, began at 9 a.m. today.

Lieut.-Gen. Watanabe, commanding Japanese forces in Formosa, issued a formal order for suppression of the rebellion. Hence it appears the task of subjugation, hitherto in the hands of police, nominally the servants of the civilian administration, has passed into the hands of the military.

Scouts reported large savage concentrations in villages north of Musha last night. Hundreds of warriors, fierce head-hunters who have murdered at least eighty-six Japanese since they revolted Monday, were seen in the light of great fires, kept ablaze in the midst of the jungles despite a heavy tropical rain.

Native reports were that several women of the revolting tribes committed suicide in accordance with savage custom so that their husbands might go into battle without family cares.

Japanese at Musha arrested several Formosans of Chinese extraction on suspicion of their being implicated in the uprising.

The Ministry of Overseas Affairs at Tokio ordered the Formosa administration thoroughly to investigate the cause of the revolt and to fix responsibility for police unpreparedness.

EDUCATION OF INDIANS TO BE AIDED

Federal Survey Looking to Improved System of Schooling Nears End

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A study looking to an "overhauling" of the Indian education system with a view to increasing the association of Indians with their white fellows through attendance at public schools was said today by the Department of Interior to have been nearly completed in Oklahoma.

The Indian-education situation throughout the entire country will be studied by the department in carrying out the policy of the present administration to facilitate efforts aiding the Indian toward normal citizenship.

In Oklahoma the survey of the five civilized tribes, constituting 100,000 of the Indian population, has been completed. Continuation of the study, now going forward, will concern 20,000 other Indians in that State.

HUGHES CHARTS SHOALS OF LAW

Reconciling Interests Held Greatest Difficulty

Chief Justice Addresses Rail Board Practitioners

He Declares That Tradition Governs Procedure

WASHINGTON Oct. 30. (AP)—Chief Justice Hughes said in an address here today the greatest difficulty in the American system of government is not in maintaining the proper balance between nation and State, but in "reconciling" the interests of the community and the "requirements of individual liberty and private initiative from which are derived the collective strength and progress."

Speaking before the newly organized Association of Interstate Commerce Commission Practitioners the Chief Justice said:

ADAPTIONS BELATED

"It has been characteristic of our civilization that adaptations of the legal structure are generally belated, and it was a long time before public opinion could be sufficiently convinced of the need of administrative agencies with board powers in order to enforce standards which legislatures found it impracticable to apply directly."

If an agency like the Interstate Commerce Commission had been established earlier "we would have been spared many of the most difficult of our present problems," he said, adding:

AGENCIES PROVIDED

"Now we have provided, in nation and States, a host of administrative agencies, and we realize that we have thus been brought to the severest test of the republic, that is, its ability to draw to the complexities of administration the comprehensive knowledge and technical skill, and, above all, the reasonableness, which will give us the desired fruits of regulation and avoid both the indifference of routine and arbitrariness of an unintelligent or despotic bureaucracy."

Despite an experience which should have been disillusioning, he continued, "we are still likely to be fascinated by paper plans, and to forget that our ultimate interest is not in this or that political program, but in finding that rare combination of intelligence and rectitude without which any program of administration may prove to be a curse."

MATTER OF TRADITION

Effective judicial procedure, he said, is "much more a matter of tradition than of specific rules."

"Perhaps there is no greater need, speaking of the bar generally," he added, "than professional self-restraint, and this is most readily appreciated when men of ability are brought into constant and intimate association."

The first annual meeting of the practitioners was attended by 350 members from all sections of the country. C. C. McChord, former interstate commerce commissioner, was elected president.

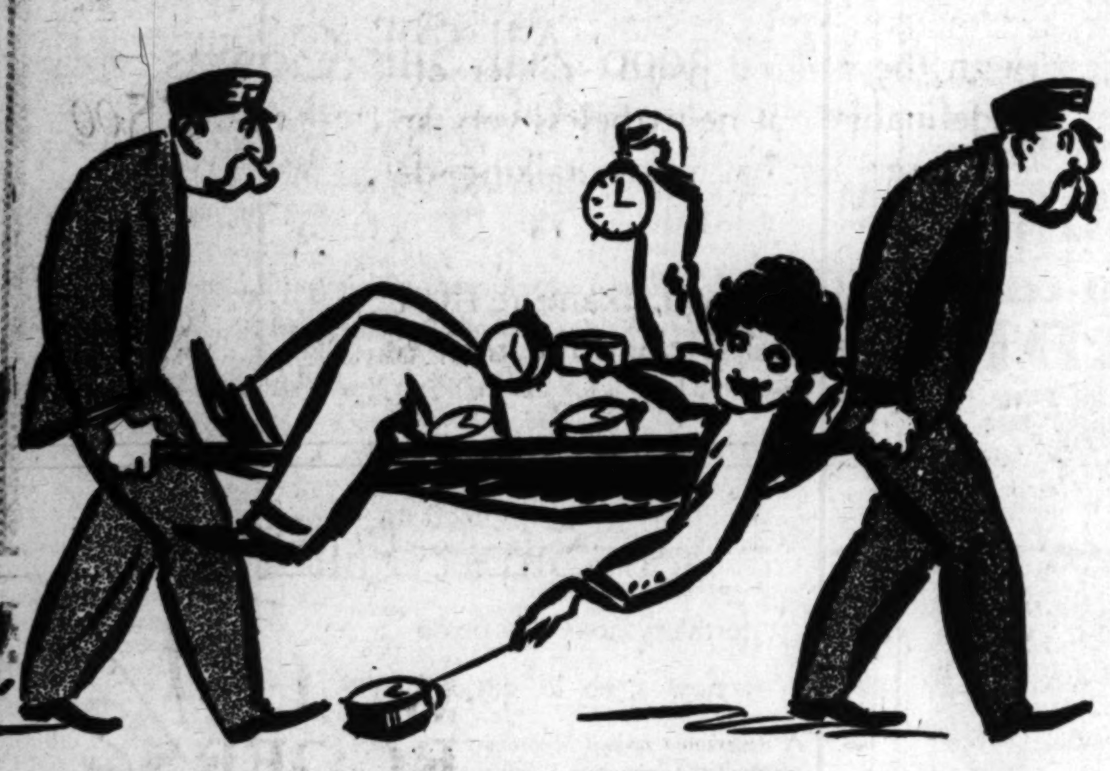
"POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT"



Whither Whither And What For?

The idea of foisting a trick legislation on California may be very appealing to a few Big Business Barons who would benefit by kidding the public. But why should the rest of us consider it seriously? Why in the name of common sense should a bunch of intelligent people who have all the blessings of a beneficent nature, set their clocks to and fro twice a year and think that there are more than the conventional 24 hours in any day? California is plenty good as it is. Our days are beautiful and long. We don't want Daylight Saving. It would wreak havoc with our whole social and economic system. Our basic industries say it would damage their incomes. Labor and Agriculture know it would upset their lives and destroy the system which allows them decent working conditions. Women at home can't change their children's schedules to conform with any law-made time. Our dear old Congress in Washington showed a glimmering of inspired head work in 1919 and gave Daylight Saving the quickest death that any national law had ever had. One year of it was enough! Since then, 97% of the country has avoided it like the plague. California, the fastest growing State, would be crazy to jeopardize its future by tampering with the most perfect natural conditions ever known. You don't want your pocketbook hurt, your family upset and Junior's tummy out of whack!

BALKAN BLOC MOVE DENIED

Premier's Angora Meeting Called Coincident

Report of Plot Laid Against Jugo-Slavia Discounted

Turco-Greek Accord Called Step Toward Union

ANGORA (Turkey) Oct. 30. (AP)—With the departure of Premier Bethlen of Hungary tonight official denial was made of rumors his visit had coincided with that of Premier Venizelos of Greece for the purpose of forming a bloc among Turkey, Greece, Hungary and Bulgaria against Jugo-Slavia.

"The simultaneous presence in Angora of M. Bethlen and M. Venizelos is pure chance," Foreign Minister Tewfik Ruchdi Bey announced to the press, but added, "it was an extremely fortunate chance."

The rumor said Premier Mussolini of Italy was instigating formation of the bloc.

M. Venizelos after signature of the amity pact between Greece and Turkey, said "the accord between Greece and Turkey is the first step toward a Balkan union."

UNITED STATES PRAISED BY KEMAL

ANGORA (Turkey) Oct. 30. (AP)—Mustapha Kemal Pasha in his first message to the American public in many years today affirmed to the Associated Press his high esteem of Turkey's sister nation far across the seas.

"My feeling toward America is one of affection and admiration," he said, as a small group of guests at a ball given in honor of the eighth anniversary of the founding of the Turkish republic, gathered around to listen.

He was questioned as to ways in which he would like to have the country of which he is President emulate America and replied, his eyes flashing: "Turkey is not trying to copy any nation, only monkeys copy."

HOOVER SENDS WISHES FOR NATION'S PROSPERITY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—An expression by President Hoover of continued American friendship for the Turkish republic, addressed to that country's President on the occasion of its national anniversary, was made public today by the State Department.

DUPES KIDNAPERS IN RANSOM DEAL

Earl Yocum

BANKER KIDNAP SUSPECT TALKS

Names Three Associates in Yocum Abduction

Plotters Obtain No Ransom; Two in Custody

Wife of Victim Aids in Tracking Gang

KEWANEE (Ill.) Oct. 30. (AP)—Vernon Ahlgren, Galva (Ill.) mechanic, confessed today he and three other Henry county men kidnaped Earl Yocum, Galva bank president, and held him three days for ransom.

He implicated Floyd Winslow, an ex-convict, and Orville and Harry Whiskers. The last named is in custody.

The kidnapers were thwarted in their efforts to obtain ransom.

Yocum was released yesterday near Atkinson, Ill. The gang, Ahlgren stated, went on to Leland, Ill., where they were confident a package containing $100,000 had been left for them.

The package contained a wooden block. Its location was marked by a white flag at the roadside.

THREATEN BOMBING

Finding themselves duped, the accused kidnapers called Mrs. Yocum on the phone and threatened to bomb the banker's home.

Andrew Anderson, cashier of Yocum's bank, then was sent to meet the gang at Princeton early today. He agreed to pay $50,000 to have the bomb plot called off. The money was not paid.

Following the meeting with Anderson, Ahlgren confessed, he and Orville Whiskers and Winslow were chased by policemen, causing them to wreck their machine and abandon it. One shot was fired by each, the police and the gang.

Ahlgren was seized shortly before noon by Chief of Police John D. Krumtinger and J. A. Newell of the Illinois Bankers' Association as he hid in a farm house near Kewanee. He made a verbal confession to Krumtinger, and later signed a statement.

PLOT FOR MONTHS

Harry Whiskers was arrested Tuesday, the day before Yocum's release, on a warrant based on information from Edward McKee, a farmer, who said Orville Whiskers offered him $100 a day to hold Yocum prisoner on his farm.

Yocum was detained in a hunting lodge at Lacon, Ill., on the Illinois River.

Ahlgren said he and the others had plotted the kidnaping for two months. The gang waited for him to return from a show last Saturday night. They asked him for directions and when he walked out on the road to show them the way, they clamped a rag soaked with chloroform over his face.

It was also revealed that during her husband's captivity, Mrs. Yocum worked with the bankers' association in tracking the gang.

RANSOM NEGOTIATIONS

The first ransom demand, Ahlgren revealed, was for $200,000. Next the kidnapers agreed to accept $150,000 and finally determined on the $100,000 which turned out to be a wooden block.

While Mrs. Yocum was declaring to newspaper men that she was not and would not co-operate with authorities, the police revealed, she was actually turning every ransom letter over to Newell. She denied doing this, police said, because she feared her husband might be harmed.

As a heavy snow fell over the countryside, a posse searched the hill country about Galva tonight for Winslow and Orville Whiskers.

FIVE ARRESTED AS TORONTO KIDNAP PLOTTERS

MONTREAL, Oct. 30. (AP)—Five men were arraigned in Police Court today accused of conspiracy to kidnap a prominent Montreal physician and turn him over to gangsters in the United States to be held for ransom.

Dr. Paul La Lanne informed police last night he had been followed for several days and believed he was to be kidnaped.

Police secreted themselves in the physician's house and in adjoining buildings and awaited developments. About midnight an automobile occupied by five men drove up in front of the house. Four were seized. The fifth man escaped, but was arrested today.

CHARLOTTESVILLE (Va.) Oct. 30. (AP)—A new apparatus for projecting pictures in relief, which the inventor, Dr. Herbert E. Ives of the Bell Telephone laboratories, believes applicable to motion pictures, was demonstrated before the Optical Society of America here tonight.

The pictures exhibited were small. Because of the crudeness of the experimental apparatus they were visible to relatively small groups of people at one time. Dr. Ives explained the methods are susceptible of refinement and are theoretically applicable to the production of moving pictures, but at very great cost.

Seven Taken in Red Round-up at Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Seven men, identified as Communists, were arrested here tonight and held on charges of robbery in a flurry of excitement resulting in the calling to duty of the entire police force, protection of headquarters with tear gas bombs and machine guns and a raid on Communist party headquarters.

Those arrested included Mike Daniels, district organizer for the Communist party. The men were identified by three employment agency proprietors as those who visited their establishments during the afternoon and, through threats to bomb the agencies, forced them to return money charged certain job applicants.

OPTIMISM EXPRESSED BY FARRELL

Steel Chieftain Confident as to Industry's Future and General Recovery

PINEHURST (N. C.) Oct. 30. (AP)—An optimistic view of the steel industry's future was expressed here tonight by James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, addressing the annual convention of the American Institute of Steel Construction, Inc.

Referring to all industry of the world as passing through a transition period that has affected prices, due largely, he said, to the fall in the values of basic commodities and underlying world causes, Mr. Farrell asserted:

"I am confident that in the end, stabilization and recovery will develop from intelligent management."

SENSATION IN QUIZ ON R-101 CRASH

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A tattered bit of paper caused a sensation in the public inquiry assembled to determine the cause of the R-101 disaster three weeks ago.

Whereas the popular opinion was that no evidence remained in the charred remnants of the great dirigible, which crashed and burned on a French hillside with a loss of forty-eight lives, Sir William Jowitt, Attorney-General, read a sheet from one of the logs of the airship.

"This shows that No. 4 engine at 2 o'clock in the morning (nine minutes before the crash) was revolving at cruising speed," Sir William said, "but the oil pressure, recorded at 3 when it should have read 30 or 33, indicated that the writer did not have time to finish the figure before the crash."

Arthur Disley, wireless operator of the R-101, who survived the disaster, has been awarded the "medal for meritorious service of the order of the British Empire, civil division," for his bravery in remaining on duty after the crash despite his injuries.

2,500,000 People Live Inside This Mountain Wall

How Nature Dominates Selling and Advertising in the Local Market *

Everywhere throughout the world, business men are confronted with keen competition and a shrinking margin of profit. To combat this, they are studying their markets as never before, seeking to free their sales promotion from waste and guesswork and to base it on definite facts.

Such knowledge is especially necessary in the local trading area, which has many singular characteristics. The reason for this is a mighty range of mountains—a factor that does not even exist in other markets but which locally exerts a powerful influence on business.

The following paragraphs analyze this situation. They will show how the mountains give rise to exceptional physical conditions; how these conditions in turn govern the distribution of population, manner of living, etc.; and finally how the human factors affect practical sales promotion.

Inviolable Conditions Produced by Mountains

First, the mountains constitute a gigantic natural wall. They start at the ocean's edge near the Ventura county line, swing around to meet the ocean again at approximately the northern line of San Diego county, forming a massive, continuous bulwark. Not a railroad or highway enters the Los Angeles market without either climbing this wall or else squeezing between the wall and the ocean; and not a mile of Los Angeles' trolley lines penetrates to the exterior. On the outside is the desert. On the inside is one of the most densely populated regions in the world.

Cajon Pass, by which the Santa Fe and Union Pacific climb Los Angeles' mountain wall. The Southern Pacific's various lines climb it at Chatsworth, at Newhall, and through the San Gorgonio Pass.

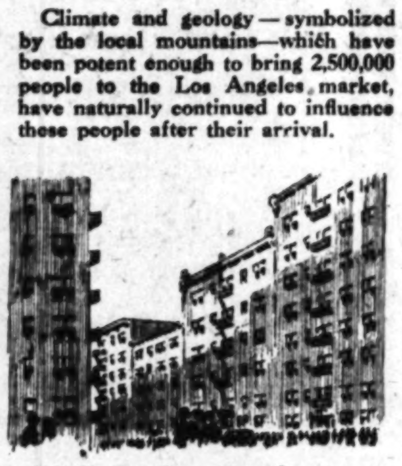
The Los Angeles market may therefore be regarded as a vast walled-in "oasis"—some 2,000 square miles of fertile land. It embraces all the cities and towns from San Fernando to Redlands, and from Altadena to San Pedro. It contains 2,500,000 people, or 30% of the entire Pacific Coast population from the Arctic Circle to the Mexican border. Its retail expenditures exceed a billion and a half dollars a year.

Having created this unique spot, the mountains have made it equally unusual in resources. Collecting and disseminating the temperate winds of the Pacific, they play a necessary part in giving it a distinctive climate. Forcing the clouds to spill their moisture, they make possible the highly-cultivated interior in contrast to the relatively undeveloped desert. They have been a chief agency in depositing within 50 miles of Los Angeles a vast supply of fuel and raw materials, including: oil, natural gas, gold, silver, gypsum, asbestos, lime, iron, graphite, talc, marble, lead, clay, copper, silica, magnesite and infusorial earth.

How Conditions React on Population

Julian S. Huxley, eminent scientist, recently declared in the Atlantic Monthly: "Of late years a determined attempt has been made to rewrite history in economic terms. But this does not go deep enough . . . Climate and geology between them decide where the raw materials of human industry are to be found, where manufactures can be established; and climate decides where the mainsprings of human energy shall be released."

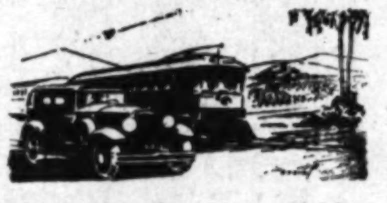
Climate and geology — symbolized by the local mountains—which have been potent enough to bring 2,500,000 people to the Los Angeles market, have naturally continued to influence these people after their arrival.



New York's tall apartment-houses are estimated to concentrate population into one-twentieth the area required in a Los Angeles residential district of equivalent social character.

To begin with, the climate has induced the great majority of local people to live in separate, single-family dwellings, each as a rule surrounded by all the yard room its occupants can afford. The practical significance is this: To accommodate a given number of families, an enormously greater ground space is needed than in cities which house their inhabitants in solid blocks of multi-story buildings. For example, the individual homes in the Los Angeles market — not counting duplexes, flats, apartment-houses, stores, schools, factories or farms—take up more than 5,000 miles of street frontage. In short, the prevailing type of home is a sufficient factor in itself to spread 2,500,000 people over an immense area.

But climate has acted in still another way to expand the population. Permitting comfortable, all-year transportation—no snow, ice or zero weather—it has caused people to locate far and wide, with little regard to distance. This diffusion has come about in recent years with great rapidity. The 1930 census shows that in the past 10 years the surrounding area even surpassed the world-beating city-growth of Los Angeles, gaining over 700,000 inhabitants as against 655,157 for the city proper. Outside population has now practically caught up with city population. The net result is a community having no counterpart in the United States — more than 100 cities and towns, many of which merge imperceptibly one into another; a countryside thickly populated with city-workers, retired families and orchardists; the whole covering a relatively enormous area yet consolidated by trolley lines and high-speed boulevards into a single, closely-knit business unit.



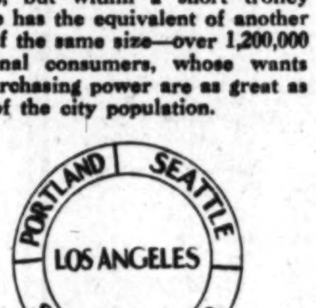
The Los Angeles market is unified by the largest trolley system and the highest per-capita automobile ownership in the world.

This growth, due to the varied natural conditions, has been accompanied by an amazing diversification in occupations, sports, culture, etc. Moreover, many of these interests are largely sectional—such as motion-picture production, orange-growing, sardine-canning, winter golf, all-year motoring, etc.

Local climate even affects women's dress, as seen, for instance, at winter golf and tennis meets.

Ideas, Like Machinery, Tend to Get Obsolete

It is evident, therefore, that a business man seeking to sell goods on a commensurate scale must revise his viewpoint from what it might have been a few years ago. Then, he might have figured that Los Angeles was his one big customer, and that surrounding population was comparatively incidental. Today, he has not only a giant city with 1,231,830 consumers, but within a short trolley ride he has the equivalent of another giant of the same size—over 1,200,000 additional consumers, whose wants and purchasing power are as great as those of the city population.



Los Angeles has approximately as much surrounding population as though San Francisco, Seattle and Portland were moved to its outskirts.

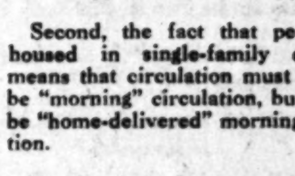
How Human Factors Govern Advertising

Effective advertising—in Los Angeles as elsewhere — is advertising that fits the circumstances.

First, we have the fact that half the consumers live outside Los Angeles. Sales efforts must therefore be market-wide in scope. As shown below, only a morning newspaper can meet this requirement.

Briefly, the spread of population prohibits a paper printed in the business hours from securing satisfactory market circulation. If it leaves the press before noon, it must omit the news; if it waits for the news, it arrives at outlying points too late to be sold. Thus the afternoon field is served by local newspapers, each primarily covering one suburb or neighboring city. Fifteen such afternoon dailies are published within a 12-mile circle of Los Angeles' City Hall.

On the other hand, a newspaper printed subsequent to midnight and transported before dawn over open highways, can furnish practically simultaneous service from one end of the market to the other. So thoroughly does Los Angeles morning circulation cover the market, that even when we take a 25-mile circle, we find but one locally printed morning newspaper.



Second, the fact that people are housed in single-family dwellings means that circulation must not only be "morning" circulation, but it must be "home-delivered" morning circulation.

To illustrate: In a compact eastern market, morning newspapers are sold on almost every street corner. A man can leave his flat or apartment, drop down to the street, buy a paper, and take it back to read at breakfast, all within a few minutes. But in the local market—both inside and outside Los Angeles—the distance between the average man's home and a newsboy makes this impractical. Here, virtually all street-sold morning papers are bought by people who have left home for the day and are on their way to work. Such newspapers never are seen by their wives and families. Yet advertisers agree that nine-tenths of all retail commodities, including strictly men's goods, are either bought directly by women, or a woman's influence has been the deciding factor.

Furniture, automobiles, and even men's hats are sold through the advertising seen and read by women.

Third, it goes without saying that where interests are sectional, a newspaper to be read thoroughly must deal with the things people see, do and own.

Fourth, where a market is far removed from other markets, advertising must obviously keep within the home territory.

How Experts Get Results at Less Cost

National advertisers, who must popularize their products uniformly throughout the whole Los Angeles market, have made exhaustive surveys to determine how best to apportion their advertising. As a result, they place annually over 600 campaigns in the Los Angeles Times—EXCLUSIVELY. They find that The Times so fully meets the market requirements that maximum sales are obtained by concentrating in this one newspaper.

The Times conforms to the spread of population by having the largest obtainable morning circulation, both inside and outside Los Angeles.

It conforms to the mode of housing by being delivered straight to the home, reaching families instead of individuals.

It conforms to the market's area by refusing to cultivate circulation in distant, unrelated States.

It conforms to the local needs by maintaining its own large staff of editors, writers, artists, photographers, research men, etc., who produce features to suit all the varied interests of the community.

National advertisers are backed up in their judgment by another group of hard-headed space-buyers—local department stores. From January 1 to September 30, 1930, local department stores bought 140,000 more agate lines of Times' space than during the same period a year ago, cutting down on three local papers and giving the other two a combined increase of less than 34,000 agate lines.

Times' service, both to readers and advertisers, represents a sincere effort to give maximum value. This is reflected in an average daily circulation gain over last year of more than 4000, as against a circulation loss on the part of the second morning newspaper; and by the fact that during the first nine months of the current year Times' advertising exceeded that of the nearest local paper by 2,266,152 agate lines.

RIO CHEERS FIRST BATCH OF GAUCHOS

Cowboy Troops Arrive at Capital and Vargas Will Reach There Today

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 30. (AP)—The first contingent of gaucho troops, the cowboy soldiers from the pampas of Rio Grande do Sul, who warred against the Federals for three weeks, arrived in the Federal capital tonight for a rousing acclamation.

Getulio Vargas, rebel generalissimo who has been designated the provisional President of Brazil, is still in Sao Paulo, but it is understood he plans to leave and arrive here early tomorrow.

Vargas reached Sao Paulo from the south in a special train last night. Dispatches from that city said he did not come to the capital immediately because he desired to await the assembling of sufficient railway rolling stock to move more of his troops up at the same time.

Another rebel chieftain loomed tonight as one of the strongest figures in the Brazilian situation. He is Capt. Juarez Tavora, youthful officer who pushed the revolution into nine northern states with a loyal following.

The northerner told newspaper men tonight an absolute dictatorship is needed in Brazil. He favors the abolition of Congress and the placing of the country under the supreme command of a strong man until necessary reforms have been consummated.

ARCADIA WOMAN CENTENARIAN

Mrs. Henrietta McClellan Has Birthday Tomorrow

Hundred Relatives to Meet for Festivities

Glad She Knows More Than on First Anniversary

ARCADIA, Oct. 30.—"The first 100 years are the most difficult to live," in the opinion of Mrs. Henrietta Pelinda McClellan, centenarian, who will celebrate her 100th birthday anniversary Saturday.

The gay celebration at which close to 100 relatives will participate, will take place Sunday at the home of the centenarian's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Curt McClellan, of 723 Valnett avenue.

The century celebrant was born in North Carolina on November 1, 1830, and when 3 years of age her family moved to Morgan county, Indiana, where she lived the greater part of her life, coming to Arcadia only four years ago.

She had six children, three of whom are living, and has twenty-eight grandchildren and great-grandchildren living in all parts of the country. Her husband, who was six years younger than she, died in Indiana five years ago, and at that time they had been wedded for seventy years.

Mrs. McClellan is unusually agile and with the assistance of her hickory cane, makes her way about the house and garden.

"You see I have never bobbed my hair," she exclaimed and at the same time displayed two long braids of thick silver-gray tresses.

Somewhat out of the ordinary for a woman of her age, Mrs. McClellan possesses that rare skin which has few wrinkles and is more clear than most schoolgirls.

When asked to what she attributed her longevity, she answered, "From eating all I could while I was young, as I had a ravenous appetite.

"I also got my regular sleep, unlike most people of today who are up the greater part of the night," she added.

"Well, there is one consolation in my advanced years," she proffered. "I am more active and know more than I did 100 years ago."

Short Course in Citriculture to Be Presented

ONTARIO, Oct. 30.—Invitations have been sent to citrus growers in all parts of Southern California to attend the annual short course in citriculture to be held at Chaffey Union High School for five days, starting December 1, C. J. Booth, dean of Chaffey Junior College, announced today. Addresses will be made by figures prominent in the citrus industry.

The following program will be carried out, Dean Booth announced:

December 1, 7:30 o'clock: "Checking on Scale Control," by H. J. Ryan, agricultural commissioner for Los Angeles county.

December 2, 7 o'clock: "Tank Mixture Method of Spray Application," by Dr. Ralph H. Smith of the government experimental station at Riverside.

December 2, 8 o'clock: "The Mediterranean Fruit Fly in Its Native Haunts," by Dr. H. J. Quayle of the government experiment station, Riverside.

December 3, 7 o'clock: "Investigations in Scaly Bark Control," by H. R. Stanford of Chaffey faculty.

December 3, 8 o'clock: "Recent Developments in Forecasting and Heating," by Floyd D. Young, government meteorologist for Pomona Valley.

December 4, 7 o'clock: "Studies in Soil Nitrates," by Harold Merchant of Chaffey faculty.

December 4, 8 o'clock: "Fertilizer Recommendations," by Dean C. J. Booth.

December 5, 7 o'clock: "Cost Studies in Citrus Production," by F. O. Wallschlaeger of the Citrus Protection League of Los Angeles.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR HOMER COPPAGE

INGLEWOOD, Oct. 30.—Elks Lodge No. 99 will conduct the funeral services for Homer Martin Coppage, prominent Inglewood and Hermosa Beach man, tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at the Hardin Funeral Home, 307 East Nutwood street, this city. Interment will follow in Elks Rest in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Coppage died at his home in Hermosa Beach last Tuesday. He was 62 years of age. He lived in Inglewood for seventeen years, where he was a salesman for the George Walker Cigar Company during a large part of that period. A year ago he moved to Hermosa Beach.

Coppage leaves a widow, Mrs. Leona L. Coppage, a daughter, Miss Lucille Coppage, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Coppage, a sister, Mrs. Ervin Walker, and three brothers, Albert J., Hugh and Edwin Coppage, all of this city.

DESCENDANT OF DANIEL BOONE DIES

Mrs. Fannie Peck Olson of Pasadena Succumbs After Short Illness

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Fannie Peck Olson, a direct descendant of Daniel Boone, died here today at the Castle Green Apartments following a short illness. She was 66 years of age and had been a local resident for the last thirty-six years.

Her mother, the former Mellissa Ellidge, was one of the famous pioneer's direct descendants. Mrs. Olson came here from Hamburg, Iowa, with her father, Ruben Simons, who founded the Simons Brick Company in Los Angeles.

She was a member of many local clubs, including the Shakespeare Club, and was known locally for her aid in financing construction of three Baptist churches.

Besides her husband, John Olson, retired New York contractor, Mrs. Olson leaves three sons and one daughter. The sons are Walter Peck of Modesto, E. Lawrence Peck of Oklahoma, and Carey Peck of Flagstaff, Ariz. The daughter, Mrs. Miles Bell, resides in this city.

Funeral will be announced by the C. F. Lamb mortuary.

Fred B. Palmer Heads Mutual Building-Loan

POMONA, Oct. 30.—Fred B. Palmer was today elected to the presidency of the Mutual Building and Loan Association, following the retirement of L. L. Lostutter, who has held office for nineteen years, both as an officer and director. Lostutter, in retiring as president, retains his position as president of the board, relinquishing the other duties due to advancing age and ill health.

Palmer has been prominent in valley affairs for many years, having moved to this section at an early age. He was connected with the Pasadena Ice Company at its local plant for five years and, until January, when he became connected with the association as assistant secretary, he was engaged in citrus growing.

A. C. Abbott, pioneer local banker, who joined the Mutual directorate in 1925, also handed in his resignation from active participation, vacating the position of vice-president to take a well-earned rest. He has planned a world cruise and desires to be relieved of all responsibilities while vacationing.

As a result of these changes the new directorate includes L. L. Lostutter, chairman of the board; Fred B. Palmer, president; J. P. Lobingier, vice-president; W. A. McCormick, vice-president and manager of the Los Angeles office; Bert T. Harvey, treasurer; J. A. Allard, Jr., attorney; W. D. Frederick, secretary; E. Alva Lawrence, assistant secretary; Mollie Burke, assistant secretary; Gordon Moore, cashier; Clifford N. Sheets, manager of real estate department; Clifford Talbott, manager of San Diego office; W. M. Avis, William W. McMullin, Brice J. Kin, L. D. Wallenstein and T. J. Brownrigg, directors.

CANALS DRAGGED FOR BODY

Imperial Valley Ditches Searched for Mrs. Robert E. Campbell, Missing From El Centro Home

EL CENTRO, Oct. 30.—Irrigation canals in Imperial Valley are being dragged today by officers who are searching for Mrs. Catherine Kelsey Campbell, wife of United States Immigration Patrolman Robert E. Campbell, who disappeared from her home here at 11 a.m. yesterday under mysterious circumstances.

According to deputy sheriffs who are working on the case, Mrs. Campbell left her home without hat and coat with the explanation that she was going to the grocery store. Her husband stated that she had been depressed and nervous during the past week and it is feared that she may have taken her life in a fit of despondency.

She is the mother of three small children and frequently has declined to go to the theater because she did not want to trust her children with anyone else.

The Campbells came here early this fall from Berkeley. She is described as being 30 years of age, 5ft. 6in. tall, brown eyes, dark hair, and apparently in good health.

MISSING SELMA GIRLS FOUND

Vivian Netherland and Hazel Woods Held at Brawley

Give Fictitious Names but Finally Admit Identity

Story of Abduction and of Trip Over Line Told

BRAWLEY, Oct. 30.—Hazel Woods and Vivian Netherland, 16-year-old high-school girls, who disappeared from Selma last Friday morning and who have been the object of a State-wide search, were found in a rooming-house here this afternoon by Chief of Police A. L. Cromer. The girls were taken to the local jail to await the arrival of their fathers, who were notified by telephone.

The owner of the rooming-house notified Chief Cromer at noon today that two minor girls staying at his place had no funds with which to pay for their lodging. When Cromer went to the place to question them, he said, they gave fictitious names, but later admitted their identity when he found a newspaper clipping referring to the Selma case in one of their purses. The girls told a disconnected story of their adventures since leaving home. They stated that they left school Friday morning a week ago merely to play hookey for a day. They left their books at the railroad station, they explained, and later a man, whom they called "Paul Strong," met them and ordered them into his car at the point of a gun.

They had little recollection of the events for the next two days, they explained, until they woke up in a Negro rooming-house in Los Angeles. Then they started hitch-hiking across the country.

When they reached Banning, a motorist picked them up and brought them to Brawley yesterday and took them across the line to Mexicali last night. They returned later in the evening and the man gave them $3 and left.

The girls denied that they had been mistreated by anyone since leaving home, but were vague in many parts of their story.

Chief Cromer declared following his interview with the girls that their story sounded improbable. He will hold them here until their fathers arrive, he said.

FATHERS OF SELMA GIRLS WILL BRING THEM HOME

SELMA, Oct. 30.—Hazel Woods and Vivian Netherland, 16-year-old Selma high-school girls, who disappeared Tuesday after starting for their classes on a school bus, and who were found today at Brawley, are the daughters of C. P. Woods and J. J. Netherland, who reside near here.

The girls are sophomores at the Selma Union High School and during their school association have been virtually inseparable companions.

When they left their homes they were not known by they parents to have had any money other than a few cents each, which they carried for emergencies, and neither took clothing sufficient for a long absence.

Mrs. Woods, who was recuperating from an operation, and who had been receiving close personal attention from her daughter, suffered a relapse when the news of the latter's disappearance was broken to her, and the continued absence of the girl caused her great grief and suffering.

Probation Officer O. M. Akers of Fresno county, a personal friend of the Woods family, took personal charge of the search for the girls, and he probably will go to Brawley with their fathers to return the girls to their homes.

Burned Plant's Employees to Build New One

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 30. Construction work is to be started immediately on a new building to take the place of the insulating plant which was destroyed by fire last Friday, entailing damage to the extent of several thousands of dollars. Contracts for a portion of the work have been awarded and it is expected the new unit will be completed within the next fifty or sixty days.

This new unit with equipment is to cost approximately $40,000, it is announced by J. W. Odell, secretary of the company.

As a result of the fire, no men have been thrown out of employment, as employees have been put to work clearing away the debris and they will also be employed in the construction of the new unit.

International Gate Open Late Armistice Day

CALEXICO, Oct. 30.—Permission was received here today from the United States Treasury Department for the opening of the international gate into Mexico on the eve of Armistice Day, November 11, until 1 a.m. The regular closing hour is 9 p.m.

The request for longer night hours was made by the Interpost Council of the American Legion in Imperial Valley, which is planning to start its Armistice Day festivities with a ball in Mexicali on the previous evening.

All Imperial Valley Legion posts are planning to unite in a joint program which is to include automobile races and barbecue at the county fairgrounds. The races are to be held under sanction from the American Automobile Association.

CLUB PLANS HALLOWEEN FETE

Whittier Children to Be Given Party

WHITTIER, Oct. 30.—Elaborate plans are being made for the sixth annual Whittier community Halloween party to be given under the auspices of the Progress Club, Friday evening. As a part of the civic service which the Progress Club renders to the community each year a supervised Halloween party is given, and the Southern California avocado show, the only one in the world, is put on by the Progressions in the spring.

Whittier College has offered the use of Hadley athletic field, which, since the installation of floodlights for night football, makes an ideal place for the party.

The celebration will begin with a parade, in which there will be approximately 1000 masked entrants, three bands, namely, the State School Band, the Ex-Service Men's Band and the American Legion Band.

A mammoth platform has been erected in the center of Hadley athletic field and the Whittier Community Y.M.C.A. and the city schools are co-operating in putting on a series of events for the entertainment of the evening.

Fred French is president of the Progress Club, C. E. Long is general chairman of the community Halloween party, and the following representative business men are chairmen of the various committees having the affair in charge: M. C. Lautrup, Clifford Cole, George Stanley, Fred Williams and Harry O. Pence.

Many of the organizations of the community will be in charge of booths on the campus, where refreshments, Halloween emblems and noise producers are to be sold.

The parade has been divided into fifteen sections and prizes will be given for the best masked entrants in each division. The merchants of the city have generously donated a truck load of prizes for the masqueraders and for those who win in the athletic events at the college.

JUNIOR COLLEGIANS MEET

Riverside Institution Host to 500 Delegates, Women of Two Southland Organizations, Tonight

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 30.—Riverside Junior College is completing elaborate plans for entertaining some 500 delegates who will attend the second annual conference of the Associated Women Students and the Women's Athletic Association of the Southern California Junior Colleges which will open tomorrow evening at the Mission Inn with a formal banquet. Miss Virginia Hancock and Miss Christine Carney, chief executives of the two organizations, and Riverside Junior College students, will preside at the meetings, which will be held during the two-day convention.

Delegates from every junior college of size in this section of the State will begin pouring into the city tomorrow morning and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon registration at the Mission Inn will be opened. At 6 p.m. a gigantic banquet will take place in the main dining-room of the Mission Inn. The theme, "Wheels of Success," will be carried out at the affair with the officials' table being the central figure.

Official delegates from the following junior colleges will respond with toasts as follows: Pasadena, sincerity; San Bernardino, thoughtfulness; Long Beach, industry; Los Angeles, loyalty; Chaffey, kindness; Santa Monica, service; Pomona, confidence; Fullerton, determination; Riverside, friendship.

Miss Virginia Hancock, president of the A.W.S., and official conference hostess, will preside as toastmaster.

From 9 to 12 p.m. a formal dance will take place in the music room of the Mission Inn. The women in charge have arranged for a large number of men from neighboring junior colleges to be present for the affair. Women have planned the evening's entertainment and those attending are promised a most delightful time.

Friday's dance will be the only gathering of both men and women.

SWAGLER WINS CONTEST

BURBANK, Oct. 30.—Ralph Swagler will represent the Burbank Kiwanis Club in the five-minute talk contest that is to be conducted at Oakland next month. Swagler was the winning contestant when he made his address before District No. 3 of the Kiwanis organization at the meeting at the Oakmont Country Club here. The text of his talk at Oakland will be "Kiwanis in Participating Citizenship."

HORSESHOE TOSSERS IN TOURNEY

Elimination Contests for State Championship on; Title Game Tomorrow

COVINA, Oct. 30.—Elimination games for the State championship horseshoe tournament, which will be held here Saturday, began today at the City Park, where more than 100 players gathered for the contests which will decide the players for the State title game.

More than 300 delegates from various horseshoe clubs throughout the Southland will display their skill in pitching the proverbial horseshoe and on Saturday will vie for honors in securing the State championship title.

Some of the veteran horseshoe pitchers of Southern California have had experience with the age-old sport, for better than fifty years.

The Covina Horseshoe Club is host to the visiting delegation. S. N. Benton is secretary of the club.

PRIESTS TRANSFERRED

INGLEWOOD, Oct. 30.—Announcement was made today of the appointment of Rev. Thomas Murphy to fill the vacancy caused by the recent transfer of Rev. James P. Buckley of the local Catholic parish to the Church of the Transfiguration in Los Angeles.

THREE CITIES MAY MERGE

Oceanside, Carlsbad and Vista in Move to Join Hands Under Name of San Luis Rey

OCEANSIDE, Oct.. 30.—Interest in combining Oceanside, Carlsbad and Vista into one metropolitan district under the name of San Luis Rey, is growing every day. The movement started at a Carlsbad Chamber of Commerce meeting when L. C. Alles, prominent Carlsbad citizen, stated several large property owners had advocated such a consolidation.

The arguments used by the advocates of the proposition are many. The first is that the rapid growth of these three communities means that they will soon be more or less overlapping, especially Carlsbad and Oceanside. With the opening of a new boulevard between Oceanside and Vista, now under construction, Vista will soon expand to join the two coast communities.

Another argument is the importance and prominence of the San Luis Rey Mission, its historical fame and distinction in the records of California, thus affording a well-known and outstanding means of identification of the district.

By uniting the area under a single municipality it is argued that a higher type of development could be established and maintained and the ability to advertise the district would be materially increased.

By co-ordinating the vast resources of this district, including its agricultural, horticultural, health, recreational and residential features it is declared that the new city of San Luis Rey could within a few years become a highly developed area of 50,000 population, with corresponding increased property values.

According to the recent census, the population of Oceanside is 3509, Carlsbad district, 1660, and Vista town, 544.

TWO FLYERS IN OCEAN RESCUED

Engine Trouble Brings Army and Navy Ships Down

Lieut. Briggs's Plane Sinks; Fishermen Save Him

Pilot Driscoll's Flotation Gear Lands Him Safely

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 30.—As the result of engine failure, two planes, one army and the other navy, made forced landings at sea off this port today. Both pilots were saved but the army ship, not being equipped with pontoons, sank in deep water and will probably not be recovered.

Lieut. James E. Briggs, Rockwell Field flyer, was rescued from the ocean three miles south of Spanish Bight this morning by a local fishing boat after he had been thrown into the water as he landed his plane. The craft sank and was lost. Lieut. Briggs was towing an aerial target over the ocean for target practice by a fellow-pilot, Lieut. J. J. (Jerry) Mulvey, former San Diego State College football player. After Lieut. Mulvey finished his firing, he returned to the field and waited in vain for the other's return. Finally, three planes piloted by Lieuts. J. H. Bundy, S. R. Brantnall and E. F. Kiessig, were sent to look for the missing ship. Circling out over the water, Lieut. Bundy spied some wreckage. He swooped down and discovered Briggs aboard the fishing boat, which luckily had been in the vicinity when the plane sank.

The army crash boat was dispatched to the scene and Lieut. Briggs was removed to Rockwell Field. He suffered no ill effects from his ducking.

The pilot said his motor "quit cold," and he was forced to guide the plane to a landing on the ocean. He was thrown clear fifty feet from the ship, which sank immediately, he said.

Capt. Jack Buono, Joe Sardina and John Lococo comprised the crew of the fishing boat which rescued the flyer.

S. W. Driscoll, navy aviation pilot, was forced down at sea at about the same time that Lieut. Briggs hit the water. He turned on his flotation gear when he realized that he would have to make a forced landing, and brought his ship to the surface of the water without mishap.

He was picked up a few minutes later by the destroyer Trevor, which had been towing speed targets. It brought in both the pilot and his ship.

SAD NEWS AWAITING FOR BRIDE

Ventura Woman Sought on Honeymoon to Tell Her of Mother's Death

VENTURA, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Florence Conley, now honeymooning in Illinois, is being sought in order to inform her of the sad news of her mother's death here last night from gasoline blast burns. The young woman was married the day before the fatal mishap that took the life of her mother, Mrs. E. C. (Jerry) Blowers, who succumbed at Big Sisters' Hospital here from third-degree burns sustained eight hours before when gasoline used as cleaning fluid exploded at her home. Mrs. Blowers had been cleaning clothes with gasoline when the fluid was touched off by flames from a near-by stove.

PLANTINGS OF CITRUS ADVISED

Immediate Development of 50,000 Acres in San Diego County Recommended

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 30.—Immediate development of 50,000 acres of choice citrus and other agricultural lands in San Diego county was recommended by County Agricultural Commissioner Robert R. McLean today as he prepared to submit his annual report to the Board of Supervisors and the State Department of Agriculture.

Water developments and steady, increasing market demands, were assigned by the commissioner as prime reasons for expected phenomenal increase in local products.

Baby Girl Dies in Gun Mishap

CALIPATRIA, Oct. 30. (AP)—Joyce Harp, 2 years of age, was killed at her home near here tonight while she and her playmate, Robert Whitlock, 4, son of a neighbor, were playing with a rifle they found in her father's automobile.

Investigators were unable to obtain the boy's description of the accident, because he fell asleep and when aroused said he was "too sleepy" to talk.

VALLEY WALNUT HARVEST AT PEAK

NORTH LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30. The San Fernando Valley walnut harvest is now at its peak and the association's warehouse here is likely to put on a night work shift before the end of the week, according to D. C. Brown, manager. This is the heart of the walnut-growing area in the valley. This year the crop is said to be extra large and of fine quilty. Fifteen hundred tons will be the total of the harvest this season.

AGED COUPLE HAVE TWO ANNIVERSARIES

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Newland

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 29.—A celebration of significance occurred Tuesday, when Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Newland, prominent pioneers, commemorate the anniversary of their fifty-fifth wedding day and the eightieth birthday of Mr Newland. A number of their children and families and friends dropped in during the day and a dinner was enjoyed in the evening.

The couple was united in marriage in Jacksonville, Ill., in 1875; in 1882 made a speedy nine-day trip in an immigrant train from Kansas City to California. They resided in Compton for ten years, then Mr. Newland engaged in the sheep business on the famous Irvine ranch for eleven years and then settled on their present homesite at Hampshire and Quinty streets here.

Selection of their home was made before Long Beach was in existence. "We could see Santa Monica in the distance at that time. In Los Angeles there was nothing but the plaza and mules were hauling the street cars," Mrs. Newland said "An old friend of ours, U. S. Hook, from Jacksonville, installed the first cable car in Los Angeles," she added.

PIONEER IN DRAINAGE

Mr. Newland cleared his land of willows and stumps and installed the first drainage system known in this section of the country to carry the water from the swamps He moved the first seven houses to the site where Huntington Beach now stands. It required thirty-two mules to haul a house over the sand dunes from Newport Beach to this site, he said.

Mrs. Newland, now 71 years of age, recalled the first electric light that she ever saw. That was in St. Louis fifty-two years ago. There was one electric light in San Francisco in 1882. It was at the foot of Market street, she said.

Great harvests of lima beans and chili peppers are raised annually on their 490-acre ranch. One of the largest chili pepper dryers in Orange county is located on their property.

In search for "black gold" ten leading oil companies have drilled as many holes on the Newland property without putting any well on production. Nevertheless, the couple received $52,000 in rentals and bonuses from the projects.

LIVE ACTIVE LIVES

Both Mr. and Mrs. Newland live very active lives. Only a few months ago they took their first air flight, to visit a daughter living in Arizona. Mrs. Newland organized the first Parent-Teacher Association here in 1908 and served as president for a number of years. She was a member of the Grammar School Board of Education and was president at the time the Central Building was constructed. Her name may be seen on the corner-stone of the building. She was a charter member of the Woman's Club, which is still flourishing.

Mr. Newland served as a director of the high school board for sixteen years and was president of the First National Bank for several years. At the present time he is president of the Oil Protective League, which got out the vote and defeated in the recent municipal election proposed ordinances governing the oil industry here.

CHILDREN ALL LIVING

Of the ten children born to the couple all are living, seven of whom were born in the Golden State. Mrs. Tarbox, second youngest, was the first baby born here when the town was known as Pacific City. Mr. and Mrs. Newland are proud of their sixteen grandchildren and six great grandchildren. It is the plan to have all of them gather at the spacious ranch home for a Christmas celebration.

PASADENA POST LEADS NATION

Official Notification of Ranking Expected Soon

Adjt. R. M. McCurdy Now Back From Boston

Harvard Newspaper Story on Convention Resented

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Post No. 13, American Legion, of this city, soon will receive official notification that it has been judged the highest-ranking Legion organization in the United States, Robert M. McCurdy, local post Adjutant, revealed today upon his return from the national Legion convention in Boston.

Adjt. McCurdy declared that the declaration of editors of the Harvard University student newspaper characterizing the gathering as a drunken orgy was without foundation.

"As a matter of fact," he declared, "I saw less than a dozen intoxicated men, despite the fact that there were 150,000 Legionnaires in Boston at one time."

Legionnaires who took exception to the Harvard accusation rooted in a body for the Army during the Harvard-Army game. Their undivided support is reported to have had no small part in helping the Army win the game.

From the human interest standpoint, the highlight of the return trip occurred at McCurdy's home town, Wanatah, Ind., population 500, where 150 California delegates on the Legion's special train staged a fifteen-minute patriotic demonstration in honor of McCurdy's aged mother.

Mrs. McCurdy had received word that the sixteen-car train would stop long enough for her to greet her son. When the other [illegible] inhabitants heard about it they arranged to close the schools for half an hour, decorated the streets and were on hand at the station with the village band when the train pulled in.

"It was certainly the great moment of mother's life, and I deeply appreciate the way the Legionnaires carried off the surprise party by staging a parade which culminated at mother's home," McCurdy said feelingly.

The California department of the Legion won the cup for the best group of posts in any State. In view of the fact that the Pasadena post already had won the trophy for the best post in California at the Sacramento convention, Post No. 13 expects to receive a certificate designating it as the highest-ranking Legion organization in the United States within a few weeks.

Coachella Date Culture Leads in Old Industry

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 30.—Date culture has made more progress in the Coachella Valley during the last twenty years than in 5000 years preceding, E. F. Shields, prominent date grower of the date-producing section of Riverside county, in speaking to the Twenty-Thirty Club last night, said.

"Countries of the Old World actually are sending representatives into the Coachella Valley to learn how to grow dates—a crop that has flourished along the Nile for scores of centuries," declared Shields.

"The world's best dates are grown in the Coachella Valley. The fruit imported from the old country is far inferior to ours."

Shields said the species of palms under culture in the valley grow to a height of a ten-story building and predicted that the picking problem of the future will be solved by a jointed steel ladder and platform individual for each tree. A tree is in its prime at 100 years, and 100 pounds of fruit a year is a satisfying yield.

Water Works Engineers of State Convene

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—With more than 500 delegates present, the annual convention of the California section of the American Waterworks Association opened this afternoon in the Hotel Huntington.

William Hurlbut of Los Angeles was nominated to succeed President Charles S. Olmstead of Del Monte. Stockton was selected as the 1931 convention city.

The delegates were welcomed by Prof. Robert L. Daugherty, chairman of the Board of City Directors.

Among those who took part in the first business session were: E. K. Burton, Salt Lake City Mayor; R. C. Brackenridge, City Engineer of Vancouver, B. C., and George Penkell, general manager of the Detroit water department, who is national president of the American Waterworks Association.

H. A. Van Norman, chief engineer of the Los Angeles water department, spoke on "Some Problems of the Los Angeles Water Supply."

VAN NUYS GIVEN NEW BRUSH FIRE WAGON

VAN NUYS, Oct. 30.—A fire engine specially equipped for fighting brush fires in mountain districts has been added to the Van Nuys engine company. The new engine cost about $500 and has a capacity for carrying fourteen men, but can take on twenty-five in case of emergency. The apparatus is equipped with shovels, picks and other utensils for fighting brush fires, and an inhalator. The wagon was moved from the headquarters engine house here when it was declared by officials that such equipment was badly needed in this part of San Fernando Valley, where nine out of every ten calls are because of grass or brush fires.

WONDER WEATHER IS ALWAYS FAIR WEATHER

NEW FREEDOM HAS COME TO HOUSEWIVES

Wonder Bakers bring long sought emancipation, says food expert

By Alice Adams Proctor

I'm always amused when I hear men longing for "the good old days." You don't very often hear women longing for them. Why should they? Those were the days when women scrubbed and swept and dusted and sewed and spent the rest of their waking hours practically chained to the kitchen stove.

Kitchen time but no play time

What chance did a woman have then to stay young with her children? My mother always seemed to have plenty of kitchen time but very little play time.

Time after time she would promise to plan a party day with us, to show us some of the games she played when she was a girl. But by the time she'd finished baking rolls and bread and icing cakes and baking panful after panful of cookies, she was too tired and fretful even to watch us.

So we would have our party by ourselves, and just when we were beginning to have a good time, our conscience would trouble us and we'd dash inside to see if we could help mother any. Usually we'd forget and slam the door! If you have ever baked biscuits and bread you know what damage door-banging does. At least mother quickly told us!

Women deserve this new freedom

It's all different now. My little family never needs to coax me to play. When we want hot rolls, we make a quick dash to the grocery store for Wonder Fiff-teens (they taste just like the rolls mother used to bake!). Usually I do nothing more than heat them in the oven just before dinner is ready. They are always fresh, whether I buy them on Monday morning, Wednesday afternoon, any time of the week. And one thing that mother could never claim for even her very fine light rolls—Wonder Fiff-teens are always the same fine quality, week in and week out.

I honestly don't believe that women should feel the tiniest bit selfish for not wanting to bake any more, particularly when they can now give their families better light rolls than the home-made kind. I do believe that women should have time to be happy and do the things they've always wanted to do. And anything that offers new freedom from household cares should receive the warmest of welcomes.

REFUELS IN AIR!!

Harry Soltis, 127 Bath Ave., Long Branch, N. J., in popular tree-sitting contest, says Wonder Fiff-teens helped him to success.

HERE'S HARRY'S TESTIMONIAL

A couple of weeks ago when us boys out here were in a tree-sitting contest, I had father be sure to send Wonder Fiff-teens up to me, and as long as these "wonder" rolls came along regularly I wasn't up against it for going hungry.

BRIDE BEATS MOTHER

But it's only at Baking . . . !

"Mother didn't mind much," said this young bride. "For she learned a very valuable lesson. It's too bad that there were no Wonder Fiff-teens when she was young. They save hours and hours of work."

And mother admitted it, herself.

"I used to be quite proud of the light rolls I learned to bake when I was very young," she said. "It was one thing I teased my newly married daughter about—for I knew that she would never have the time and patience to bake rolls like those.

"Picture my surprise one evening, when she served the very same rolls at her home!

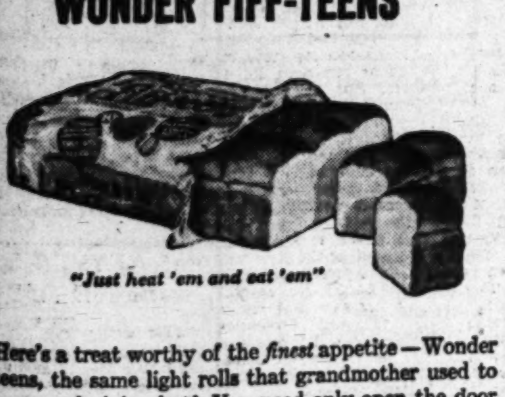
"My daughter mentioned a new recipe, and laughed when I asked her what it was—'Just heat 'em and eat 'em,' she said.

"I haven't baked rolls myself in quite a while," the mother continued. "Why should I when Wonder Fiff-teens are just as good, and infinitely easier to serve?

"In fact, I have to admit that Wonder Fiff-teens are even better than the rolls I used to bake. Their size is more uniform—and more dainty. I used to get in a rush and pinch off a little too much dough for one and a little too little for another. The Happy Wonder Bakers are never too hurried to bake the best rolls they know how!"

A Treat for the Whole Family

WONDER FIFF-TEENS



"Just heat 'em and eat 'em"

Here's a treat worthy of the finest appetite—Wonder Fiff-teens, the same light rolls that grandmother used to bake—served piping hot! You need only open the door and light the oven, to serve Wonder Fiff-teens at their best. Pop them in—take them out—serve them. That's all.

THOUSANDS REDISCOVER FAMOUS OLD-TIME TREAT

Idea Said to Date Back to Martha Washington's Day

By Special Wire to Wonder News.—Like Tom Thumb Golf and the cross word puzzle, a "Do You Remember When" fad is sweeping the country by storm. It is said to be highly contagious for both sexes of all ages. And it promises to be with us so long as families keep up the happy habit of sitting around dining-room tables to real, home-cooked meals.

When a friend with a far-away expression asks you if you'd rather look through the old family album than go to the latest moving picture, it is a sure sign that he is one of the thousands that have discovered Wonder Fiff-teens. If you catch your cousin (the one who never married) re-reading that beribboned bunch of time-faded love letters that have been safely hidden away in an old trunk all these years, lay it to Wonder Fiff-teens.

No one is immune. Even gray-haired bank presidents have been known to steal away from work and worry—and go fishing again with a bamboo pole and penny line, after their first taste of this new, old-fashioned treat called Wonder Fiff-teens. And as it might be guessed by now, a woman is the cause of it all!

Nation's first first lady started it

The woman in this case is well known, a model housewife, charming hostess, and celebrated particularly for her recipes. America's oldest railroad today features her special dishes for hungry travelers on their way to the nation's capital. In fact, it was a recipe of Martha Washington's time, happily put to work again by the Happy Wonder Bakers, that is causing so many folks to day-dream of the good old days gone by.

This magic recipe brings to modern tables the same delicious light biscuits that used to be served at the gracious meals over which the very first "first lady of our land" presided. But without a bit of the fuss and bother that even Martha Washington had to put up with. That very necessary part of the task belongs to the Happy Wonder Bakers.

FIFF-TEEN means 15

As far as the busy housewife is concerned, Martha's old-time recipe is reduced to "Just heat 'em and eat 'em!" Then there are some magic words that first must be said in a store that sells good things to eat. If you forget these words, "Wonder Fiff-teens," just remember that there are fifteen light rolls to a package and that they taste just wonderful. Any good grocer will recognize that description at once.

Once a week in old days now FRESH every day

One new-fashioned advantage of these old-fashioned rolls is that every day brings in a fresh supply. Much as the family wanted them in the good old days, they had to wait until grandmother baked bread for the fine treat of hot light rolls. Modern mothers can make Wonder Fiff-teens a daily treat. And if modern families have anything to say about it, Wonder Fiff-teens will always be on the table. They are always fresh.

"LET YOUR FAMIL·Y DECIDE"

say the Happy Wonder Bakers

Serve slo-baked Wonder Bread for a week—you'll want to continue

One sure way to know good bread is to try it. That's why the Happy Wonder Bakers say "Try slo-baked Wonder Bread for a week. Try it in every way you ordinarily use bread—with butter, in sandwiches, as toast, for croutons, or in pudding.

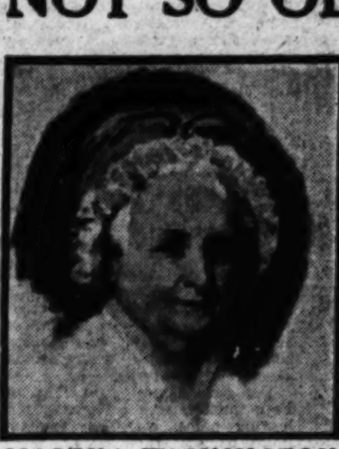
"Notice how nicely it slices—what a delicate flavor it adds to sandwiches—how fresh it stays. Let your family decide whether or not to continue with Wonder Bread.

"Wonder Bread is made from the finest ingredients that money can buy—blended after a recipe that took years of experiment and millions of dollars to perfect. We know you'll like it!"

"I vote for Wonder Bread," says Junior in actions that speak louder than words. Family agrees too. Slo-baked Wonder Bread is good bread—the best that you can buy.

WONDER BREAD
IT'S SLO-BAKED

NOT SO OLD-FASHIONED!



MARTHA WASHINGTON

Martha knew that men liked hot rolls with their meals. But just read some of those old-fashioned directions!

Cover the dough over with a cloth to keep it warm: and this covering as well as the situation of the vessel, as to the distance from the fire, must depend upon the nature of the place and the state of the weather, as to the heat and cold . . . When the whole is sufficiently moist knead it well, this is the grand part of the business . . . it must be rolled over, pressed out, folded up, and pressed out again over and over and over . . .

How much simpler now with Wonder Fiff-teens. All you need do is heat 'em and eat 'em!

FAMOUS $6,000,000 LOAF now Sliced for YOU

Happy Wonder Bakers add convenience to quality . . . . . Create perfect loaf

The smooth, even slices of Wonder-Cut Bread (Left) make finer toast than ordinary bread (Right)

Quicker! There in a word is the whole story of Wonder-Cut Bread—the newest form of the famous $6,000,000 loaf. Quicker for toast, quicker for sandwiches, quicker for lunches, saves time when you need it most.

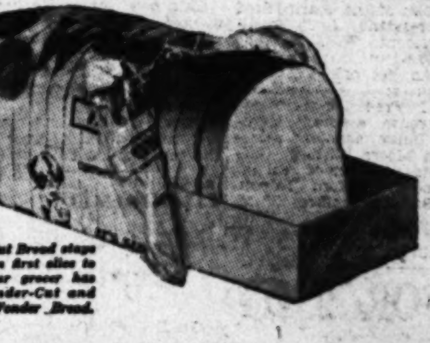
Wonder-Cut Bread is Wonder Bread—sliced. All the delicate flavor—all the freshness of slo-baked Wonder Bread is there—plus the fact that Wonder-Cut Bread is sliced and ready to serve.

Try it! Notice the even uniform slices—cut by keen-edged knives—slices that could never be imitated by hand slicing.

Convenient? All you have to do is "help yourself." Simply open the wrapper, drop the fresh slices into the toaster . . . spread them with sandwich filling . . . or pile them on the tray.

Wonder-Cut Bread stays fresh longer, too. The special carton and sealed wrapper take care of that. Keep the unused slices in the wrapper—the last slice will be just as delicious as the first.

You'll find Wonder-Cut Bread at your grocer's, side by side with regular Wonder Bread. Both are rushed to him twice a day, fresh from the ovens. Ask for either loaf by name.



Wonder-Cut Bread stays fresh from first slice to last. Your grocer has both Wonder-Cut and regular Wonder Bread.

NAVY LENDS AID IN RELIEF DRIVE

Leader of Job Campaign Receives Official Word

Millions to Be Spent Under Construction Program

Col. Woods Urges Citizens to Swell Chest Funds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A plan of the Navy Department to push ahead public-works construction today added another link to the chain by which the government hopes to aid in tugging the nation's workers out of the morasses of unemployment.

The navy plan became known through information sent Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of the President's emergency committee for employment. Under it bids will be invited in the next two months on construction to cost $3,000,000, and work to cost $1,500,000 is to be started immediately instead of in the spring.

Joseph H. Willits of Philadelphia, director of the business school of the University of Pennsylvania, was selected today by Col. Woods to direct the emergency committee's plans division, and Porter Lee of New York assumed charge of its welfare work.

Col. Woods urged citizens to respond to the appeals of municipal Community Chests for funds, and said hospitals and dispensaries must receive more free patients. Contributions reported from fifteen of 220 cities where the Community Chests are trying to raise $55,000,000, he said, show an increase in receipts of 7 per cent over last year.

A statement from the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks today characterized the Postoffice Department's decision to abolish overtime in order to give employment to needy workers as an "empty gesture."

KITTY PUT ON NINE SPOTS AFTER TIPPING OFF DRYS

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—When John J. Cagney gets free of United States government toils his first mission may be to deprive Hortense of all of her nine lives. Hortense is a black and yellow cat, heretofore a fixture in Cagney's drug store. Prohibition agents suspected Cagney of selling liquor and held a raid.

After a two-hour search all they could find were six pints of gin. They prepared to leave when one of them noticed that Hortense had one of her feet caught under a loose board on the mezzanine floor. When he lifted the board to release the cat he discovered a secret compartment holding six cases of whisky and four five-gallon cans of alcohol. Hortense, grateful for her release, began to play with some loose strings on the floor. Her rescuer took hold of one of the cords and lifted a loose board, which opened another secret cache. Each of the strings pulled open a hiding place and revealed four five-gallon jugs of booze. Whereupon Cagney was arrested and placed under bonds of $2500. Insurance companies are not accepting any risks upon the life of Hortense.

CHINA WILL ASK HUGE LOAN HERE

Government Envoy Arrives for Negotiations

Billion Ounces of Silver Will Be Sought

Warring Men to Be Turned to Peace Work

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Judge Paul Linebarger, legal adviser to the Chinese government, arrived here today en route to Washington as a special envoy of President Chiang Kai-shek, to negotiate with the American government for a loan of 1,000,000,000 ounces of silver, worth about $360,000,000.

This loan/ Judge Linebarger said, will be used to rehabilitate China by diverting the millions of men now engaged in war into peaceful production. He said he will ask Congress to authorize the loan on the basis of fifty years at 2 per cent interest.

The proposal of China is that actual silver coins, no longer necessary as a foundation for American currency, be melted into bars and shipped to the oriental republic to be reconverted into money and dealt out daily by an American commission to the working people of China in return for labor.

ROADS TO BE BUILT

Silver-hungry China, Judge Linebarger said, will first of all utilize the money by building roads. Then manufacturing and farming will share in it. Presently, he said, the results will begin to return to America in the form of heavy purchases of American goods. China believes the American government, not needing its idle, surplus silver, can well afford to lend it to a friendly power at 2 per cent, not merely as a means of staving off Bolshevism, which the envoy asserts is inevitable without the loan, but as a means of creating customers out of one-fourth of the inhabitants of the earth.

It is the official opinion of Chinese economists, Linebarger stated, a silver loan will not only stimulate China into a new activity that will drive pauperism and despair from that republic, but it will immediately reopen American silver mines and start new ones to replenish the supply here diminished by the loan.

BUSINESS STIMULANT

It will, China believes, go far toward ending the depression in the United States by providing an almost immediate market for surplus American goods. The United States, he pointed out, has a peculiar opportunity here of which both Great Britain and Japan are envious, but concerning which they can do nothing, lacking the necessary silver, and credit loans, which they might possibly give, would not in China serve the same practical, concrete purpose which a vast quantity of silver would serve.

BERLIN DENIES DEBT REPORTS

Talk of Extending "Feelers" to Washington Scouted

Foreign Office Spokesman Also Airs Arms Stand

Stimson Cites Unchanged Attitude of United States

BERLIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Foreign Office today characterized as "nonsense" reports published in the United States that the Reich had extended official "feelers" to Washington regarding the American attitude on inter-Allied debts reparations.

A Foreign Office spokesman told the Associated Press "there is not a syllable of truth in the reports. You can quote us as categorically denying any such development."

Regarding a Reichstag resolution earlier this week concerning disarmament the spokesman said "it merely reinforces the government's position but does not change its policy.

"The Foreign Office has been pressing for disarmament consistently and aggressively. Our present efforts are directed toward bringing about an early meeting of the preparatory commission on disarmament called by the League of Nations."

The Foreign Affairs Committee of the Reichstag last night rejected all motions to raise the question of reparations revision at this session. It called for an end to a situation "wherein a disarmed Germany is surrounded by ever-increasing preparations for war."

POLICY UNALTERED BY HOOVER ADMINISTRATION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Maintenance by the Hoover administration of the attitude of previous administrations that the questions of war debts and reparations are separate was reiterated today by Secretary Stimson.

The Secretary said he knew of no change in the policy frequently pronounced that the two questions were separate in character.

In response to questions by newspapermen officials said the State Department has no information as to the course of the agitation over the war debt and reparations questions which has sprung up recently. The agitation was first manifested in the capital during the visit several days ago of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former president of the Reichsbank. It was denied at that time his calls here were of an official nature.

DOMINICAN BURSAR DIES

EXPERT ASSERTS WOMEN LESS FAITHFUL THAN MEN

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP) — "It may seem strange," Sir Ellis Hume-Williams, eminent divorce court lawyer, says in his autobiography, published today, "but I think women are less faithful than men."

Other statements based, he says, on long experience, include: "Once a woman has loved one man and fallen out of love with him and into love of another, there is no cruelty known to any created being, human or animal, to equal that with which she will treat the first man."

He gives his own advice to women as to how to hold their husband's affections: "My experience is a woman who is careful to preserve her physical attractions and will take a little trouble to understand and sympathize with her husband's work or pleasure can keep him just as long as she likes."

GREECE JAILS GEN. PANGALOS

ATHENS (Greece) Oct. 30. (AP) Twenty-eight persons, including Gen. Theodore Pangalos, former President of Greece, are military prisoners tonight and a number of assertedly incriminating documents are in the hands of police as the result of exposure of a plot to install Pangalos as dictator.

Police charge the plot had been timed to nullify a treaty with Turkey which Premier Venizelos had gone to Angora to sign.

water . . . . . .

DRAIN FILL

Colder days will soon be here. The oil you used this summer should not be expected to fully protect your engine, any more than light summer clothing should be expected to protect you in the frosty days to come. Besides, that oil may have been exposed to considerable wear and mileage—enough to render it less than completely effective.

Fill with the correct winter grade of the new Texaco Motor Oil—longer-lasting, crack-proof. Every Texaco dealer has an accurate chart which shows exactly the grade for your car. Alert, free-flowing at zero, this revolutionary new golden motor oil will reduce winter engine wear to a minimum.

then.. LISTEN

HEAR the difference before you feel it at the wheel. "How," you ask, "can this new Texaco make so much difference in the sound of my engine?" Because it is full-bodied and crack-proof! The new Texaco protects thoroughly, completely, from the first cold thrust of flashing pistons to the last mile of a long fast drive. It is free from all cold-sensitive impurities—free from all hard-carbon-forming elements.

Drain and refill with the correct winter grade of the new Texaco Motor Oil today—then listen! Remember, that new quietness means more than better daily performance. It means that in the crank-case of your engine is a tougher, longer-lasting motor oil that cuts dollars from your lubrication expense and adds miles to the life of your car. This new golden motor oil is available in all of our 48 States under the Texaco Red Star with the Green T.

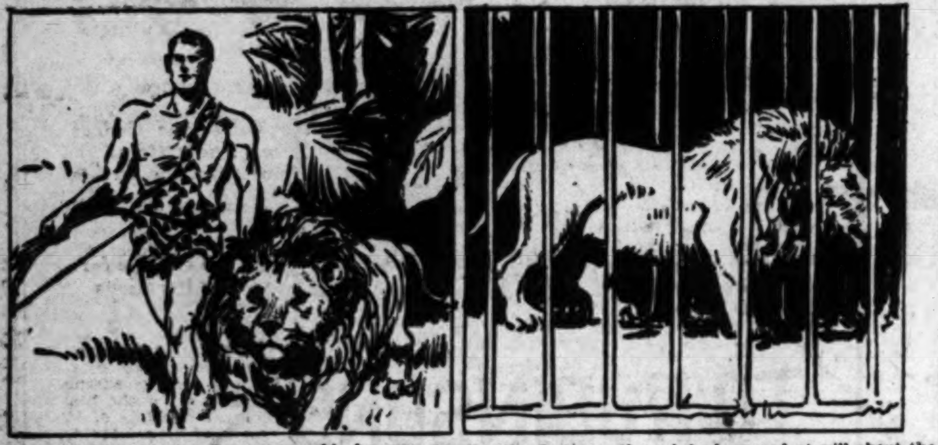
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



When Jad-bal-ja was two years old, he was as fine a specimen of his kind as Tarzan had ever seen. In intelligence he far outclassed his savage brothers of the forest. He was a source of never-ending pride and delight to the ape-man who had trained him so carefully. Often the man and beast roamed the African plain together. Toward Tarzan of the Apes Jad-bal-ja showed the greatest affection.

For the first year the cub had roamed at will about the Greystoke house and grounds. Now, however, he no longer slept at the foot of his master's bed. He occupied a strong cage at the rear of the bungalow. The man and the beast seemed to understand each other perfectly. The way that the ape-man communicated his wishes to Jad-bal-ja bordered upon the uncanny. Yet none knew better than Tarzan that a lion, wherever he may be or however he may have been raised, is still a savage.

About this time rumors of a predatory band ravaging near his estate reached the ape-man. Ugly stories of ivory-raiding, slave-running and torture. Nothing like this had disturbed the quiet of Tarzan's jungle since the days of Sheik Amor Ben Khatour. There came other tales, too, that caused Tarzan of the Apes to pucker his brows in puzzlement and thought. Then a month elapsed during which Tarzan heard the rumors from the west no more.

A prolonged dry spell brought disaster to the Greystoke crops. This, with various things beyond the ape-man's control, had reduced Tarzan's wealth to all but a small income. "It looks very much," he said to Jane one evening, "as though another trip to Opar was on the books." "Don't go," she pleaded. "Twice you have barely come away from that dreadful city with your life. Another time you may not fare so well. We have comfort and happiness. Why risk these precious things for another attempt to raid the treasure vaults?"

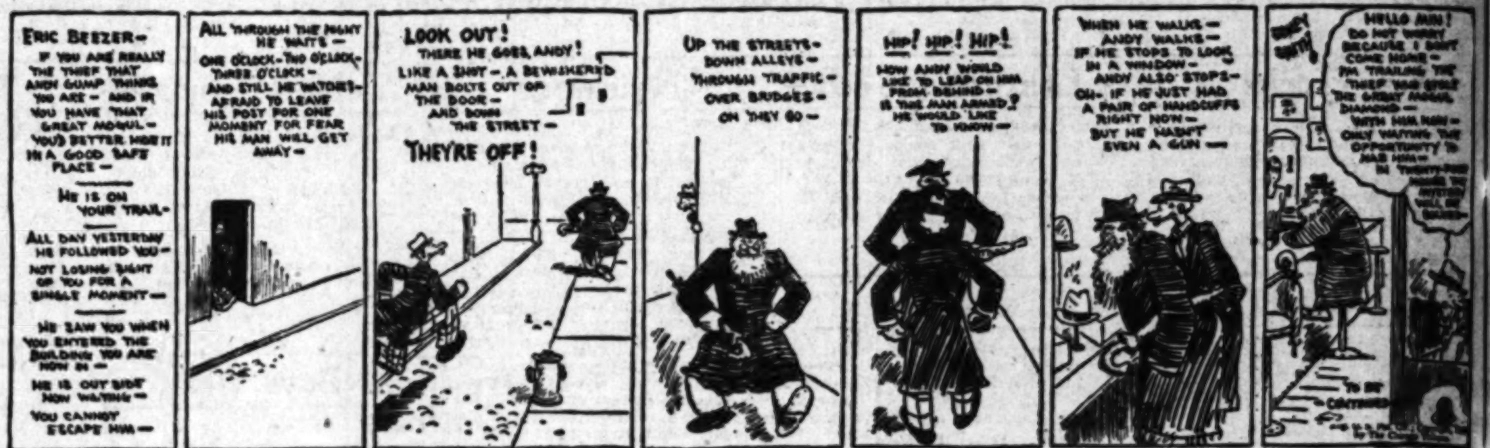
THE GUMPS

The Shadow

By Sidney Smith



ERIC BEEZER— IF YOU ARE REALLY THE THIEF THAT ANDY GUMP THINKS YOU ARE— AND IF YOU HAVE THAT GREAT MOGUL— YOU'D BETTER HIDE IT IN A GOOD SAFE PLACE— HE IS ON YOUR TRAIL— ALL DAY YESTERDAY HE FOLLOWED YOU— NOT LOSING SIGHT OF YOU FOR A SINGLE MOMENT— HE SAW YOU WHEN YOU ENTERED THE BUILDING YOU ARE NOW IN— HE IS OUTSIDE NOW WAITING— YOU CANNOT ESCAPE HIM—
ALL THROUGH THE NIGHT HE WAITS— ONE O'CLOCK—TWO O'CLOCK— THREE O'CLOCK— AND STILL HE WATCHES— AFRAID TO LEAVE HIS POST FOR ONE MOMENT FOR FEAR HIS MAN WILL GET AWAY—LOOK OUT! THERE HE GOES, ANDY! LIKE A SHOT—A BEWHISKERED MAN BOLTS OUT OF THE DOOR— AND DOWN THE STREET— THEY'RE OFF!
UP THE STREETS— DOWN ALLEYS— THROUGH TRAFFIC— OVER BRIDGES— ON THEY GO—
HIP! HIP! HIP! HOW ANDY WOULD LIKE TO LEAP ON HIM FROM BEHIND— IS THE MAN ARMED? HE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW—
WHEN HE WALKS— ANDY WALKS— IF HE STOPS TO LOOK IN A WINDOW— ANDY ALSO STOPS— OH- IF HE JUST HAD A PAIR OF HANDCUFFS RIGHT NOW— BUT HE HASN'T EVEN A GUN—
HELLO MIN! DO NOT WORRY BECAUSE I DON'T COME HOME— I'M TRAILING THE THIEF WHO STOLE THE GREAT MOGUL DIAMOND— WITH HIM NOW— ONLY WAITING THE OPPORTUNITY TO NAB HIM— IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS THE MYSTERY WILL BE SOLVED—

FATHER— IS IT REALLY YOU?
YES, SON, BUT I FEEL LIKE A PAIR OF HAPPY SIAMESE TWINS—I'M BESIDE MYSELF WITH JOY! SIT DOWN AND I'LL TELL YOU WHAT HAPPENED!
I ALWAYS SUSPECTED YOUR STEP-MOTHER OF BEING A SCHEMING FEMALE, AND SO TO PROVE MY CONTENTION I PRETENDED I WAS KILLED IN AN ACCIDENT—I WANTED TO SEE WHAT EFFORT SHE WOULD MAKE TO CHANGE MY WILL!
I KNEW SHE HAD NO RIGHT TO CONTEST MY WILL BUT I KNEW THAT HER CONNIVING MIND WOULD EVOLVE SOME PLAN! IN OTHER WORDS, MY APPARENT DEMISE WAS JUST A SCHEME TO TEST MY WIFE!
THAT WILL THAT YOU SAW WAS A FAKE—I WANTED TO SUBJECT MY WIFE TO AN ACID TEST BEFORE I DID ANYTHING FOR BETTER OR WORSE, BUT SHE TRIED TO TAKE ME FOR EVERYTHING I HAD!

LOAN TOTAL OF BROKERS AGAIN DROPS

Borrowings on Stock Collateral Decline to Levels of 1926

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending the 29th inst. were announced by the Federal Reserve Board today as $2,512,000,000, representing a decrease of $101,000,000 as compared with the preceding week. The loans for the week ending October 30, 1930, were $5,538,000,000.

The detailed distribution of the loans over the three weeks dealt with in the board's report was:

	Oct. 29, 1930	Oct. 22, 1930	Oct. 30, 1929
For own accounts:	$1,710,000,000	$1,590,000,000	$2,069,000,000
For account of out of town banks:	302,000,000	511,000,000	1,005,000,000
For account of others:	500,000,000	512,000,000	2,464,000,000

Brokers' loans as reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve Board at $2,512,000,000 as of the 29th inst. represents the lowest total since early in 1926, the decrease being the fifth successive weekly decline in excess of $100,000,000, the aggregate drop for the five weeks totaling $710,000,000, or more than 20 per cent of the total loans as of the 1st inst. The high loan figure was struck on October 1, last year, at $6,804,000,000.

New York Mart Expels Pair of Floor Traders

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange today announced the expulsion of G. Lisle Forman and Morrison B. Orr, members of the firm of Prince & Whitely, which recently was suspended for insolvency.

One charge against the expelled partners, the stock exchange announcement said, was that as directors of the Prince & Whitely Trading Corporation, they had caused that investment trust sponsored by the stock exchange firm, to lend $1,500,000 on the unsecured note of J. M. Hoyt & Co., a corporation owned or controlled by one of the partners of Prince & Whitely.

The proceeds of that note, the announcement said, were deposited to the account of Prince & Whitely Trading Corporation, thereby improving its financial condition.

Forman and Orr were the floor members of the brokerage firm of Prince & Whitely, which was suspended the 9th inst. on its own admission it was unable to meet obligations.

GEORGIA SOUTHERN PASSES DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Georgia Southern and Florida Railway Company today passed the semiannual dividend due on the second preferred stock and declared the regular semiannual dividend of $2.50 on the first preferred, payable November 26 to stock of record November 12. The road is controlled by Southern Railway which owns $558,700 of second preferred stock which had been paying dividends of $5 annually.

MAJOR REFINERS PROGRESS

General Petroleum Again Leads in Percentage Gain, Although Passed by Associated Oil Company

BY EARLE E. CROWE

On a stabilized price structure in the third quarter of the year the major marketers of gasoline in California scored sizeable increases in gallonage while the smaller companies were losing business. Sales reported to the State Board of Equalization show a total increase of 6.8 per cent for the three months ended September 30, last, over the same period of last year.

Among the first eight companies the three months' business produced two changes of importance in ranking. The Associated Oil Company regained fifth place in total sales from the General Petroleum Corporation, which passed the Associated in the previous quarter, and the Wilshire Oil Company slipped in ahead of the Texas Company by a comfortable margin.

WOULD RANK FIRST

Associated's increase of 35.6 per cent over the same period of last year also lays the framework for another interesting upset in the rivalry among the leading marketers. If the consolidation now under discussion between Tide Water Associated and the Richfield Oil Company is concluded, the consolidated company would rank first in the State on the basis of the third-quarter sales.

This company would show total sales of more than 74,434,000 gallons, or sufficient to pass the Standard Oil Company, traditional leader in the State, by a small margin. Standard retained its lead in the third quarter with sales of 73,421,611 gallons.

THIRD QUARTER

	1930	1929	Pct. inc. or dec.
Standard	73,421,611	67,663,270	+ 8.5
Shell	54,585,191	53,533,193	+ 2.0
Richfield	40,901,557	42,484,231	− 3.7
Union	33,966,512	29,336,323	+15.8
Associated	33,532,743	24,733,750	+35.6
General Pet.	30,683,291	16,213,257	+89.2
Wilshire	22,022,356	15,614,458	+41.0
Texas	13,853,343	12,217,556	+13.4

General Petroleum, subsidiary of Standard Oil of New York, again recorded the largest percentage increase over the corresponding period of last year, duplicating the performance given in the second quarter. General Petroleum's gain was 89.2 per cent, followed by the Wilshire Oil Company, leader of the independents, with a 41 per cent gain.

ASSOCIATED JUMPS

Next was the Associated Oil Company, Pacific Coast subsidiary of Tide Water Associated, which jumped into the running with an unexpected increase of 35.6 per cent over the similar period of a year ago. This company also scored the largest increase in volume and percentage over the second quarter of this year. In the third quarter its sales were boosted 23 per cent over the previous three months.

Richfield was the only one of the leading eight to lose ground in the third quarter as compared with the same period of 1929, but recorded a 4 per cent gain over the second quarter of 1930. Standard and Shell reported nominal increases over a year ago, while Union and Texas reported substantially higher sales.

Compared with the second quarter, however, Standard, Shell, Union and Texas lost business in the third quarter. Shell took the worst loss of 10.7 per cent.

How some of the smaller marketers fared in the last three months during which prices were on fairly stable basis is indicated by the experience of Macmillan, Hancock and Rio Grande, all active independent marketers. Macmillan's gallonage was 50 per cent less than a year ago, Hancock 44 per cent and Rio Grande 25 per cent.

METAL DIVIDEND CUT

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (Exclusive) American Metal Company today declared a quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share on the common stock, against 37½ cents previously. Regular preferred dividends were declared and September quarter profits reported at $357,327 after all charges, against $907,801 a year ago. Nine months' net was $1,629,926, against $2,566,126 in 1929.

Advance-Rumely Preparing for Reorganization

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Directors of Advance-Rumely Company approved today proposal for a reorganization to be effected by a merger with a new company formed for the purpose and have called a special meeting of stockholders to vote on the terms November 25, next. The new company arising from the merger will be called Advance-Rumely Corporation.

It is proposed that 277,500 shares of no par stock of the new corporation be exchanged for preferred and common stocks of the present company in the ratio of one-fifth of a share of new corporation stock for each present common share, and two new shares for each present preferred share, including arrears in cumulative dividends totaling about $40.

Articles of the new corporation provide, among other things, that prior securities may be offered to reduced bank loans and provide for expansion. The company is now in production with its new six-cylinder tractor, which has been tested for the past year and for which an active demand is expected.

Tire Industry Outlook Better

Returning from a series of business conferences in Akron, O., F. E. Titus, executive of the Pacific Goodrich Rubber Company, yesterday reported that in the rubber industry inventories are at the lowest point reached in years and that the big companies are resuming production activities.

"The Goodrich company has just completed a survey which reveals that 46 per cent of the tire equipment on motor cars now operating in the United States is so badly worn that it will have to be replaced in sixty to ninety days," Mr. Titus said. He added that the Pacific Coast division of the company has led all others in sales this year and that production activities at the Los Angeles plant will be increased soon.

British Trust Branch to Open

Herbert E. Linden yesterday announced that American headquarters for a British trust of substantial size are to be established in Los Angeles, with a branch office in New York. In a statement outlining the project, with intimation that American operations would start about January 1, next, Mr. Linden said:

"I have been empowered by the Electric and General Industrial Trusts, Ltd., of London, to organize for them a subsidiary company in the United States. Headquarters will be in Los Angeles at the Bendix Building, and a branch office will be established in New York City. The trust was formed several years ago for the purpose of carrying out technical and commercial research and development."

RESERVE STATUS REPORTED

Volume of Federal Bank Credits Shows Drop During Week of $37,000,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The daily average volume of Federal Reserve bank credit outstanding during the week ending the 29th inst., as reported by the Federal Reserve banks, was $991,000,000, a decrease of $37,000,000 compared with the preceding week and of $497,000,000 compared with the corresponding week in 1929.

The Federal Reserve Board reported today that on the 29th inst. total Reserve bank credit amounted to $985,000,000, a decrease of $7,000,000 for the week. This corresponds with a decrease of $24,000,000 in money in circulation and increases of $10,000,000 in monetary gold stock and $3,000,000 in Treasury currency offset in part by an increase of $1,000,000 in member bank Reserve balances.

Holdings of discounted bills increased $10,000,000 during the week, the principal changes being increases of $7,000,000 at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and $3,000,000 each at Boston and Chicago.

The system's holdings of bills bought in open market declined $11,000,000, of United States bonds $1,000,000 and of Treasury certificates and bills $4,000,000, while holdings of Treasury notes increased $4,000,000.

BETHLEHEM STEEL NET INCOME OFF

Profits in September Quarter One-third of Volume in 1929

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Bethlehem Steel Corporation today reported third-quarter net income of $3,783,425, against $7,691,495 for the previous three months' period, and $11,384,720 in the September, 1929, quarter.

After deducting all charges and preferred dividends, profit for the third quarter was equivalent to 63 cents a share on 3,200,000 shares, compared with $1.86 a share on the same capitalization in the June quarter and $4.01 a share on 2,400,000 shares in the comparable period of 1929.

Directors declared the regular quarterly dividends of $1.50 on the common and $1.75 on the preferred.

Total income for the third quarter was $8,943,217, compared with $13,025,558 in the previous three-months' period, and $17,710,173 in the September, 1929, period.

Operations averaged at 54.6 per cent of rated capacity during the third quarter, against 69.2 per cent in the June quarter and 97.8 per cent in the third quarter of 1929. Current operations are at the rate of 51 per cent.

Net income for the first nine months of the year aggregated $21,552,406, against $32,196,783 in the same period of last year.

Eugene G. Grace, president, said he looked for a gradual business improvement after the turn of the year, adding, "when we do come back, we will come back slowly and substantially."

Share Value of Burco Trust Up

Asset value of the common stock of Burco, Inc., based on valuations as of September 30, last, amounted to $10.16 per share against $10 when issued, according to the first annual report issued yesterday. The trust is of the general management type sponsored by George H. Burr & Co.

During the year the trust bought its common and preferred stock when offered below asset value and the effect of these purchases together with surplus income over preferred dividend requirements was more than sufficient to offset the difference of $333,828.77 between cost of securities purchased and their September 30, market value, it was stated. Net earnings for the year amounted to $230,222.60 after writing off depreciation in value of investments.

Autostrop Razor Earnings Mount

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Autostrop Safety Razor Company in an earnings statement issued today for the nine months ended September 30, last, showed net profits of $1,411,574 after interest, depreciation and Federal taxes, equal after dividend requirements on 87,500 shares of $3 Class A stock to $5.46 a share on 224,500 shares of Class B stock as compared with $759,247, or $2.52 a share, on Class B stock in the 1929 period.

September quarter net profits were $688,766, equal to $2.80 a share on Class B stock, as against $410,443, or $1.55 a share in the preceding quarter and $388,592, or $1.45 a share in the third quarter of 1929.

Tom May Goes on Bank Board

Tom May executive vice-president of the May Company, has been elected a director of the Union Bank and Trust Company of Los Angeles, Ben R. Meyer, president, announced yesterday following a meeting of stockholders.

Mr. May has been executive vice-president of the May Company for the past eight years, having come here from St. Louis where for eleven years he was vice-president of the Famous-Barr Company, owned by the May Department Store Company. Prior to this he was manager of the May Company, Denver, Colo., from 1901 to 1910.

Louisiana Crude Prices Reduced

SHREVEPORT (La.) Oct. 30.—Standard Oil Company of Louisiana has reduced crude oil prices in Caddo, Homer, Haynesville, Bull, Bayou, Sabine, Crichton, De Soto, El Dorado, Cotton Valley, Serepta and Carterville fields in North Louisiana and Arkansas.

The new schedule follows that of Magnolia Petroleum Company, except that it starts at 65 cents a barrel for crude below 29 gravity. All grades of Smackover crude are posted at 70 cents a barrel, against previous prices of 90 cents for below 24 gravity and $1.05 for 24 gravity and above. Bellevue crude has been reduced 15 cents a barrel to $1.

AMERICAN TOBACCO RAISES STOCK RATE

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—American Tobacco Company announced today declaration of quarterly dividends of $1.25 a share on the common and common B stocks, placing both issues on a $5 annual basis. This is equivalent to $10 on the old stock, which was paying $8 prior to the two-for-one split.

FREE COPPER PARADOXICAL

American Competition From Belgian Congo Mines Held New Reason for Imposing Duty

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—When I announced in this column last May that Katanga, the big South African copper company of the Belgian Congo, had withdrawn from the Copper Exporters, Inc., and thus caused a breakdown in the control of the world copper situation, the statement was privately challenged, but never publicly denied.

Now F. Pisart and Camile Gutt of the Katanga company have arrived in New York "to confer" with American and Canadian copper producers, with a view of seeing what can be done to meet the disastrous conditions in the copper industry.

All agree that the copper outlook is "not so hot." Low prices and overproduction continue. Still American producers must have been surprised to read the challenge of Mr. Pisart in the press:

"We can still manage to produce copper in the Belgian Congo at a low cost and, with effective economy to help, keep the price down," he said. "We can continue to go along as we are and make money, so that any agreement arrived at for the benefit of the industry must be whole-hearted and include all the world producers in order to have our support."

Make money? Sure Katanga can, even with copper selling at 9 1-4 cents a pound.

For Katanga can produce copper at 4 1-2 cents a pound, as against an average of 10 to 11 cents for copper produced in American mines. Cheap labor and high-grade ore in the Congo assure this. Katanga pays its unskilled laborers from $1.46 to $7.29 a month with rations, which amount to only $6 a month.

Copper so produced can and does enter the United States duty free and this plays a large part in demoralizing and disorganizing the purely American copper mining industry.

According to the last report of the company, F. Pisart and Camile Gutt are not Katanga directors. So plainly they are authorized only to hold "conversations" with American producers.

Mr. Pisart has announced that his company will not curtail production "without the sanction of the Belgian government or the owners of the property."

This is a very involved statement —difficult to understand.

Sir Robert Williams of London is the head of Katanga, but he has not seen fit to come to the United States. Why? On its face it looks as though the Katanga representatives have no intention of doing anything but "confer." They are in a dominating world position for the first time in the history of the copper industry and they intend to hold that position as long as they can.

The vast curtailment of copper production in United States mines and the ruinous conditions American producers are facing have had no effect in the past and will have no effect in the future upon Katanga policies.

This copper situation presents an unparalled crisis in the industrial affairs of the United States. From the Katanga point of view Katanga is right. Why shouldn't the company sell its product in the best copper market of the world—the United States? For one should not forget that 60 per cent of all copper used in the world is consumed in the United States.

And yet the United States continues to allow cheap foreign copper to enter duty free, ruining American copper mining and throwing thousands of American working men out of work, without an official word of protest.

It's a business paradox in American life hard to explain.

Chicago Bond Issue Awarded to Syndicate

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (Exclusive) State Comptroller Tremaine today stated negotiations have been concluded for borrowing $7,000,000 for four months at 2 per cent from National City Company, Empire Trust Company and Chase Securities Corporation.

Public offering of $4,404,000 thirty-year 4½ per cent debentures of the Province of Nova Scotia, Can., is being made by Bancamerica-Blair Corporation at 98 3-4 and interest to yield about 4.58 per cent.

GROCERY CHAIN NET EARNINGS INCREASE

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (Exclusive) Grand Union Company for the nine months ended September 30, last, today reported net income of $814,382 after depreciation and taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $1.61 a share on 269,413 outstanding shares of voting-trust certificates for common stock, as against $628,213 or $1.01 a share on 261,066 shares in the 1929 period. Store sales for the forty weeks ended the 2nd inst. increased more than 11 per cent over the 1929 period to $27,932,242.

FIDELITY SAVINGS IN EXPANSION STEP

Fidelity Savings and Loan Association has converted two of its loan agencies into branch offices fully equipped to handle all services afforded at the head office, it was announced yesterday. The offices, which will be formally opened tomorrow are located on Wilshire Boulevard near La Brea and in Glendale. Roy Reineman and J. E. Hoeft have been appointed resident managers, respectively, of the two branches.

GOODRICH STARTS SALES OF RADIOS

AKRON, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—B. F. Goodrich Company, through its sales subsidiary, Goodrich Silvertown, Inc., has started sales of a small radio unit in its company-owned stores. While no announcement has been made as to the manufacturers of the unit, it is believed the radios are being made by a small independent factory with Goodrich taking the entire output.

PRICES SOFT IN QUIET TRADING

Market Heavy and Turnover for Day Light

Losses Generally Moderate as Session Ends

Sharp Decline in Coca Cola Chief Exception

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—The stock market dragged through a slow and orderly decline today and was joined by the speculative commodities, wheat, corn and cotton. Bonds, especially rails, and United States governments responded to the unusual abundance of money by making another advance.

To account for the heaviness in stocks, the old story of tax selling to establish income-tax losses was dusted off, but it failed to find as wide acceptance as did the short-selling explanation. Bears have had a goodly share of the news on their side and have again become moderately active, although cautiously so because of warnings administered privately now and then by the exchange officials who are seeking to prevent unfair tactics.

The market contained numerous weak spots in the specialties, which meant the net declines ranged as high as 11 points. Active utilities, industrials and rails held their losses for the most part within a 1 to 3 limit. Total sales were 1,913,731.

Bethlehem Steel's unfavorable earnings statement, showing 63 cents on the common, against dividend requirements of $1.50, was about as expected. The report, appearing after the close, was accompanied by an informal statement by President Grace, who said business was "not picking up a bit" and nothing now in sight suggested improvement in the next months of this period of liquidation. He added, however, things would be getting better next year and the industry was in an excellent position to meet demand when it came.

For the fifth consecutive week Federal Reserve brokers' loans took a sizeable drop. The decline totaled $101,000,000, bringing the deflation since the week ended the 2nd inst. to $710,000,000 and pulling the aggregate to within about $100,000,000 of the record low of $2,409,000,000 set May 19, 1926.

Copper shares reacted slightly, but retained their firmer undertone. Buying of copper is proceeding actively, and consumers are said to be eager to purchase at present prices, especially in view of the movement toward curtailment of production.

Stocks were mostly soft. For a time in the afternoon it appeared as though the market would rally, for American Can, General Electric and Westinghouse regained their small losses and showed fractional net advances. Pressure was again applied in the late trading, however, and final prices were around the lowest. American Telephone and Consolidated Gas lost 2 7-8 and 2 1-8, respectively.

United States Steel recovered a point of its maximum loss of 2 5-8, which had carried it to 145 5-8, against the year's low of 143 1-4. General Motors, Bethlehem Steel, Woolworth, Gillette, Du Pont, National Biscuit and American and Foreign Power sagged 1 to 2.

Coca Cola dropped 13 points. This was apparently another case of selling in a stock which has been quoted at high ratio to earnings. It closed with a net loss of 11½. Eastman Kodak extended its decline by another 6 points, but was off only 2½ at the close.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—The curb market continued downgrade today, although the volume of trading again dwindled, total transfers aggregating 355,300 shares.

The bulk of trading remained in the utilities where drops of a point or two were numerous. Electric Bond and Share lost more than a point, getting within 2 of its low. American Gas and Electric dropped to 90¼, but closed at 92, off 2. Consolidated Gas of Baltimore lost about 2.

Considerable selling occurred in miscellaneous industrials, a notable transaction was a sale of 2,375 shares of J. B. Stetson, at 40, off 6 points. Marconi International sold down 1⅞ to a new low at 7. Johnson Motor dropped 3 to a new low at 15, and Glen Alden declined 4 to a new minimum at 65. Anglo-Chilean gained 2.

Oils eased again, although Indiana held steady, closing up ⅛. Cities Service slipped off a fraction. Gulf and Standard of Ohio declined 2. In the natural gas group, Lone Star lost 1.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Security Prices Soften and Close Generally Mixed on Local Stock Market

While some increase was shown over the volume of trading for the preceding session, the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday fluctuated uneasily and drifted generally lower to wipe out the small improvement attained since the beginning of the week. Operations, however, were confined mostly to the more popular issues and an irregular close after a light activity indicated no particular trend or significant development.

Southern California Edison was a weak spot when on a trading activity second only to Transamerica, the issue dropped back 1½ points to break through 50 and close at 49 7-8. Pacific Lighting, the only other utility common stock traded, strengthened fractionally on a small sale at 65½ ex-dividend.

Transamerica, after continuing its late reaction to 17 7-8, called forth considerable support under which the issue rallied to a high and close for the day at 18 1-4, up 1-8 net. Security-First National Bank dipped ½ to 93½. Pacific Finance gained 1-4 to 16 and International Re-Insurance, ½ to 37. Both were lightly traded. Pacific National Company, after opening at 2, broke to 1.

Oils held generally firm with Union and Union Associates accounting for the largest proportion of the turnover. The former ended at 28 3-8, and the latter at 27 3-8, each recording a net loss of 3-8. Richfield, about which announcement is momentarily expected regarding the Tide Water offer for a merger, firmed up 1-8 to 6 1-2 on the transfer of but 900 shares. Standard of California yielded 1 1-4 points to 51 1-2 on a light turnover. Hancock and Rio Grande held within 1-8 and Bolsa Chica dropped 3-4 to 10 1-2. Macmillan added 1-2 to end at 6.

Claude Neon fell off 1 3-8 points to 19 1-8 and Pickwick, 20 cents to 2.80.

Sales totaled 14,465 shares, valued at $452,964; previous day, 13,040 shares, valued at $334,343.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Radio Corporation shares touched a new low price for the year on the Los Angeles Curb yesterday, dropping 4½ points to 20.

Both the dollar and penny lists continued quiet with the trading activity restricted to only fourteen issues. General Motors on a turnover of 400 shares between 35 and 35½ closed off 1 1-8 points at 35. Detroit Aircraft was unchanged at 2, while Fox Film A, Gladding-McBean and Mexican Seaboard were fractionally lower.

Exeter Oil in the penny issues dropped 10 cents to 80 cents, while Lincoln Drilling was down 5 cents to $1.60. Sun Realty advanced 10 cents to $1.35.

Sales totaled 4490 shares, valued at $44,750; previous day, 14,685 shares, valued at $49,090.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—In a fairly good volume of business crude rubber prices in the outside market worked slightly lower today. The recession was not unexpected in the market since the advance in prices in recent sessions has been rather rapid.

View held here that some of the recent buying of rubber has been caused by rumors that the French government was proposing an import duty on all rubber not produced in French colonies. This report has led to rather extensive buying of spot rubber for French account for prompt shipment to France. Later information, however, is to the effect that the proposal has small chance of being adopted.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Strength of German municipal and industrial obligations, together with the continued improvement in the price of United States governments, marked trading in the bond market today. Increased activity developed in legal railroad issues and a few others of high rating, but those of lesser rank were narrowly irregular.

The sharp gains by a wide list of German obligations was the best in weeks, and was influenced partly by advices from Berlin Chancellor Bruening had forestalled any move for a moratorium in reparations.

While German 5½s advanced ⅝ and the government 7s held steady, German Central Agricultural Bank issues were heavily traded. The 6s of October, 1960, rose 2⅝ points and the 6s of July, 1960, gained 4 points.

A demand developed for Brazilian bonds and some other Latin-American loans.

While the turnover in United States governments was moderate, Liberty Fourth 4¼s, closed at the year's high price, and Liberty 3½s surpassed their former 1930 maximum on the day's movement. Treasury issues were very firm.

Reports that the Van Sweringen interests would acquire control of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad influenced a 4-point rally in the 5 per cent bonds. Utilities were steady.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

Heavy Receipts of Corn Bearish Market Factor

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Bigger receipts of corn in Chicago led to a lower finish for prices of all cereals today, especially of corn. Coincident with the downward sweep of corn values was word the Federal Farm Board coarse grain advisory committee has been called to meet November 17 to consider reports of importations of foreign corn and barley into the United States. There was also a late announcement that 240,000 bushels of rye were being brought back from a Canadian port to Chicago.

Closing quotations on corn were heavy at the day's bottom level, ⅞@1⅛c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Wheat closed unchanged to ⅛c down, oats ⅛@⅜c off, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 10c.

Oats sympathized with corn price declines.

Provisions went lower, responsive to downturns both of hog values and of grain.

7% INCOME

From the Short-Term Bonds of the Largest Company of its Kind in the West

Very rarely, we believe, in today's market is it possible to purchase the short-term obligations of a prosperous and rapidly growing business priced to yield 7%.

Such an opportunity is available today in one of our current offerings—the 6½% five-year Gold Notes of a Los Angeles Company, which is one of the largest and most successful of its kind west of Chicago. Current earnings are more than ample to meet the interest charges. A sinking fund is calculated to retire approximately 70% of the issue, prior to maturity.

Price 98 and Interest, to yield about 7%.

The Free Hand of Progress or the Deadening Hand of Regulation?

PROPOSED REGULATION of public utilities would drag them into the same financial straits that are embarrassing the railroads.

The railroads are burdened with such restrictions that even when operating at the peak of their efficiency, an efficiency 25% greater than in 1922, they have never been able to earn the 5¾% return on the valuation allowed. During the first 7 months of 1930, their net income was only 3.6%.

European electric power utilities have lagged under government regulation. In the United States, where freedom has been allowed private initiative, nearly half of the world's power is produced. Per capita consumption in the United States is 813 kilowatt hours annually; Germany, 450; Great Britain, 330; France, 330; Italy, 239. Household electricity in this country costs 26¼% less than in 1914 despite a rise in the cost of living of 70%.

To continue its progress in serving the public the American utility industry must be left with a free hand. Much of the growth achieved is due to group management of operating companies. This has made possible engineering projects, interconnection, extension of service, and financing on a scale not possible otherwise.

The welfare of a community is better served by keeping business and industry in operation, by having more and larger payrolls, and by providing continued employment, in which the supplying of ample power at moderate rates is an important factor, than by undue reduction in the monthly bill of the individual customer.

Complexity of financial structure, sometimes seen in holding company organization, is rapidly being remedied by the companies themselves, as in the case of the Associated Gas and Electric Company, which has retired all but 34 of its 106 security issues existing 4 years ago.

Progress comes from initiative. Initiative arises from freedom of action and the opportunity of reward. American industry leads the world and American standards of living are the highest because initiative has had a free hand. Present state regulation of operating companies is designed to prevent unfairness and abuses. Holding company and group management should be left with a free hand to insure progress.

Regulation Kills Enterprise
Calvin Coolidge

"When business is in private hands, it is expected to be run for the benefit of the owners. When the government steps in, the purchasers, users and beneficiaries of what the government undertakes to supply insist that the concern be conducted for their benefit.

"It does not eliminate selfishness; it simply transfers it in part from the seller to the purchaser. Under these conditions, it ceases to be a real business, becomes lacking in enterprise and initiative, and does not have any motive to provide improved service."

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—A further decline of 13 to 15 points in cotton during today's early trading was followed by a renewal of trade demand combined with covering and some commission house buying. Trading was not particularly active and fluctuations became somewhat irregular, as prices approached yesterday's closing quotations, but offerings were light, with the midafternoon market steady, net unchanged to 2 points higher.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—The cottonseed oil market was very quiet today with trading almost entirely local, though there was a little commission house buying in March. Locals were inclined to sell a little due to the lack of encouragement from other markets. However, the losses were unimportant, the close being net unchanged to 2 points lower for old contracts and unchanged to 3 lower for new. Sales were 2100 barrels, all in the new contracts. Prime crude, 6.25c; prime summer yellow, old, spot, and November, 7.65c; December, 7.78c; new, December, 7.47c; January 7.53c; March, 7.66c; May, 7.77c.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

An unexpected situation has resulted that may be a boomerang to the smaller independent refineries handling oil from the Venice oil field, which may force shutting down a number of the units that have been relieving the overproduction situation there during the past four months.

The Shell Oil Company has reduced its pipe-line runs from the Del Rey Oil and Refining Company's line to its refinery near Watson, and now is handling only about 3000 barrels of oil a day instead of 10,000 barrels daily. This movement to bring about a substantial curtailment of production has overloaded a number of the smaller refineries, and finding themselves unable to handle the surplus they are reported to have ceased operating.

This rather surprising development is quite different from the situation a few months ago when the smaller refining outfits were eager for oil and turned to Venice when the curtailment program became effective at Santa Fe Springs, Signal Hill and other Los Angeles basin fields.

Officials watching production at Venice feel certain that the field will soon be flowing in excess of 40,000 barrels daily. This belief is based on the 1200-foot oil sand. The upper formation has proven to be considerably more productive than at first believed. A group of the most recent completions has rendered initial flows said to exceed 2000 barrels daily, and each of these projects had approximately 1200 feet of oil sand to draw from. Yesterday the La Bara Oil Company's No. 1 at Venice was completed for 600 barrels daily.

Umpire Neil H. Anderson reported that the field is producing at the rate of 33,600 barrels daily. Within the past week the following operators have completed wells there: Venice Oil Syndicate, Grace Bryan, independent operator, George F. Getty, Inc., California Northern, La Bara, Conservative Oil, Marcell Oil and O. H. Rohde.

Economists to Meet

H. Paul Grimm, oil umpire, leaves Sunday to attend a meeting of the committee on petroleum economics to be held in Chicago November 5. He will confer with Joseph E. Pogue, petroleum economist of New York City, Ray M. Collins, representing Oklahoma and Harold Lowrey representing Wyoming and Texas.

This group met for the first time in New Orleans, at the suggestion of Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur, for the purpose of making a survey of the country's petroleum needs. A similar report is expected to be prepared at the Chicago session. J. Elmer Thomas of Dallas, who served as chairman at the initial meeting, is abroad, and will not be in attendance.

Swabbing Deep Test

The Solita Oil Company's Jepson No. 1 on Sec. 25, 1-12 in the Garvey Hill district west of El Monte and about one mile east of Monterey Park, yesterday started swabbing with bottom of the hole at 5280 feet. This project is said to be on the north side of the Montebello hills and is the deepest test that has been drilled there.

Solita's Jepson No. 1 was originally started by the Montebello Park Petroleum Corporation and after drilling to about 4800 feet was suspended. Drilling operations were resumed a short time ago and showings of gas were reported. It is strictly a wildcat project.

Greater Curtailment Planned

That drilling operations in the Elwood oil field may suffer a further decline, was indicated at a recent meeting of the operators' committee when it met in the offices of Umpire H. Paul Grimm to discuss possibilities of cutting down field activities.

At present there are perhaps a half-dozen strings of tools there, and activity throughout the field during the past two or three months has been somewhat limited in comparison to former conditions. There is strong possibility that the principal operators may seriously consider a plan to suspend all drilling operations.

The Elwood oil field is not a townlot condition, such as at Santa Fe Springs, Signal Hill, Venice and several other fields. The operators agreed to aid the State-wide oil-curtailment program by lessening drilling and there is thought to be no better way at present than to call a halt to all new prospecting. This plan would not bring about the closing in of producing wells.

Plans Annual Party

The Engineers' Club is preparing to hold its annual Halloween party this evening at the club, 833 South Spring street. A dinner will start at 6:30 p.m. and will be followed by a program. Heading the committee on arrangements is Mrs. Herbert L. Barrie, with the assistance of Mrs. Franklin D. Howell, Mrs. H. L. Payne, Mrs. George Wray and Mrs. F. L. Gillan. According to an announcement, reservations may be made by telephoning to the club.

Getting Down

Rapid progress is being made by the Ring Oil Company's two projects in the Los Cerritos field, due northwest of the Signal Hill oil field. Ring's W.M.G. No. 1, formerly a producer from a shallow zone, was killed and now is drilling below 6852 feet and the operator's Sam Johnston No. 1, also once a producer, is drilling below 7080 feet. Both wells are expected to be carried on down to the zone at about 7500 feet, where some excellent production has been developed by other operators.

To Set Casing

Casing will bet set soon in William Luttrell's No. 1 well near the corner of Seventeenth street and Ocean avenue in the Huntington Beach oil field. This project has cored considerable oil sand and will run a string of casing to about 4250 feet to make a water shut-off test.

R. D. Bird's No. 1 near the intersection of Eighteenth and Magnolia streets is being redrilled. Bottom of the hole is at 3800 feet. The McCasland No. 1 at Twenty-first and Olive streets is making progress with the drill below 6700 feet, being slightly deeper than the Superior Oil Company's Fee No. 1.

Several lots have been leased in the westerly portion of the townlot area at Huntington Beach. R. C. Kaiser, Los Angeles operator, leased lots No. 23 and No. 27 in Block 521, and lots No. 2 and No. 4 in Block 520 from W. T. Powell. No announcement was made when drilling operations will start.

In Operation

The Superior Oil Company's new absorption plant on Sec. 29 on the north dome of the Kettleman Hills oil field has been completed and will start operations immediately. Construction was completed in forty-five days, said to be a new record for work of this kind. The plant, which represents an expenditure of approximately $400,000, has a total capacity of about 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. This will mean a recovery of about 150,000 gallons of casing head gasoline daily. It will treat the 80,000,000 feet of gas now flowing from Superior's Huffman No. 1 well, the largest producer on the north dome.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A few wool houses are reporting a slight improvement in demand. Most calls are on finer wools although a little business is being done on 58-60s quality territory lines. Strictly combing Ohio and similar wools of 64s and finer qualities bring 30 to 31c in the grease or 73 to 75c, scoured basis. Original bag territory wools bring 67 to 70c, scoured basis, for bulk French combing staple.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Offerings were plentiful for this period of the week and trade was rather slow, but about steady, the only apparent weakness being on some she stock sales. The larger portion of yesterday's receipts were from out of State points, mostly from the intermountain territory.

A load of good steers from a near-by feed lot arrived late, but sold shortly thereafter at 8.50 to be weighed later in the day. A load of low good 1110-pound California steers made 8.00 and a load of 929-pound mixed fat and feeder steers turned at 7.25. Several loads were unsold shortly after noon. A few odd head of feeder steers made 5.75@6.75. Late Wednesday two loads of Imperial Mexican steers brought 6.25@6.50.

About three loads of medium intermountain heifers brought 5.85@6.35, with odd head higher. A load of 1089-pound Montana cows scored 6.00 with several loads common to medium California and intermountain cows at 4.50@5.50. Low cutters and cutters ranged from 2.50@4.25, with shelly cows at less money. Two loads medium Colorado bulls cashed at 5.25, with odd head ranging from 5.00@5.75.

CALVES—The calf market, with five loads of fresh offerings and nearly 200 holdovers, was practically at a standstill, with bulk of offerings still in first hands. The few sales made were weak and bids on other offerings were lower. A few in-between vealers made 9.00@11.00, with about two loads of 245 to 377-pound southwesterns going at 7.75 and 8.00.

HOGS—Although only two loads were offered little was done until around noon, when the two loads changed hands at around 25c lower prices. One load of Nebraskas averaging 160 pounds set yesterday's top at 11.00, while the other load averaged 180 pounds and turned at 10.85. A package of 182-pound local feds brought 10.15 and a few packing sows made 8.50@8.75.

SHEEP—No fresh offerings were available and holdovers of 538 did not include any very desirable lambs. Part of the holdovers sold at about steady prices. A deck of 68-pound New Mexicos suitable for slaughter brought 5.85 and a deck of 52-pound feeders scored 5.50. Choice light lambs are quoted unchanged up to 8.25. Medium to choice ewes are quoted higher at 3.00@4.00.

UNFAIR TRADING VIA AIR BANNED

Federal Board Calls Halt on Misrepresentation

Advertiser and Station Both Cited in Recent Case

Weber and Fields Top KHJ Program for Tonight

The Times Forum, 1:30 p.m., KHJ. Anton Chris, steel guitarist; Dr. Philip M. Lovell, editor of "Care of the Body" in the Sunday Times.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Misrepresentation of merchandise over the radio is as illegal as misrepresentation by the printed word, in the view of the Federal Trade Commission, and is to be stamped out with the same energy as is shown in dealing with other violations of the law.

This is indicated by the recent action of the commission in the case of asserted misrepresentations in the advertising broadcast of a paint manufacturer, in which the operator of the broadcasting station also was cited as a respondent and joined in an agreement to discontinue the objectionable practice complained of.

This was the first time in which the Federal fair-trade agency had cited an operator of a broadcasting station, although early this year radio advertising of a well-known cigarette was brought under scrutiny and a stipulation signed by the manufacturer whereby certain objectionable statements were deleted. In that case, however, broadcasting stations which had been handling the advertising were not involved.

While the names of respondents in such cases are not made known, the facts are published by the commission for the protection of the public and the guidance of other business men.

They tell us that—

Weber and Fields—the grand old men of the stage—KHJ at 7 o'clock tonight—in a whoopee of radio follies. Lombardo's Orchestra, too.

"Cupid's Corner"—KTM at 10:30 o'clock tonight—vocal duets and solos—guitar numbers — another break for the romantic.

Concert violinist—Joseph Lampkin—KFI at 10:15 o'clock tonight. Song recital—KECA at 10 p.m.—Rose Dirmann. Both officials merit dialing.

And for real constructive radio broadcasting—the American School of the Air at 11:30 a.m., KHJ. It always pleases.

Santa Fe Plans Large Outlay for Equipment

The Santa Fe has decided to order $6,000,000 worth of equipment for delivery next year, it was announced yesterday by W. K. Etter, general manager, upon advice from the company's headquarters in Chicago.

The order will meet immediate traffic needs, Mr. Etter said. The list will include approximately 1500 freight cars, of which about one-third will be of the refrigerator class.

The balance of the order will be made up of horse express cars, cafe-observation cars for passenger service, cabooses, drovers and some additional gas-electric motor cars.

BRAN ORGANIZER OF NEW OIL VENTURE

Associated with Richard L. North and other local investors, Hugh E. Bran, formerly deputy State real-estate commissioner of California and previously connected with the Union Oil Company of California, has organized the El Dorado Petroleum Corporation, Ltd., under California laws, with a capitalization of $200,000, to engage in development of oil leases in the Los Angeles Basin.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's Eighth, between Broadway and Hill—"Animal Crackers." The four Marx Brothers in a delightful burst of nonsense.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Up the River." A funny satire on prison life with a fine cast headed by Spencer Tracy.

California, Main and Eighth—"Mr. Wu." Opens today.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Just Imagine." A fantasy and simply swell. El Brendel and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"The Big Trail." Spectacular in setting and photography, this production demonstrates the power and sweep of Grandeur film.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Billy the Kid." Opens today.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"The Last of the Duanes." The popular Zane Grey story with George O'Brien.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Follow Thru." A mad mix-up about golf which doesn't get anywhere. Buddy Rogers.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"Because I Loved You." Opens tonight.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Moby Dick." Reminiscent, cruel realism and John Barrymore.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Lilliom." Reviewed in today's Times.

Majestic, Broadway at Ninth—"The Office Wife." Rather good with Lewis Stone and Dorothy Mackaill.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Let's Go Native." Not too good, but there's Jack Oakie.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"So This Is London." Will Rogers and his wit are always good.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"The Virtuous Sin." Reviewed in today's Times.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"Dough Boys." Buster Keaton's new and funny comedy.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Big Money." Reviewed in today's Times.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Check and Double Check." Amos and Andy bring their droll talk to the screen in an efficient and humorous vehicle.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Reno." Reviewed in today's Times.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Dough Boys."

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Du Barry, Woman of Passion." Norma Talmadge in a rather quiet portrait of a spectacular favorite.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Life of the Party." Opens today.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"The Life of the Party." Opens today.

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Boulevard—"Her Wedding Night." A couple of good comedians do more than Clara Bow in this.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Young Sinners." More of youth; wild doings, which should prove popular. John Darrow.

Biltmore, 5th near Grand—"New Moon." Romberg's lovely music and the spirit of adventure pervade this operetta which presents Perry Askam.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto the stage, and the play matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Figueroa Playhouse, 940 S. Figueroa—"Cup of Sugar." Dorothy Mackaye returns with this farce in which she recently scored a personal hit.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Mister Antonio." Reviewed in today's Times.

Mason—Broadway near 1st—"Women Who Take." A dramatic conflict of marital conditions in which Irene Rich acquits herself creditably.

Mayan, Hill near 11th—"Temptations of 1930." A modern revue exhibiting some tuneful songs, clever dancing and colorful ensemble work.

Vine St., Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"My Girl Friday." A fast and funny farce about the business man at play. With John T. Murray.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

WITNESS IN MURDER SILENCED BY DEATH

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Jeannette De la Chappelle, Sacramento girl wanted as a witness in the Ramos murder trial at Oroville, failed to appear when called by the court. Today investigators from the State Bureau of Criminal Identification sought her at her home. They learned she had been buried last Friday, having died from injuries incurred in an automobile accident.

POPE GETS TELEPHONE INSTRUMENT OF GOLD

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 30. (AP)—Pilate Leoni, representing the International Telephone and Telegraph Company of New York, today presented the Pope with a new telephone instrument of gold and mother of pearl, engraved with the papal coat of arms. The corporation installed a new telephone system in Vatican City recently as a gift to the pontiff. This will begin to function about November 15, next.

CALIFORNIA DEFIANT ON RAIL LINE

Federal Government Has No Authority Over Road at Bay City, State Argues

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—California challenged in the Supreme Court today the authority of the Federal government to enforce the safety appliance act on the Belt Line Railroad which the State owns and operates on its docks in San Francisco.

Karl D. Loos, counsel for the State, asserted the operation of the railroad by the State is an exercise of sovereign governmental functions and in no sense the conduct of a private enterprise.

John Lord O'Brian, assistant to the Attorney-General, argued the case for the government and took the position a State in operating a railroad in interstate commerce becomes a common carrier subject to all Federal laws applying to such carriers.

JUNIOR AIR RECORD SEEKER FORCED DOWN

GUYMON (Okla.) Oct. 30. (AP)—Stanley Boynton, 18-year-old flyer, landed at the municipal airport here at 5:30 p.m., today, completing a trip from Wichita. Boynton said he was forced down twice by lack of fuel, the second time at Hooker, Okla., twenty-one miles northeast of here. Boynton left Wichita at 2:28 on his transcontinental flight seeking the junior record. He said he lost about forty-five minutes because of the two forced landings. He will spend the night here, taking off early in the morning for Santa Fe.

BIRTH CONTROL BOOKS ADMITTED TO COUNTRY

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30. (AP)—Federal Judge Kirkpatrick ruled today importation of three books by Dr. Marie Carmichael Stopes, London physician, on birth control, did not violate any tariff law. The books, consigned to Philadelphia social workers, were seized by customs authorities on their arrival several months ago. The owners protested. Judge Kirkpatrick refused to permit the case to go to a jury, saying he had read the books and had found "nothing in them which would deprave the morals of those who read them."

BRETT HEADS RUTGERS

NEW BRUNSWICK (N. J.) Oct. 30. (AP)—The appointment of Philip M. Brett of New York City as acting president of Rutgers University was announced today by the trustees. He will succeed Dr. John M. Thomas, resigned. Brett is a New York attorney.

DESTROYING RECORDS ON OIL DENIED

Official Says Kelley Charges Due to Wrong Slant on Land Law

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Ralph S. Kelley's oil shale charges against the Interior Department were described today by Solicitor Finney of the department as having been based largely on a "difference of opinion" between Kelley and his superiors over the meaning of the law.

The solicitor did not go into the charges in detail, but he did "absolutely deny" Kelley's assertion about the destruction of official papers.

Finney's statement was in the form of a telegram, addressed to the New York World, which published Kelley's story.

Recently a Department of Justice investigation resulted in a finding that Kelley's charges of improper administration of the law governing oil shale lands were unfounded, and Secretary Wilbur later dismissed Kelley from his position in the Denver Land Office.

Church Picked for Murder

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—An automobile with four men halted in front of a church in Brooklyn last night. Two men in the rear seat drew pistols and said to two men in front:

"Here's a church. Pray, and pray quick."

As the two in front tried to leap from the car, the others fired, killing one instantly and wounding the other.

The slain man was identified as John Bugeio. The wounded man said he was Joseph Dentice, a cousin of the slain man.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Kemal Pasha Elogia a los Estados Unidos

ANGORA (Turquía), Octubre 30. Mustapha Kemal Pasha ha expresado hoy a la Prensa Asociada, en el primer mensaje que ha dirigido en muchos años al público yanqui, la alta estimación que tiene Turquía para con su nación hermana del otro lado del Atlántico.

"Mis sentimientos para con los Estados Unidos son de afecto y admiración", dijo a un grupo de invitados que le rodeó en un baile dado para celebrar el octavo aniversario de la fundación de la República Turca.

Se le preguntó en qué cosas desearía que emulara a los Estados Unidos el país de que es presidente, y respondió con expresiva y brillante mirada: "Turquía no trata de copiar a nación ninguna; sólo los micos imitan. No hay nación que pueda ser igual a otra, pues para que los países progresen tienen que desarrollar sus propios dotes raciales y su cultura especial. Es lo que Turquía está haciendo."

Asegura un Perito que son Menos Fieles las Mujeres que los Hombres

LONDRES, Octubre 30.—"Parecerá extraño", dice en su autobiografía publicada hoy Sir Ellis Hume Williams, eminente especialista en juicios de divorcio, "pero yo creo que son menos fieles las mujeres que los hombres."

Entre otras afirmaciones, basadas, según dice él, en larga experiencia, hace la siguiente: Cuando una mujer que quiso a un hombre deja de estar enamorada de él y se enamora de otro, no hay crueldad humana, ni aún la que se tiene a veces con los animales, que iguale la crueldad con que esa mujer trata al primer hombre.

Aconseja a las mujeres sobre la manera de conservar el cariño de sus maridos: "Según mi experiencia, una mujer que tiene cuidado de conservar sus atractivos físicos y se da la molestia de entender los trabajos o distracciones de su marido y de interesarse en ellos, puede conservar a su cónyuge tan largo tiempo como quiera."

Gana Terreno la Desobediencia Civil en la India

BOMBAY, Octubre 30.—El no pagar las contribuciones, que es uno de los preceptos de la campaña de desobediencia civil, parece estar ganando terreno en algunas partes del Indostán.

Informa el Congreso Nacional Panindio de que han abandonado sus hogares 50,000 campesinos de la región de Bardoli, resueltos a no pagar impuestos sobre la propiedad hasta que no se establezca la autonomía o "swaraj" en la India.

Dícese que el lema de los campesinos es: "Si no hay 'swaraj' no hay rentas". Los jefes del movimiento declaran que los campesinos no pagarán hasta que Mahatma Gandhi sea puesto en libertad y les ordene que paguen.

El congreso califica los actos de los campesinos de "ejemplo sin igual de movimiento migratorio por parte de gente resuelta a sacrificar todo en aras de la causa de Gandhi."

Se Levanta la Cuarentena Contra los Pericos

WASHINGTON, Octubre 30.—La cuarentena contra los pericos, vigente desde el 24 de Enero último, ha sido levantada hoy por el Servicio de Sanidad Pública. Se permitirá que vuelvan a figurar los loros en las tiendas de pájaros de los Estados Unidos, siempre que se les sujete a estrictas disposiciones sanitarias, las que, según se cree, evitarán epidemias de psitacosis como la que hubo a fines del año pasado.

NOTAS LOCALES

Hoy Serán las Exequias del Señor Hamburger

Esta tarde, a las 2:30, en la capilla funeraria de Frazier, sita en la esquina de las calles Décima y Flower, se verificarán los funerales del señor M. A. Hamburger, viejo comerciante de Los Angeles fallecido el miércoles tras una enfermedad de varias semanas.

La ceremonia será enteramente privada, y se suplica no enviar tributos florales. Oficiará el rabino Magnin, y la inhumación del cuerpo se hará provisionalmente en una bóveda del Cemetery of Home of Peace, mientras se levanta un mausoleo en honor del difunto.

Ya se esperaba la muerte del septuagenario comerciante, que tuvo un ataque al corazón hace varias semanas, el cual le provocó una dolencia aguda. El señor Hamburger, con su hermano David, fue el fundador del gran bazar comprado en 1923 por la May Company.

Pero el fusil de hojalata ya no disparaba, y no hacía más ruido que la badila, que, como todos saben, se mantiene silenciosa. Y Enriquito, a los seis años, no tenía idea de lo terrible, sanguinaria y ruidosa que es la guerra (But the tin gun had lost its shot and made no more noise than the kitchen poker, which, as every one knows, is very quiet. And six-year-old Henry had no idea what a dreadful, bloody noisy thing war is).

La primera carta que escribió fue para su padre, pidiéndole un tambor como los que tenían los otros muchachos. Pero cuando le llegó uno, blanco, rojo, brillante y reforzado con cuerda dorada, Henry prefería sentarse a mirarlo horas enteras a golpear sobre él con los dos palillos que llevaba atados a un lado (The first letter that he ever printed was to his father, asking for a drum like those the other boys had. But when it came, white and red and shiny and laced with gold cord, Henry preferred to sit and look at it by the hour instead of banging on it with the two drumsticks tied to the sides).

The OBJECT of the Electric Railway Tax Equalization Amendment (Number Four on the ballot) is to reclassify for taxation purposes the electric railways of California as distinct from the steam railroads and to place the taxes of the electric railways on an equality with taxes paid on common property and by the motor bus and stage companies. It is:

BASED on the California Tax Commission's findings that the electric railways "bear a disproportionately large tax burden."

APPROVED unanimously by the Senate Committee on Revenue and Taxation and the Assembly Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

ADOPTED by the State Legislature for ratification by the voters.

WALKUP ACTION HALTED BY ROW

Grand Jury Reported Split on Closing Inquiry

Week's Adjournment Taken After Heated Session

Faction Stand on Frame-up Vote Not Revealed

A row in the ranks of the grand jury yesterday prevented final action in the Police Commissioner Walkup "frame-up" case, which has been under investigation for several weeks. That the members of the jury were unable to agree and that heated words were passed inside the locked doors of the grand jury room, was admitted by various members of the jury yesterday just before a weeks' adjournment was taken.

From what could be learned the opposing factions split on bringing the investigation to a close with a vote. How the two factions are lined up as to numbers could not be learned.

Under direction of Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart the Walkup affair was presented to the grand jury at the last three meetings. Fourteen witnesses were questioned and some kind of a vote expected yesterday when the row developed.

The witnesses called were headed by Helen Lee, who confessed that she had been employed as a lure to attempt to place Walkup in a compromising position and bring about his arrest. Others are said to have told the jury of the various plots and plans which were formed by city officials attempting to bring about the public disgrace of Walkup.

Among those called was W. J. Fisher, confidential investigating secretary to Mayor Porter. His name was brought into the affair by Miss Lee, who stated that he had employed Edward S. Ward, a private detective, to assist in the arrest of Walkup. Ward, together with C. M. Shawn, a taxicab official, who was also named by Miss Lee, fled from the city when the investigation was started and have not been located.

FIRE BOARD CITES PLAN FOR VENICE

Better Water System and Opening of Streets in Suggestions to Council

Opening of Trolleyway to relieve congestion on the Speedway, extension of the twelve-inch water main and enlargement of the water system into the oil drilling district of Venice is suggested as a fire-protective measure by the Fire Commission in a communication sent to Councilman Martin, chairman of the Fire and Police Committee of the City Council, yesterday.

The communication held that a proposed high-pressure salt-water system for fire protection is impractical.

The commission suggested that the Council take action to ascertain from the American States Water Service Company, which supplies Venice with water, if steps can be taken immediately for the installation of proper mains and furnishing an adequate water supply.

If this is impossible, the commission suggests that the people of Venice immediately initiate proceedings for the installation of a municipal water system for the entire district; that action be taken for installation of a water main, not less than twelve inches in diameter, from the end of the present main at Avenue 30 and Strong Drive to Avenue 68 and the Speedway, and that proper hydrants be installed.

Another recommendation to the Council is that it refrain from issuing any more oil-drilling permits in the Venice area for parcels of land less than 8000 square feet in area, so that the department may impose and enforce adequate safety regulations for each well, which is held not possible under the present plan of issuing permits on small parcels of land.

FUNERAL OF HAMBURGER TO BE TODAY

Pioneer Merchant's Last Rites This Afternoon to Be Strictly Private

Funeral services for M. A. Hamburger, pioneer Los Angeles merchant, who died Wednesday following several weeks' illness, will be conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Frazier funeral chapel at Tenth and Flower streets.

It is announced the services will be strictly private and it is asked that flowers be omitted. The services will be in charge of Rabbi Magnin and interment will be made temporarily in a vault in the Cemetery of Home of Peace until a mausoleum can be erected.

The death of the 70-year-old merchant was not unexpected. He was taken ill several weeks ago with a heart attack and later as the malady became acute he was removed from his apartments in the Los Angeles Athletic Club, to the home of his sister, Mrs. P. L. Nathan, 506 South Windsor avenue, where death occurred. The Hamburger department store, founded by Mr. Hamburger and his brother David, was purchased by the May Company in 1923.

PLEDGE OF MAYOR TO BE REVIVED

Miss .Smith's Nomination to Police Commission Promised by Porter

The nomination of Miss Kate Smith, former principal of a high school, to the Police Commission to replace Commissioner Thorpe, was revived again yesterday by Mayor Porter, when he said he will officially file the nomination "before the end of the week."

This nomination has been talked of again and again. The name was presented to the Police and Fire Committee, which must make a recommendation to the City Council on confirmation, several weeks ago, and Miss Smith met the members of the committee.

The appointment of a woman to this commission is one of Mayor Porter's campaign pledges. He has appointed four persons altogether, all men. The Council is known to be opposed to a woman on this commission, feeling it is no place for one of the gentle sex.

SAFETY DRIVE PROJECTED

Traffic Committee of State Chamber Outlines Educational Campaign to Cut Accidents

With the seriousness of the automobile accident problem impressed upon them by a visit to the Los Angeles County Morgue, members of the Los Angeles traffic safety committee of the State Chamber of Commerce yesterday drafted plans for a great educational campaign in the interests of street and highway safety in 1931.

Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, chairman of the meeting, sketched the program to be followed by subcommittees on research, radio, legislation, motion pictures, publicity, resolutions and other subjects, stating that although much had been accomplished in the last year the committee had actually been laying a foundation for greater efforts in the future.

PROGRESS MADE

A. T. Mercier, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway, declared that the activities of the committee had played an important part in the reduction in the number of accidents involving public utilities in the last year. The public utilities, he said, after reducing accidents within their own ranks 50 per cent within the last ten years, were at a standstill, unable to make progress in overcoming the accident problem raised by others, when the committee's educational program was launched.

As a result of this outside assistance, Mercier said, substantial progress has been made in reducing crossing accidents. Mercier said that company reports showed a 25.3 per cent reduction in accidents in the first twenty-eight days of October, as compared with the first twenty-eight days of October, last year. The reduction for the ten-month period, he said, was 28 per cent.

TOLL BEING CUT

"Education, supported by discipline," said Mercier, "is bringing excellent results in cutting down the accident toll."

Coroner Nance spoke briefly, pointing to the number of deaths and emphasizing that the committee is doing a great service. The Coroned dwelt upon the number of young people killed. Following his address, he invited the members of the committee to visit the morgue.

Mrs. Grace Von Rolf, in charge of radio activities, told of the success of a radio campaign to enlist 100,000 persons in a safety-pledge movement. Seventeen radio stations have given free time for announcements of the drive, she said, reporting that a number of the stations have received thousands of responses.

The meeting was held in the Pacific Electric clubroom in the Pacific Electric Building.

POLICE SIGNALS REFUSED

Due to the shortage of funds, the City Council yesterday turned down the proposition to provide the San Fernando Valley with a police signal system at a cost of $10,000.

IDLERS MAY BE SENT TO ROCK PILE

Steckel Says City Has No Spare Jail Room but They Flock in Anyhow

Within a few hours after Chief Steckel issued a statement yesterday that idlers coming into the city would not be given free board and lodging in city jails as vagrants, police found themselves in a perplexing situation. Unexpectedly a Southern Pacific freight train pulled into the city with more than 100 vagrants swarming in box cars and on brake beams.

The train was held up at Fletcher Drive and San Fernando Road and the idlers were met with a large force of vagrant squad officers and railway agents. Like flies routed from a feast the idlers dropped off the train and began to scatter. Sixty of them eluded the cordon of officers. The other forty were taken into custody and booked on a charge of evading railway fare.

Because of the razing of the old Lincoln Heights stockade to make way for the new jail there police were forced to house the idlers in the old City Jail at Central, already overcrowded. It is expected those who are first offenders will be given suspended sentences and ordered to leave the city.

"We do not intend to provide free lodging for flocks of vagrants in this city," declared Chief Steckel shortly before the unexpected raid was made. "In the first place we have not the facilities at the present time. If they don't take the tip

HIGHWAY HELD TRADE KEY

Auto Club Field Secretary Predicts Commercial Growth With International Road's Opening

"Los Angeles has the inside track on business to be developed in Mexico and on trade relations fast being expanded between Southern California and South America, and the building of the International Pacific Highway probably will be of greater advantage to Los Angeles than to any other metropolis from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Buenos Aires," declared Carl McStay, field secretary of the Automobile Club of Southern California, in an address given at the City Club yesterday before the Foreign Trade Club.

Mr. McStay said that 6000 miles of the road already has been constructed or is definitely assured.

"It is 1675 miles from Vancouver, B. C., to Fairbanks, and 1000 miles of the highway between those cities already has been built," said the speaker. "We have assurances from Canada and from the United States government that the 675 miles will be constructed within the near future. From Nogales to the Guatemalan border, it is 2275 miles, and the governors of various Mexican States already have appropriated a large sum with which to start construction on this section of the highway."

Predicting that communication with Mexico City, "by a very good highway" will be established by the end of next year, Mr. McStay said the roads to Mexico City today are less difficult than existed eighteen years ago in the trip across the United States.

"While the Automobile Club has no direct method, nor desire to enter the field of trade and commerce, I believe that in the development of the international highway, this club is helping to lay the foundation for a great trade between the United States and Latin America," said Mr. McStay. "Within the last fifteen years this country's exports to Canada have increased by 300 per cent and Canada's exports to this

MACARTHUR WILL VISIT FORT AT HARBOR TODAY

Maj.-Gen. Douglas MacArthur

Maj.-Gen. Douglas MacArthur, future chief of staff of the United States Army, will today pay a brief visit to the harbor army post, Fort MacArthur, named in honor of his father, the late Lieut.-Gen. Arthur MacArthur. Gen. MacArthur arrived in Los Angeles last night from San Francisco on the Daylight Limited and will leave tomorrow night en route to Washington.

His visit to Fort MacArthur will not be a formal inspection, he explained last night, saying that he merely wishes to visit the post. He will, however, confer with Col. V. W. Cooper, army representative in Los Angeles for the 1932 Olympic Games, and following this conference will inspect the installations made for the games.

Col. Charles Patterson, Maj. J. J. Reddy and the general's aide, Capt. T. J. Davis, will accompany Gen. MacArthur on his trip to Washington and will stop en route for the inspection of several army posts west of the Mississippi River. He will become chief of staff November 21 and, according to his present plans, will return to the Pacific Coast for a further inspection of defenses.

FLOOD OF GOLD POURS IN CHEST

Campaign Workers Reach $1,000,000 Mark

Dr. Snape Sees Service as Spiritual Opportunity

Chairman Refutes Stories of Salaried Officials

With the first $1,000,000 for the 1931 Community Chest almost corralled, campaigners yesterday prepared to redouble their efforts to fill the Chest to capacity for the needy, sick, crippled and helpless men, women and children of this city who have staked their faith on the ability of the campaigners to succeed.

The harvest for yesterday added $140,072, bringing the total to date to $943,257, or 29.48 per cent of the total goal of $3,200,000. This was the end of the fourth day in the general campaign which will continue until November 7, leaving eight days in which the remaining $2,256,743 must be subscribed.

DR. SNAPE SPEAKER

Following an invocation by Rev. John Cawley, vicar-general of the diocese of Los Angeles, Fred Seaver, vice-president of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, and chairman of the industrial division, acting as the presiding officer, introduced Dr. John Snape, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, as the speaker of the day.

Dr. Snape brought to the workers gathered at the regular report luncheon at the Biltmore, a new conception of the Community Chest when he told them that what it amounts to is an adventure in faith.

"It is an attempt," he said, "to translate our program of relief into terms of actual service. It is not only a duty, but an opportunity. It is the community's imagination released into all the alleys and avenues of life in our city, where we see misery, sickness and suffering and because a man's money is, in reality, a part of himself, the Chest campaign also is an acid test of the soul of our community."

CENTRALIZED SYSTEM

Dr. Snape also emphasized the fact that the Community Chest makes for stability. Whereas, in years past, the residents of the city have been driven almost to desperation by the numerous drives for this organization and that one, now there is a centralized system for all of them which has reduced operating overhead and made for greater efficiency and economy. He pointed out that from every dollar contributed to the Chest, 56 cents is devoted to institutions dealing with child welfare, 27 cents to problems of family relations, 10 cents to the adult needy and but 7 cents for overhead.

Ray W. Smith, executive secretary of the San Francisco Community Chest, was next introduced. He said San Francisco is watching us anxiously, for the result of the Los Angeles campaign, he declared, has a real bearing on what San Francisco will be able to accomplish in her drive.

PROGRESS REPORTED

Seaver then gave a report for the progress made by the industrial division to date. With a quota of $600,000, the six divisions working under him have reported $171,364, or 28.56 per cent of the total. Seaver said that he felt confident of a successful outcome for his district, especially in view of the generosity of the concerns in the industrial district in allowing so many of their officials to give their time to Community Chest work.

Vice-chairmen in the industrial division include W. Herbert Allen, A. B. DeNault, G. F. Pfaffenberger, Edward M. Selby, H. R. Erkes, and Sam C. Haver, whose team is leading the division.

GIFTS GENEROUS

Central division reports showed a gain of $85,631 for the day, bringing the total to $660,685, or 37.75 per cent of the total goal. In the million-dollar committee the Ballard camp is leading with 50 per cent of its goal of $650,000 ac-

ORDINANCE ALTERATION TO BE SIFTED

Council Opens Inquiry on Deletion of Clauses in Food Factory Edict

An investigation of the altered ordinance which astounded the City Hall, with means to prevent such procedure in the future, was ordered yesterday by the City Council on motion of Councilman Williams.

The investigation is to be conducted by the Efficiency and Personnel Committee. The ordinance which was tampered with concerned the construction of food factories and stables. Certain sections of the ordinance, which had been signed by Mayor Porter, were eliminated entirely.

The alterations were discovered by Deputy City Clerk McCoy while reading copy. So far no one has been found who knows when the sections were scratched out. City Clerk Dominguez said yesterday that the system under which the printer handles city ordinances prevents their being tampered with while in that office.

The ordinance has been repealed and will be readopted.

Some months ago an ordinance covering specifications for public improvements was changed.

INQUIRY ON ZONING MAP COST ASKED

The City Council yesterday referred to its City Planning Commission a resolution by Councilman Webster asking for an investigation of the cost to prepare in the City Engineer's office the maps which applicants for rezoning must file with the City Planning Commission. The applicant now pays a filing fee of $25 and must have his map made at his own expense. It is Webster's idea to have this work done by a city draftsman at a nominal charge.

CAPITAL FEASTS TOURISTS

Good-Will Flyers From Los Angeles Visit Many Cities on Second Day of Trip

BY BURTON L. SMITH
"Times" Staff Representative

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 30.—A banquet at the Elks Temple here tonight, given by the Chamber of Commerce as a compliment to pilots and passengers taking part in the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce second annual State air tour marked the end of the second day of one of the most notable good-will excursions ever organized in the West.

Approximately 100 flyers, ambassadors of good will, attended the banquet, which was free almost entirely of the formalities which usually mark such occasions. Only a few talks were made and no musical or other program was provided.

Oscar Trippet, one of the youngest members of the Los Angeles Bar, who is chairman of the tour committee and representative of the president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles, presided as toastmaster and master of ceremonies. He extended the thanks of the visitors and explained in a short talk what is hoped will be accomplished by tours of this kind. He said the men and women of the party desire to add their bit to the movement of awakening interest in aviation, the development of airports and the increase of commercial flying. The present tour, he said, is an example of the speed, safety and convenience which in recent months has become available to the general public.

The caravan of the air which landed at Mather Field here this evening is composed of forty-seven ships with 147 pilots and passengers. They have covered a distance of 664 miles and made twelve landings, which, the speaker said, is a tribute to the newest method of transportation. Not the slightest mishap has in any way marred the pleasure of the trip.

SHIP LINE DEAL BOON TO COAST

Lassco and Matson Merger Means Co-ordination

Local Port to Gain Great Hawaii Line Vessels

Sherman and Chandler Busy on Broadened Affairs

A pooling of resources—ships, organizations, good will and finances—of the two leading steamship organizations of San Francisco and Los Angeles is being effected through the consolidation of the Los Angeles Steamship Company of Los Angeles and the Matson Navigation Company of San Francisco for the more effective co-ordination of effort of both companies in the development and expansion of their trade, according to an announcement last night by Gen. M. H. Sherman, president of the local company.

"It is the feeling of our board of directors," said Gen. Sherman "that the consolidation of all the interests of the Lassco and Matson lines will increase the effectiveness of the different steamship services on which the two lines are now engaged; will prove of far-reaching benefit to the ports of San Francisco and Los Angeles and will be a strong factor in the development of closer harmony between the two great cities of California."

FLEETS IN OPERATION

The Matson Line operates a fleet of ships headed by the speedy, modern liner Malolo from San Francisco to Hawaii; also, through the Oceanic Company, Matson operates a fleet of ships between San Francisco, Hawaii, the South Seas and Australia and for this service now has under construction three new liners which will cost approximately $24,000,000. Lassco operates the coastwise liners Yale and Harvard between the three California ports of San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, and a fleet of ships headed by its flagship S.S. City of Los Angeles between Los Angeles and Hawaiian ports.

The consolidation of the two lines will result in the routing of certain of the Matson ships between the ports of Los Angeles and Hawaii and as soon as the new liners for the Australian service are ready, will provide also sailings for some of these ships to the Antipodes from Los Angeles. The port of Los Angeles with its increasing appeal to the travel public of the United States will thus share with San Francisco in the increased facilities to be provided by Matson liners in addition to those already afforded by Lassco.

COMPANY TEN YEARS OLD

The Los Angeles Steamship Company was organized ten years ago to take over and operate the liners Yale and Harvard in the coastwise business. The first sailing of a ship of this line was that of the Yale to San Francisco in May, 1921. This ship with her sister ship the Harvard, has been maintained in steady operation between the three ports of California, carrying approximately 100,000 people per annum and providing a super-express freight service.

In 1922 Lassco inaugurated a service between Los Angeles and Hawaii which has steadily grown in public favor. In strictly freight service the Matson Line in conjunction with the American-Hawaiian, operates a line of freighters to the Orient and Australia, and Lassco is part owner and Southern California agent for a fleet of freighters on the intercoastal run.

By the terms of the consolidation consummated by the respective managements through the exchange of securities, the identity and personnel of each company are to be maintained intact.

EXECUTIVES MAP SCHEDULE

"Ralph J. Chandler, vice-president and general manager of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, will continue in the same position with his organization handling the interests of the combined companies in Southern California," said Gen. Sherman, "and while in some instances in different parts of the country there may be minor office combinations in the interests of more efficient co-operation, the personnel of both companies will continue substantially as before with the exception that each will have increased responsibilities and considerably increased opportunities for expansion."

Dear George: I have read your list of the eight greatest men in the world's history. Why did you leave out Rev. Bob Shuler? Aren't you educated; or don't you own a radio?

THE COMING MASSACRE

My idea of no place to be is in the line-up of that U.C.L.A. team tonight. It's tough to be run through a sausage grinder when you're not even mad at anybody.

SUCKERS REBEL

The fact that fight clubs in Boston and New York have been closed is evidenced as a sign of hard times. If, however, the dawn of reason is encouraging, these shut-downs would seem to promise well.

Both Madison Square Garden and the Boston arena had become sucker foundries. For brazen, iron-faced bunk nothing has ever been perpetrated in this country equal to the "fight" career of the Italian giant, Carnera.

SPECIAL OCCASIONS

The noble son of a noble father having been arrested for honking his joy after a Santa Barbara football game, Assemblyman Bliss of Carpinteria has decided to do something about it. He announces that he is going to introduce in the Legislature a bill prohibiting officers from arresting honkers on "occasions of festivity and celebration."

Which inspires a traffic police sergeant to write in inquiring when is a "special occasion?"

"I think," he says, "the special occasion should be posted on one corner of the windshield in letters not less than three inches high; for instance:

"We licked Stanford.

"My wife's gone to the country.

"Light wines and beer."

A TEARFUL BRIDE

With the happy bride weeping through the ceremony, it is not to be wondered that King Boris of Bulgaria was reported as looking glum through his wedding.

Poor, unhappy children, with a couple of crowns jammed down on their heads and boosted up on a poverty-stricken throne. They are in about the position of a football substitute sent in to be mauled in the last quarter of a game that is hopelessly lost.

THE ENDLESS CONFLICT

If a border war starts between China and Russia we will not see the end of it in our lifetime. These things are endless.

The border wars in England between the Roman garrisons and the Celtic tribes of the borders lasted 500 years. And then only ended when Imperial Rome collapsed and faded away.

Mercury Again Will Be High

Continuing to give Los Angeles a period of summer-like weather, the sun yesterday boosted the mercury to a high mark of 91 deg.—15 deg. above the October normal.

Today again will be warm with a low rate of humidity, the United States Weather Bureau reported last night. The humidity was down to 5 per cent yesterday, as compared to a normal reading of 50 per cent.

A similar condition is expected to increase the fire hazard today and resulted in a warning last night by the weather men.

REWARD OFFER OF CITY INVALID

Bowron Decision Creates State Precedent

Verdict Returned in Suit Over Police Slayer

Pay for Criminal Capture Held State Function

Holding that the city of Los Angeles has no power to offer a reward for the apprehension and conviction of a murderer, Superior Judge Bowron yesterday decided for the defendant in the suit of Patrick Griffin against the city. Judge Bowron filed a comprehensive memorandum of opinion with the decision, which establishes a judicial precedent in California.

Griffin is a Chicago police officer. On August 22, 1925, Policeman Wylie E. Smith of Los Angeles was killed in this city while trying to arrest two bandits. The City Council authorized the Mayor to offer a $2500 reward and the acting Mayor caused the reward notice to be circulated.

On November 4, 1925, Griffin, in Chicago, arrested Edward Franta, who was tried here, convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment. Griffin claimed the $2500 reward, but his claim was rejected. The city contended that Griffin, being a police officer, was not entitled to claim a reward, and also raised the question of a municipality's power to offer and pay a reward.

Judge Bowron, after having the case under submission for several months, decided for the city. His opinion holds that the posting of rewards for criminals is a State function not delegated to municipalities. After citing authorities to support this he wrote:

"It must be held that the city of Los Angeles does not possess the power, either through its charter or under the provisions of the general laws . . . to offer a reward for the apprehension and conviction of a murderer, and that the payment of such a reward would be nothing more or less than a gift of public funds."

The city is defending a similar suit for the Hickman arrest reward in the United States District Court.

HIGHWAY HELD KEY TO TRADE

country have increased 350 per cent. Our pleasure tourists alone spend about $300,000,000 a year in Canada, and the Canadian motor tourists spend about $100,000,000 annually in this country. The explanation lies in one word—roads.

"Construction of the international highway will be followed by a phenomenal growth in business in Los Angeles," said the speaker. "We have the second largest Mexican city in the world. In addition, we have nearly 40,000 school children studying the Spanish language. It is through kindness, understanding and friendship that we shall sell ourselves to the people of Mexico, Central and South America. Already they are our friends. It is for us to appreciate and develop that friendship."

Mr. McStay paid special tribute to E. D. Lyman, formerly president of the Automobile Club, whose friendly letters to Mexican officials last year were largely responsible for the club's caravan trip into Mexico last March and which paved the way for the recent conference in Los Angeles of Mexican governors and representative citizens of the Southland.

James Smiley, president of the Foreign Trade Club, introduced the speakers, who included Clarence Matson, who discussed the eighteen-day good will trip into Mexico, to be started next Tuesday afternoon by 165 members and friends of the Chamber of Commerce.

Another speaker was A. E. Norrbom, who spoke in favor of the Electric Railway Tax Equalization Amendment, No. 4 on the ballot.

Pioneer Woman's Funeral Sunday

Last rites for Mrs. Ida Eudora Holdzkom, Southland pioneer, civic worker and Gold Star mother, who died Wednesday at her home, 303 South New Hampshire street, will be conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday at Mark Shaw's funeral parlor, Fifth and E streets, San Bernardino. Interment will be in Mountain View Cemetery.

Mrs. Holdzkom, who was 65 years of age, came to Southern California from Illinois forty years ago, living in San Bernardino and Imperial until 1925 when the family moved to Los Angeles. She was a member of the Friday Morning Club and other women's organizations. The American Legion Post in Imperial was named for her son, Paul, who was killed in France. She leaves her husband and four daughters.

EL CENTRO OFFICER'S WIFE SOUGHT HERE

Aid of the Sheriff's office here was requested yesterday in a search for Mrs. Katherine Campbell, 30 years of age, wife of R. E. Campbell, United States immigration officer, who disappeared from her home in El Centro last Wednesday morning. Mrs. Campbell, who is the mother of three children, was last seen while on the way to the store, according to the report.

COUNTY REIMBURSED FOR LOSS

Defalcations of ex-Employee Covered

Surety Company Presents Voucher

C. C. Reed, left, supervisor of the National Surety Company, hands voucher to County Auditor Payne.

County Auditor Payne was handed a draft for $8789.20 yesterday by C. C. Reed, supervisor for the National Surety Company of New York, to cover the defalcations of Harry H. Imy, sent to San Quentin penitentiary, where he will serve from one to fourteen years for padding the pay roll in the office of County Architect Muck, where he was chief clerk.

Imy obtained $8911 over a period of two and one-half years by carrying fictitious employees on the pay roll. When apprehended he went to his home and attempted suicide by turning on the gas. He was found unconscious by neighbors and was taken to the hospital and revived. Later he confessed to the forgeries, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced. After his confession he paid back to the county $121.80, leaving $8789.20 still due.

Several years ago County Auditor Payne convinced the Board of Supervisors that losses through forgery could occur, which might not be covered under the fidelity bond under which all county employees holding positions of trust are bonded. A forgery bond with the National Surety Company was taken out and yesterday that company reimbursed the county. There is no loss to the taxpayers.

of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, spoke in behalf of the local organization and extended the hearty welcome of his group and pledged their hearty co-operation in aiding the visiting group in accomplishing the ends outlined by Mr. Trippet.

Many notable members of the flying party were introduced to the gathering and were received with enthusiastic applause.

The tour started this morning at 8:45 from the Municipal Airport at San Francisco, and took the flyers to Oakland, Santa Rosa, Red Bluff, Corning, Marysville and to this city. The party had lunch with the Chamber of Commerce at Red Bluff and were with large delegations of citizens at all stops. At Marysville a group of high school girls served Sutter county sliced peaches with home-made cake as a compliment of their Chamber of Commerce.

Leaving here tomorrow morning the tour will visit Stockton, Modesto, Merced, Fresno, Visalia, Strathmore and Bakersfield. Six or seven ships with approximately twelve passengers are scheduled to join the tour at Bakersfield, which will make the caravan more than fifty strong for the invasion of Coachella Valley, which is supposed to be a high spot of the tour. At least one additional woman pilot is scheduled to meet the tour in Bakersfield, with perhaps two or three additional woman members of the party.

AVIATRIX WILL JOIN CHAMBER FLYERS

Mildred Morgan, Beverly Hills society matron and winner of second place in the women's national air derby from Long Beach to Chicago last summer, will hop off from Grand Central Air Terminal at 2 p.m. today for Bakersfield, where she will join the junior chamber good-will flyers, accompanying them on the remainder of their tour of the State. The flyers will spend tomorrow night at El Centro and return here Sunday, arriving at Municipal Airport about 3:30 p.m.

Mrs. Morgan is the wife of Thomas E. Morgan, vice-president of Pickwick Corporation.

Rhodes Avenue Veto Overridden

Another of Mayor Porter's vetoes was overridden yesterday by the City Council, this time for the paving of Rhodes avenue. The Council took this action on recommendation of the Public Works Committee, which found that the protests against the work came from nonresident property owners, while the people living on the street wanted the paving.

Last week the Council overrode the Mayor's veto of the ordinance calling for the improvement of King street between G and F streets.

YOUTH TO PLAY ROLE OF CHRIST

Universalist Children to Present Drama Based on Boyhood of Jesus

"The Shadow," a Junior Passion Play, presenting the forecast of the teachings and sorrows of Jesus in his life as a boy, will be offered Sunday evening at the First Universalist Church, 1373 South Alvarado street.

The part of the 12-year-old son of Joseph will be taken by Grant Ellwood Shepard, who played the junior lead in the Long Beach annual Miracle Play. Other characters are played by Robert Simpson, Lucille Barrowman, Evelyn Walmsley, George Malsbary, Allen Ruwet, Onolee Geddes, Bertine Dyer, Harris Wheeler. The play is directed by Mrs. Sheldon Shepard and staged by Jack Shields and Ray Chafe.

Dr. Sheldon Shepard, the author, is well known for his Pomona College Bible plays, Long Beach Miracle plays and short plays produced by the Pulpit Theater.

"The Shadow," presents incidents in the life of Jesus on the way home from the visit to Jerusalem after his arguments with the learned men. His version of the affair is given, together with humorous and pathetic incidents of his contact with the boys and girls of Nazareth.

A prize will be awarded to the winning sorority.

COSMETOLOGIST FINED FOR STRIKING SISTER

J. W. Sullivan, 34 years of age, who conducts a school of cosmetology at 551 South Broadway, was fined $200 yesterday with the alternative of spending 100 days in jail following conviction before Municipal Judge Marchant of having struck his sister, Ethel Sullivan, 32, during a quarrel at the beauty school.

BANK SUSPECT WAIVES HEARING

Edward Jackson Willing to Return to Mississippi

Theft of $72,000 Pay Roll as Teller Charged

Safety Deposit Box Found to Contain $23,000

Edward Jackson, said to be Harold H. Edwards, absconding teller of the First National Bank of Laurel, Miss., appeared yesterday before United States Commissioner Head and waived a hearing on removal to Meridian, Miss., for trial in Federal Court. He was held and ordered removed, subject to approval of the United States District Court here.

It is charged that Edwards embezzled $72,000 of bank funds. Jackson denied he is Edwards but said he was willing to return to Meridian.

Police and private detectives yesterday reported the discovery of $23,000 in a safety deposit box in a Hollywood bank, held in the name of Jackson. In the meantime, it was reported, searches are being made in Baltimore, where two other safety deposit boxes are held in the name of Edwards.

It is charged that Edwards took a lumber camp pay roll of $72,000 August 11, last.

FLOOD OF GOLD POURS IN CHEST

counted for, while the Chandler group, with a quota of $500,000 reports only 17.4 per cent of its total. R. H. Ballard explained that the two largest gifts, which added so substantially to the showing of his group, were the previously reported $110,000 from the Los Angeles Clearinghouse and $25,000 from Tom May, his family and store.

Campaign Chairman J. A. H. Kerr said that again this year the impression has gone abroad that chest workers receive large salaries for their efforts, and this is used by many, he said, as an excuse for not giving to the chest.

"Once and for all," said Mr. Kerr, "I would like to spike that rumor. Not one cent is paid to the president of the Community Chest, the officers, the directors, the campaign chairman or the 15,000 volunteer workers. Every one of those persons gives his or her time and energy freely and unstintingly without remuneration. The general manager of the chest receives a salary for year-around service, and his salary is one of the smallest among those of chest general managers in the United States. During the campaign it is necessary to employ a staff of workers, whose salaries are smaller than those paid in most other cities, and their services are dispensed with immediately after the campaign closes. These are absolute facts and I would like the people of this community to give heed to them."

Music for the day was supplied by the Rose Room Orchestra, under the direction of Nick Pontrelly.

Reports from the residential district, of which Mrs. Albert Crutcher is chairman, will feature the noon meeting today, at which Bishop John J. Cantwell will be the speaker.

Chinese Girls to Vie for Queen

Local Chinese girls will be invited to compete for the role of Queen of the Pagoda festival Fah Topp Wui, to be given in San Francisco December 4 to 14, according to word received yesterday from the Bay City. The winner will be determined by balloting and will receive as first prize a round trip to Honolulu. The next ten will be crowned princesses and awarded merchandise as prizes.

Preparations for the festival are being made by San Francisco merchants, assisted by a delegation of thirty Los Angeles Chinese now visiting the Bay City on a good-will tour. Proceeds from the affair will go to the Chinese Hospital endowment fund.

AUTO THEFTS IN HAWAII DON'T HAPPEN, SAYS JUDGE

Here's a tip for automobile theft insurance salesmen: Don't bother to go to the Hawaiian Islands; that is, on business.

According to James L. Coke, former Chief Justice of the Hawaiian Supreme Court, there just isn't any business for automobile theft insurance firms.

"For one thing," said the visitor at the Biltmore, "where can the automobile thief go after he steals the car? He must either abandon the car or drive it over a bluff."

Of course, when you get down to the basic factors, it's all due to the water which surrounds the islands. Water, when you have enough of it in the right place, as the Hawaiians have, is a deterrent to crime, the judge said. Not only automobile thievery, but all crimes are reduced, in the judge's opinion, by the escape problem created by the ocean.

Judge Coke is now engaged in the private practice of law in the islands.

GOODRICH TO EXPAND PRODUCTION

Tire Company Will Make New Puncture-Proof Tube Here, Says Manager

Expansion of production at the local plant of the Pacific Goodrich Rubber Company, including the manufacture of a new puncture-proof inner tube, yesterday was forecast for the immediate future by S. B. Robertson, vice-president and general manager, speaking at a conference of Goodrich representatives in the Commercial Club. At present the consumption of tires exceeds production, Robertson stated, making expedient the proposed increase of activity.

Manufacture of the new tube will begin December 1, next. It is known as an "air container" and is patented. Machinery is now being installed under the direction of F. Nied, factory superintendent.

Robertson predicted the new puncture-sealing tube will become an important factor in the reduction of motor hazards.

Judge Decrees Wife Entitled to Amusement

Every wife deserves some entertainment outside the home, Superior Judge Hahn ruled yesterday in denying Fred Reynolds a divorce from Bertha A. Reynolds. The husband, a Torrance salesman, sought a decree on the grounds that his wife craved entertainment and clothes.

"I think your wife—every wife—is entitled to some outside entertainment," observed Judge Hahn. "Decree denied."

Rouge on Coat Brings Divorce

Rouge and face powder don't get on gentlemen's coats at boxing matches, concluded Mrs. Verde Harris Plagge, as she prepared to file a divorce suit against her husband.

And the evidence against Edward Francis Plagge, radio operator, in Superior Judge Scott's court yesterday had to do largely with the defendant sitting in automobiles with women on dark streets.

In addition, Mrs. Plagge testified that her husband gave her only four dresses and four pairs o shoes in four years, and expected her to feed the family on $1 a day. Judge Scott granted the divorce.

GITTELSON, TICKET BROKER, DIVORCED

Harry Gittelson, theater-ticket broker, was divorced by Mrs Doris Gittelson in Superior Judge Scott's court yesterday after testimony that Gittelson had deserted her after four years of married life. By terms of a property settlement approved by Judge Scott, Gittelson agreed to support his wife and two minor children.

Retired Rancher Shoots Himself Through Heart

"Life is too complicated and painful," wrote W. Lionel Roberts, 59-year-old retired rancher, in a note to his wife, Winnifred, early yesterday morning. Then he shot himself through the heart. Mrs. Roberts heard the shot from another bedroom in their home at 901 South Wilton Place, and rushed to her husband's side.

Roberts also left a note to his daughter, Sylvia, expressing similar sentiments and apologizing for leaving her without money. Mrs. Roberts told detectives her husband had been in ill health for some time.

False Castles Bring Divorce

"Castles in Spain" won her hand, Mrs. Monona Williams complained yesterday in asking a divorce from Herbert M. Williams. They married July 5, last, and separated September 15, the wife said.

"Before we married, he told me he was a wealthy contractor. After we married he admitted he was practically penniless.

Superior Judge Collier granted her a decree.

GAS TAX SHARES TOTALED

Los Angeles County Received $4,540,192 From State for Road Work in Past Year

Los Angeles county's share of the road-improvement gas-tax funds received from the State was $4,540,192.54 during the fiscal year ending June 30, last, according to a report compiled by County Auditor Payne.

The biggest portion of the money received went to the city of Los Angeles, the amount the city received being $898,976.97.

The automobile license tax fund for the same period received by the county from the State was $1,704,819.70, the report shows. Of this sum the city of Los Angeles received $854,870 for its good roads fund.

From the automobile license tax fund the county also allocated to the city the sum of $114,280 without it being assigned to any special road improvement projects.

The report further shows that Los Angeles county has received during the present fiscal year, from June to October, the sum of $1,259,315.56 from the State automobile license money to be used as a good roads fund. From this the city of Los Angeles has been given $550,410 for specific improvements and $231,326 in unallocated funds.

No gasoline tax special road improvement fund payment has been made to the county during the present fiscal year which began July 1, last.

Officers Report Youth Bit Them

Accused of possession of liquor, violation of the county drunk ordinance and resisting an officer, Phillip Barry, 23 years of age, 1731 South Vermont avenue, yesterday was held under bail of $350 following arraignment before Justice of the Peace Webster of Malibu township. He is scheduled to appear in the same court next Wednesday for hearing on the charges.

Barry was arrested early yesterday morning by Constable McNab and Deputy Constable Jones when they stopped an automobile in which he was riding as a passenger on the Roosevelt Highway. According to report, Barry threw a bottle of liquor over an embankment and bit the officers when they sought to take him into custody.

REVIEW OF BIRD DECISION URGED

State Files Appeals Court Plea on Issues

Rehearing on Slaying Case of Sportsman Asked

Settlement of Law Question Declared Necessary

A petition for a rehearing in the case of Maj. Owen R. Bird, Los Angeles sportsman, granted a new trial on a charge of having slain his friend, Percival G. Watson, was filed with the Appellate Court yesterday by Dep. Atty.-Gen. Richards. Bird was convicted of manslaughter after a trial on a murder charge.

Granting of the petition is necessary, the State declares, to obtain uniformity of decision and the settlement of an important question of law; namely, whether that part of Section 809 of the Penal Code as amended in 1927, is constitutional. The section authorizes the charging in an information of any offense or offenses shown by the evidence taken before the magistrate to have been committed.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts resorted to the procedure outlined in the section under dispute after Maj. Bird had been ordered to be held for manslaughter by two Municipal Court judges. The Appellate Court held that a person accused of a felony is entitled to a hearing before and a commitment by a magistrate in lieu of an indictment by the grand jury. Section 809, the court held, confers judicial powers on the prosecutor.

OFFICERS NAMED BY WRITERS

Rupert Hughes Retained as President of Literary Group at Yearly Meeting

Rupert Hughes was re-elected president of the Writers' Club at the annual meeting of the organization held last night at the clubhouse, 6700 Sunset Boulevard. Arrangements were made for a get-together meeting with the Wampus Club officials. This organization, it was announced last night, has decided to merge with the Writers' Club.

Other officers named are E. Percy Heath, first vice-president; Clara Berangar, second vice-president; John Jasper, treasurer, and Jefferson Moffit, secretary. A board of directors composed of the following also was selected: Harry Brand, Madeline Brendels, Alfred A. Cohn, Charles Dillon, John F. Goodrich, Martin Justice, Mary H. O'Connor, Rich Reeve, Joseph Sherman and Waldemar Young.

The club membership is composed of authors, screen writers and others successful in the field of literature and drama. One hundred and fifty members were present at the meeting last night.

Catapulting of Navy Seaplanes Shown in Film

A giant catapult which launches seaplanes from decks of battleships as an aid to the Navy in wartime service is shown in action in The Times-Universal Newsreel this week in leading Southern California theaters.

Exceptionally fine close-ups of the Army-Yale game, which ended in a 7-7 tie, and in which Albie Booth was injured, also are shown, as are many other interesting pictures of important events the world over.

Additional information concerning this schedule can be obtained by calling REpublic 3171 and asking about Newsreel No. 87.

Oil Workman Dies in Plunge

L. P. Wilkie, 20 years of age, 934 Elm street, Long Beach, was injured fatally last night in a fall from an oil derrick on the Goodfield Oil Company property, Avenue 32 and the Speedway. He was fixing a light on the top of the sixty-foot derrick when he lost his balance and plunged to the earth.

He died in the ambulance en route to the Venice Emergency Hospital. His body was taken to the Kirkelle, Bernard & Peek mortuary.

VETERAN IN HOT WATER FIGHTING FOR FREE BATH

In a cell in City Jail serving a two-day sentence is Theodore J. Sherwood, 84 years of age who once was a wealthy cattleman in South Dakota but now owns a small grocery at 1285 Sayre avenue near Van Nuys, where he lives alone.

Mr. Sherwood does not believe the Commonwealth of California or the city of Los Angeles has a right to tax a man for putting a bathtub in his home. He says he fought for the flag in the Civil War faced death on battlefields, endured hardships and has earned the "right to keep myself clean" without paying a tax for it.

Municipal Judge Curtis and a half-dozen members of the complaint division of the building department argued over a period of weeks with the veteran. There is a law requiring permits for installation of plumbing, they told him. The permit costs about $2.50. Will Mr. Sherwood please get it?

"I am a good citizen," doggedly insists the old man. "Why should a man pay for the right to take a bath in his own home and keep himself clean? I'm self-supporting. The State doesn't have to keep me in a soldiers' home and pay for my keep. I fought for the flag in the Civil War . . ."

Week after week this has gone on and now that the perplexed authorities have gone to the extreme of putting the old fellow in jail in the hope of breaking the deadlock, they may have to keep him there indefinitely, for Sherwood is as firm as ever that a man who is a good citizen and has fought for his country ought not to be taxed for putting in a bathtub.

Municipal Judge Curtis imposed the two-day sentence after having once suspended a similar penalty in the hope of compelling the octogenarian to obey the law.

The case came before him after Sherwood had demanded that inspectors from the building department approve the work that had been done in installing the bathroom, a lavatory and a cess pool back of the grocery. The inspectors said they could not do this until the formality of obtaining a permit to do the work had been observed by Sherwood.

Judge Curtis at that time imposed a $20 fine, with the alternative of two days in jail, but suspended the sentence to give Sherwood an opportunity to get the permit. This he declined to do. A bench warrant for his arrest was issued. Judge Curtis again imposed the fine with the alternative of going to jail.

And yesterday Sherwood went to jail.

CARDINAL HAYES RETURNS EAST

Prelate Gratified Over Southland Visit

Visitor Bid Farewell

WITH a heart full of gratification over his week's visit here, His Eminence, Patrick Cardinal Hayes, Archbishop of New York, left Los Angeles yesterday for his home. The private car of George MacDonald of New York, who brought the cardinal here, was filled with gorgeous flowers and baskets of California fruit as the train pulled out of Santa Fe Station, bound first for Grand Canyon where the two will spend a day.

Bishop Cantwell of Los Angeles was principal among those seeing the cardinal off. In the farewell party were also Mgrs. Cawley and Conaty and Father McGucken. Joseph Scott, P. H. O'Neil and other laymen were in the group.

The visitors arrived last Friday. It was His Eminence's third visit to California. He came to consecrate St. Vincent de Paul's Church.

ATHENAEUM OPENING BEGUN

First Event of Series Marking Dedication of Caltech Retreat Attended by Notable Educators

PASADENA, Oct. 30.—Members of the staffs of Mt. Wilson Observatory, Huntington Library and Art Gallery, and California Institute of Technology met tonight at the first formal program to be held in the new Athenaeum, located among the stately oaks which border the eastern edge of the California Institute campus.

Allan C. Balch, whose vision and generosity combined to make possible the $500,000 retreat for the faculty and staffs of this city's great triumvirate of educational and research institutions, presided at the dinner, which marks the first of a series of events that will constitute the formal opening of the Athenaeum. Dr. Max Farrand, director of the Huntington Library, was toastmaster.

The dinner was a private affair at which the facilities of the new building were inspected and ways and means by which the Athenaeum's purpose fully may be realized were discussed.

DINNER SPEAKERS

Among those who gave informal after-dinner talks were: Dr. Walter S. Adams, Mt. Wilson Observatory director; Dr. Robert A. Millikan, executive head of the California Institute; Prof. Hardin Craig of Stanford University, and Dr. Theodore G. Soares, former head of the department of religion at the University of Chicago and now serving as professor of ethics at the California Institute.

The major event marking the Athenaeum opening is scheduled for next Thursday night, when the California Institute Associates will attend a dinner in the new building in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Balch, which will be given by the California Institute trustees.

LECTURES ANNOUNCED

Russell H. Ballard, president of the Institute Associates, will preside at this culminating event.

Speakers will include Henry W. O'Melveny, James R. Page, William Lacy, Dr. William B. Munro, Dr. Albert A. Michelson and Dr. Millikan.

On Tuesday the Athenaeum will be opened for the inspection of California Institute students and their parents.

A series of Thursday night lectures will be held in the Athenaeum, it was announced today by Prof. Clinton Judy, chairman of the entertainment committee. The first of these lectures will be delivered November 13 by Dr. John A. Anderson, Mt. Wilson astronomer, who is in active charge of the selection of the site and construction of the 200-inch telescope.

QUIZ MADE INTO ANGLE DRILLING TIP

State Surveyor at Venice Following Reports of Move to Tap Tideland Oil

Investigation of reports that oil operators at the Venice beach are drilling at an angle to tap oil pools beneath tidelands under the jurisdiction of the Playground and Recreation Department are being investigated by W. E. Kingsbury, State Surveyor-General, according to information furnished the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Commission at its meeting yesterday.

Supt. Hoyt informed the commission it had been reported to him that angle drilling was being conducted by some operators on leases adjoining the public beach and he reported the matter to the State official.

Kingsbury telephoned the commission from Venice that he had arrived on the scene and will make a full investigation. He stated that such drilling is possible, but such methods are held to be illegal.

The commission, which recently protested to the City Council against any drilling operations on property adjoining the beach has been informed by geologists that the greatest pools of oil in the Venice area are beneath the tidelands.

Trading Cash Boxes Results in Pistol Play

Business wasn't so good down at Santa Barbara avenue and Wall streets Wednesday, so Frank Lucente, 38 years of age, proprietor of a shoe store, and C. J. Price, a neighboring merchant, decided to trade cash registers. But Price, possessing a more expensive cash register, demanded a pair of shoes to-boot, and that's where the trouble began.

Price charges Lucente threw his cash register out on the sidewalk and later fired seven shots at him. Price, while rushing across the street and seeking shelter behind a telephone pole, was wounded in the left arm.

Yesterday he signed a complaint against Lucente charging him with attempted murder.

Federal Chief Tells Plan to Improve Inspection

Need of Greater Protection Stressed at Luncheon

Large Group Hears Rogers at Chamber Gathering

Los Angeles may expect an improvement in the quality of its fruit and vegetable supply with the consummation of plans now under way, according to Stanley S. Rogers, chief of the Bureau of Standardization of the California Department of Agriculture. Mr. Rogers discussed the prospective improvement in the highway inspection service of his division at a luncheon meeting at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, of the Agricultural Commissioners Association of Southern California, called by J. P. Coy, San Bernardino, president.

"Los Angeles is the fourth consuming market for fruits and vegetables in the United States," Mr. Rogers declared, and, differing from any other consuming center of the nation, it draws 80 per cent of its supply by truck over the veritable network of paved highways which reach every producing district in the State. "For several years, the State Department of Agriculture and various counties have maintained temporary stations along the highway to check the produce which comes into this market as to whether it meets with the requirements of the State Fruit and Vegetable Standardization Act. This act largely relates to the quality of produce, and is a protection to the consumer."

BROADER ACTIVITIES

"A number of new stations will be established during the next two years, and others which are now seasonal will be made permanent, according to Mr. Rogers. These stations number fourteen at the present time, and are established only to check truck movement into Los Angeles and San Francisco.

"For many years, inspection machinery at point of origin has been set up to protect the eastern consumer, through a careful check on quality before it is loaded on cars," Mr. Rogers said. "We now feel that our local markets, which are primary, are just as much in need of protection as those thousands of miles distant. We find that there is a fruit and vegetable-buying public in Los Angeles of 2,500,000 people, with $1,500,000 in the Bay district who are entitled to the service which has been given eastern consumers."

MANY LEADERS PRESENT

"Another objective is to establish stations as close to producing districts as possible, so that adequate point of origin inspection may be given. This will cut down costs now present in this work at point of delivery, in Los Angeles and San Francisco, as performed by city and county officials."

The meeting brought out a representative group of Southern California commissioners: H. J. Ryan, Los Angeles county; A. E. Botsell, Riverside; A. A. Brock, Orange; B. A. Harrigan, Imperial, and J. P. Coy, San Bernardino. L. Brock, deputy commissioner, represented A. L. Call, Ventura commissioner, and L. V. Shear came for R. L. McLean, San Diego county. Others attending were A. S. Hoyt, administrative assistant, California Department of Agriculture; Paul Wilson, Los Angeles county agricultural commissioner's office; Frank Kramer, State Department of Agriculture, and Dr. George P. Clements, manager of agricultural department, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Woman Lays Injury to Row With Escort

Mrs. Mary Whitaker, 40 years of age, of 660 Sanford, was found last night by motorists lying in the road at Elysian Park Drive and Douglas street. She had a broken arm, and declared her escort, Frederick Behrle, 40, actor, with whom she had gone riding, had thrown her out of his automobile during a quarrel.

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Josephs of 1306½ Montana street, took the woman to a drug store at Sunset Boulevard and Logan street, where they called an ambulance in which Mrs. Whitaker was taken to Hollywood Receiving Hospital.

Detectives went in search of Behrle and say they found him asleep in his automobile at the scene of the asserted quarrel. He was locked up on charges of assault and drunk driving.

Mrs. McPherson Due Back Soon

Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of Angelus Temple, who is recuperating at the home of friends in the White Mountains in New Hampshire, is expected to return to Los Angeles about Thanksgiving, according to F. C. Winters, business manager of the temple.

"She will not begin her work at this time, however," he said. "Just when she will again occupy the pulpit has not been determined. She is recovering, it is true, but very slowly, and we expect it may be some weeks after her return before she is able to enter fully into the activities of the church work."

McKeever Wills Estate to Kin

Almost all the $350,000 estate of Daniel McKeever, Pasadena resident who died in London, Eng., October 3, last, will go to his widow, Flora Lulu McKeeper, and his 11-year-old son, Daniel.

Three sisters, Anne McKeever, Sarah Lyons, and Mary McKeever, will get $1000 each. One-half the income will be paid to Mrs. McKeever and the rest will be held in trust for Daniel, Jr., who will get half of his share when he is 25 years of age, and the other half when he is 30.

Today's Bible Text

Let brotherly love continue. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.—Heb. xiii:1, 2.

ANY HOW

Mr. Gerard has not included the names of Duffield, Mohler and Beatty in his list of famous fifty-nine. We await his alibi on this.

BREAD

The price of flour has flopped to the lowest figures since 1896, in some markets, is the word coming out of Chicago. This may not give the farmer much relief; but it helps the hungry.

ANOTHER THING

We may be far away from little old New York and be lacking the many long slots of Chicago; but at least we are not having to bother with alcohol nor glycerine this time of year to keep our radiators from freezing up.

THE POWER OF THE PALATE

The French long ago raised cooking to the rank of an art. Now the English have promoted it to the status of a profession. The American green apple pie proves that in this country it occupies both positions worthily.

REBIRTH OF PRESIDENTS

Louis Comini of The Dalles, Or., awaited the birth of little Theodore Roosevelt. He already had three Presidents in his family: William McKinley, Abraham Lincoln and Calvin Coolidge. But when Roosevelt arrived the other day he brought along an extra. Not having made any arrangements for another Chief Executive, the youngster was called Mussolini.

SALE OF AN ANTIQUE

If the value of an antique depends on its age and its history, the Greek Orthodox Church has just put up for sale the rarest and most hallowed treasure in the estimation of three religious sects. This is Jacob's Well at the ancient town of Niblus, revered alike by Christians, Jews and Moslems. Its commercial value is nil. Also it would be a risky business for any purchaser to try to hold it as private property. Yet sentiment can put a price upon it to render it almost unsalable.

POOR SUPERVISION

Evidently Great Britain needs more business in government. By their own confession a most important paper on British foreign policy in Palestine was given out as a government measure without the knowledge of Prime Minister MacDonald or his two first lieutenants, Chancellor Snowden and Foreign Secretary Henderson. Such an admission will hardly strengthen the confidence of the British electorate in the ability of the Labor Cabinet to run the country.

GONE CHICAGO

Amos 'n Andy have shaken off the confetti of Hollywood and gone Chicago again. Having completed their talkie, "Check and Double Check," they returned to look after the American Taxicab Company, Incorporated. However, they did not have to take the ties to get home—even if they did hire an ex-convict to be the cashier in their new eating-house adventure. Already $3,000,000 worth of business has been signed up from their Los Angeles trip. Andy can now marry Madam Queen. However, it would hardly seem discreet to take so much money back to the Windy City in one lump.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

A group airplane visit to twenty-odd California cities, covering the State from El Centro to Red Bluff, and adding Yuma, Ariz., started Wednesday in the second annual good-will tour. The tour, sponsored by the Southern California Chapter National Aircraft Association, the California Aircraft Industries Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce of this city, is intended to advertise aviation and commercial air transport.

In other words, instead of bemoaning the business depression, which has hit the aircraft industry as well as other businesses, the aircraft folk are going out after business, which looks like the most promising way to get it. There are some sixty planes in the tour, the number being deemed sufficient to demonstrate "quantity air travel."

This is the right spirit for all business.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

The proposal to set the clocks ahead during summer, which will appear as No. 7 on next Tuesday's ballot, is an effort to fasten upon the people of this State an eastern innovation which has no relation to local conditions. Daylight saving, so called, is popular among city residents of the eastern seaboard and equally unpopular among its rural residents. It was nation-wide for a year, in 1918, and was abandoned the following year in 63,000 of the 65,000 communities of the country, including all California.

It was abandoned with good reason. The confusion in railroad schedules, the trouble it makes for recipients and shippers of freight, the confusion of mails, the confusion in restaurant and hotel schedules, all make it undesirable.

When it is recalled that trains, ships, interstate busses, commercial air lines, telegraph and telephone services, United States mails and other Federal agencies will necessarily continue to operate on standard time, it will be seen that under "daylight saving" the average citizen will have to run his affairs on two different time schedules and that to most it would be an intolerable nuisance.

Some businesses, such as stock and bond houses which must keep in touch with the New York Stock Exchange, would find it an advantage. Some businesses can adjust themselves to it, with a wrench. But to most businesses it would be highly disadvantageous. It would be especially so to tourist traffic, to agriculture and to motion pictures, and these three are so important to California that they are entitled to be considered above most other interests.

Laboring men generally oppose it and so do their wives. The average workman now starts his day at 6 a.m. Under "daylight saving" he would have to shift to what is really 5 a.m. for rising, and would have to go to bed an hour earlier, before the evening noises have quieted down and before it is really cool. Restful sleep, so necessary if workmen are to keep good health, would be difficult under such circumstances.

The schedules of childhood, particularly for school children, would be disrupted by the change. Two of the "daylight-saving" months are school months and both adjustments would come at specially difficult periods during the school year. The early bedtime of childhood would fall, under daylight saving, while it is still light, noisy and hot, and the youngsters would be apt not to get their normal and necessary rest.

Motion-picture production is now geared to the actual hours of daylight and to standard time, and could not be readjusted without a great deal of difficulty and loss. To shift working hours by an hour would mean, in many cases, an hour lost in the morning and an hour for which overtime would have to be paid in the afternoon. Such an addition to overhead could not be sustained by many studios. Motion-picture exhibitors find by experience that theater revenues in daylight-saving cities decrease 20 to 25 per cent, due to the disinclination of their customers to go indoors before actual nightfall. In daylight-saving communities many theaters close altogether during the months affected.

Agriculture's objection to daylight saving is that agricultural operations cannot be adjusted to any clock; they are ruled by natural time and weather conditions, and standard time is adjusted to natural time while daylight-saving time is not. The farmer must be out of step with the daylight savers, and there are enough hardships in a farmer's life without that. Those who must make scheduled shipments such as dairymen, poultrymen and truck gardeners must adjust themselves to daylight saving whether they like it or not and upon them it imposes a genuine hardship.

The disadvantages of daylight saving are all greater in California than in the East, and its advantages all less. The daylight-saving initiative should be rejected by the voters, as daylight-saving laws have uniformly been rejected five times by the State Legislature. In this matter the legislators have represented their constituents.

MOTOR-VEHICLE TAXATION

While the present method of taxing automobiles as property—as distinct from taxing them as users of the roads—is in some respects unsatisfactory, the proposal to have them taxed by the State as an agency of the municipalities, as outlined in Proposal No. 18 on the November ballot, merely proposes to substitute new defects for old ones and is no real improvement.

The principal thing urged in its favor is that about 20 per cent of the cars at present escape taxation. But these tax-dodging cars can readily be located by vigilant assessors—every one of them has a license record—and it is not necessary to inconvenience 80 per cent of the motorists to get at them.

A tax imposed by the Legislature would necessarily be uniform throughout the State. But the same property is not worth the same amount throughout the State, nor are local tax rates the same. These tax rates are roughly proportional to the amount of benefit the taxpayer receives, at present; it is worth more to live in Los Angeles, for example, than in less developed places and costs more, in taxes and otherwise; also the opportunities are better. The operation of this principle would be upset by a uniform State property tax.

Furthermore, cars in the hands of dealers would escape taxation under this proposal, since it provides only for tax collection at the time of registration. There is a difference of opinion as to whether veterans owning cars could claim their constitutional exemption or not. And the tax payment would be demanded at a time when the owner has other heavy demands upon his pocketbook.

These and other objections loom up against the proposal and it should be defeated. Vote "No" on No. 18.

LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

ONE day's headlines tell that a submarine has established a new depth record, that Hawks has set a new speed mark for airplanes and that somebody has established a new altitude record.

The world do move. It never goes back — to buggies, booze or standards it has discarded. Each generation loses some things which were good but more that were bad, gains some things which are bad but more which are good.

The "days of chivalry," seen through the half-shut eyes of some romantic novelist, may seem to have had advantages, yet chivalry is a far more general thing today than ever it was before. Chivalry is the protection of the weak by the strong. The noble knights of old flung money among the poor—and naturally the strongest and greediest of the crowd got most of it, the weak and helpless got nothing. The Community Chest is a far more chivalrous means of dispensing largess. There are innumerable better ways of helping the weak nowadays than the strong of other days ever seemed to think of. And as for daring—in these days when men fly across the sea and to the poles and across unmapped wastes and lay plans to try to reach the moon, who can doubt that men are as brave and bold as they ever were in any age? There are hundreds of more boys in Los Angeles who have to be restrained from risking their lives in aerial adventures which would have struck terror to the hearts of most of the swashbuckling knights of the "age of chivalry."

More About Devil Grass

The other day we wrote a piece about devil grass, the despair of the gardener who tries to fight it, but the friend of man after he gives in and lets devil grass have its way. Since then we have been denounced by some correspondents and approved by others, the main contention being over our declaring that devil grass is a friend of man.

E. P. Barclay, who was a diamond engineer in the African Congo, gives a testimonial to devil grass which is impressive. They could hardly complete a road over there, he says, before the jungle would reclaim it. And when rains came it would wash away. Finally they planted the roads in devil grass, and that "paving" not only held the roads against rains but held them against the encroachments of the jungle.

Strategy in the Jungle

Barclay spent several years in Africa, and he says strategy was the biggest asset they had over there. Roads and the friendship of the tribesmen were two things imperatively needed, so Barclay had to get both by strategy. There was a powerful chief, or king, whose domain they had to traverse, and who was less friendly than they could wish. Barclay took a small but glossy motor car and a gang of men over to that king's headquarters, made him a present of the car, had the men build a mile of road, and taught the king to drive. The king was tickled to death. He drove up and down the little strip of road Barclay had built for him with ever-increasing delight, confidence and speed. He soon became so adept in handling his toy he sighed for more worlds to conquer—and commanded his subjects to build more roads. Soon he could speed from village to village, throughout his kingdom, over pretty fair roads maintained by fervent tribesmen who knew if they didn't give their king roads he would give them death—and the gringo diamond-seekers could go over the same roads in ease and comfort, without facing the tremendous problem of upkeep.

Fooled African Public Only

You might assume that any man with such ability to work the public for his own benefit would come home and go into the road-contracting business here. But Barclay didn't. He is an inventor.

Another Chance for Millions

Recently the Leeside published an offer from Clark T. Henderson to take investors in on the ground floor in the marketing of an inescapable snake trap, the idea being to place a certain kind of wire fencing in a snake path with a large china egg on each side of it. The voracious snake, Henderson theorizes, will swallow the egg on one side, which is too big to go through the wire netting, then start to crawl through, swallow the egg on the other side, and be held prisoner by two uncrushable and indigestible eggs.

Henderson's letter brought an immediate response from Bernard MacDonald of Oceanside, which we hesitated to publish, reasonable as it seemed, because so many thousands of people trust this colyum implicitly in all its tips to investors. But last week, while out on the desert, we interviewed the skeleton of a rattlsnake and got full confirmation for MacDonald's theory. "I do not want to throw cold water on any logically sound commercial enterprise, such as Mr. Henderson proposes," writes MacDonald, "but I must inform people that it would be much wiser for them to put their money into my horned-toad farm, which will raise and market horned toads to resort owners and all others who wish to be rid of snakes.

"The idea for the horned-toad farm came to me while I was in Mexico, when my moso taught me the habits of horned toads. The h.t. lives on flies, but is extremely lazy, and often flies are scarce in arid regions. Knowing that snakes swallow their food alive, he takes a chance. When the snakes go forth in search of supper he hops in the way of one and gets swallowed. As soon as he realizes that he is well under the control of the snake's powerful swallowing muscles he presses out his collar and the ring of horns pierces the snake's interior lining. The snake soon dies, writhing in pain, and the toad digs his way out and happily sits around waiting for the snake's body to draw flies. Thus the toad is kept supplied with flies for days. And that is why, near a snake's skeleton, you are always likely to find a horned toad."

HORNED TOAD FARM

MOSES A. HAMBURGER

Merchant, banker, philanthropist and leader in the fight for industrial freedom in Los Angeles, Moses A. Hamburger, who died Wednesday at 70 years of age, set his mark upon his community in many beneficial ways. His firm belief in the city's future, gained in a survey of the State fifty years ago, never wavered, and he did as much as any one man to further that future.

Born in Sacramento in 1860, Mr. Hamburger came here with his father and brother in 1881, founding a tiny store which grew moderately into a fair-sized establishment. In the early '90's its proprietors had the courage and intelligence to oppose an attempted boycott directed by union labor against The Times, when a few other merchants were frightened into withdrawing their advertising. The Hamburger store was then itself boycotted and prospered tremendously as a result. The boycott, applied intermittently for years, together with progressive merchandising policies and consistent and extensive advertising, placed the store in front rank in the city.

Moses A. Hamburger was one of the leaders of the open-shop fight and prominent in the councils of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, which established the principle of the square deal for both capital and labor in this city. He also took a leading part in the Chamber of Commerce and was at various times a director in banks and a theater owner, having built the Majestic Theater. Hamburger's department store was sold to the May Company in 1923 and his last mercantile interest, Blackstone's, was closed out in 1929, when he retired.

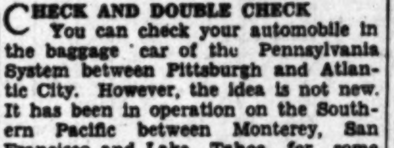
His charitable gifts were large and included the establishment of the Hamburger Home at a cost of $250,000, and many donations to hospitals and other benevolences.

CUPID

A California scientist says that the aborigines were not so hot with the bow and arrow. If he would come over to Hollywood and investigate a little elf in a silk hat, he might have to change his findings.

CHECK AND DOUBLE CHECK

You can check your automobile in the baggage car of the Pennsylvania System between Pittsburgh and Atlantic City. However, the idea is not new. It has been in operation on the Southern Pacific between Monterey, San Francisco and Lake Tahoe for some time.



TO THE NEIGHBOR'S ROOSTER

By James J. Montague

I like the dawn as well as you;
  I like to watch the great sun rise,
And see the fresh and tender blue
  That tints the early morning skies.
But I at least have some regard
  For those who love to sleep, and so
I do not stand out in the yard
  And crow.

Moreover, in the velvet night
  When I am roused by some strange sound
And feel a trifling touch of fright
  I do not perch upon a mound,
And, like a savage wolf at bay
  In some remote Canadian wood,
Give tongue till I have waked the Neighborhood.

There is no music in your voice,
  Which vibrates through the whole outdoors,
With far more discord you rejoice
  Than does a tiger when it roars.
And yet you send it far and near Till it resounds on every side,
And look on it, it would appear,
  With pride.

I have but little spite, but still
  I hear that cock-a-doodle-do
And feel a very pleasant thrill
  To know that some day you'll be stew.
And then at daylight's early glow
  You cannot kick up such a row;
I only wish that you might know
  That now!

Cock-a-doodle-doo

HALLOWEEN

BY W. L. Y. DAVIS

The roads are piled with pumpkins and the windows filled with cats. For it is All Halloween!

Halloween may have been started by the Druids or the goddess, Pomona, but it did not stop there. It is the most up-to-date institution in the calendar.

The loose gate that can hang on to its hinges and the garbage can that can retain its position in the best society over this week-end may have promise of another year of life. Even bricks wrapped in ribbons teach humility. And dollars have a way of slipping off into the hedges to arrest the cupidity of travelers.

The real spirit of Halloween is the rollicking good humor of the youngsters swathed in sheets. You might as well try to suppress young America in season as to attempt to compress California fresh sunlit air into a tank. The police are run ragged once a year; but they seem to have a fellow-feeling for the kids and are a little soft in arresting the sins of their own past.

One thing is certain: Electric brushes have swept the witches out of the sky. They have disposed of the spell cast by black cats. Owls are not the only wise ones. What superstition can stand the white light of this generation? The finger of fun is the best debunker. A ghost hates nothing worse than a peal of laughter. The attics and cellars have been cleared of all inhabitants save rats.

Modern science takes its stand on the proposition, two times two make four. And the youngsters line up with it.

Witches may brew their bubbling troubling broth; but the bubbling spirits of the kiddies have pulled the last tooth of the old witch and turned black cats into pets. Rabbits' feet are no longer lucky save when four in number and under bunny propelled by her own power.

The young of today refuse to budge before goblins. They employ ghost stories only for fun around the fire. Halloween may even come on Friday; but pumpkins are for pies and lanterns and black cats for decorations.

It is unlucky to spill salt; but it is equally unlucky to make a spill of anything, even a football. It is unlucky to pass under a ladder—especially if the painter should drop his bucket at the moment. It is unlucky to go out a different door from which you enter, providing return is the nearest way back to honor. Girls, it is more unlucky not to move a broom and keep it moving. It is unlucky not to pick up a pin or anything else of minutest value. It is unlucky to see the moon over the left shoulder, or any other shoulder, in modern traffic. The place for the face is forward. That is why it was put on the front part of the head. For a black cat or cat of any other color to run across the road when you are going forty per is unlucky—unlucky for the cat. It may be lucky to have a horseshoe turning up over the door; but it is infinitely more lucky to have a plowshare turning up the sod.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Drum Corps?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

A lively drum corps has been organized by the Gardena Evening High School, corner of Normandie and Palm avenues, Gardena. This group meets on Tuesday and Friday evenings, 7 to 9, and, under the supervision of an experienced musical director, is preparing to do its bit at various civic gatherings. Men and women of all ages are welcome to join and there are no fees of any kind.

Gardena Evening High School also has a band and a mixed chorus. The chorus is under the direction of Alfa Anderson and is sponsored by the Woman's Progressive Club.

All of these groups are open to the public and the old members are very friendly toward newcomers. The chorus meets on Tuesday, 7 to 9 p.m., and the band on Tuesday and Friday.

THE LOVER'S SONG

Oh, I think I have too many loves!
I am weighted down with their sweetness!
They overwhelm me with their beauty—
And I feel that I shall die
In the glow of their honeyed smiles!
For they smile at me enchantingly
From golden yesterdays;
They encircle me every day
And they beckon, beckon, beckon
From the mystic isle of Tomorrow.
Of all ages are they, men, women and children—
Of many races, lands and climes—
And they sail on snow-white vessels
On the red stream of my heart.
Ah, I know they are mine forever,
And I know they can never lose
  me,
And willingly would I suffer
Ere I would hurt one of them—
For they are my gladness eternal
And I am the joy of their hours—
And yet the joy they give is almost pain.
So near it is to sorrow that sometimes
I wonder if I have too many loves!

Amendment Misrepresented

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] There is a gross misstatement made in a letter appearing in the Wednesday issue of The Times concerning Charter Amendment No. 3A. This letter states that the responsibility for the selection of books is taken out of the hands of library experts. This responsibility for the proper selection of books is not changed in any manner whatsoever.

The procedure of purchasing will not be changed in any way from that now in effect for the purchasing of materials and supplies for thirty-five other city departments, all of which have many special requirements.

It means the substitution of a better organized and better equipped purchasing department for the departments now existing.

It means lower prices to be paid by the city for materials and supplies by reason of the larger volume of purchases handled through one office.

It means placing the function of purchasing for the city on the same efficient basis as that of private business. How many private business firms have four complete purchasing organizations in one city?

It means that a neutral and disinterested official, selected by civil service and not under the jurisdiction of politically appointed board members, will be a party to all purchasing transactions of the city.

As a matter of good sound business practice Charter Amendment No. 3A should be approved.

A. J. HOLM,
Assistant City Purchasing Agent.

Appreciation Recorded

LOMA LINDA, Oct. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This note is sent simply to record our appreciation of your splendid and very able editorial in a recent issue of the Los Angeles Times against the barbers' Sunday bill.

This measure, we feel, was entirely un-American in its principles and contrary to our Constitution, and it is of great satisfaction to us to know the stand that has been taken by such a large per cent of the press of California against this measure. We recognize the wide influence of the Los Angeles Times and wish to commend very highly the position taken by the editorial department of this splendid paper on this issue.

Poor Fishing Bait

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mr. Young, the Democratic candidate for Governor, says that he voted for Al Smith in 1928, because he was the regular Democratic nominee for President and he had to vote for him. If Mr. Young is as dry as he claims to be, why did he have to vote for Smith? Mr. Young was not dry enough to vote for Mr. Hoover, but now he comes and asks the dry Republican voters to vote for him. The situations in 1928 and now are identical; and it is preposterous for Mr. Young to ask the dry Republican voters of California to do something that he would not do himself, when the opportunity presented itself. And we wonder how many dry Republicans are going to be caught by the inconsistent plea of Mr. Young?

DRY REPUBLICAN.

A Pain in the Chest

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The chest is suffering and needs immediate and generous relief. This vital receptacle, by means of which thousands of the poor of our city live and breathe, is in danger. When the doctor taps it with his finger it gives forth a hollow sound. Its pain and suffering wring the hearts of interested and sympathetic friends. Think what happiness it would give them to heal this suffering. Think what happiness it would give each and every one of you to know that you had had a part, however small, in this great undertaking. So let's all get together and put forth our earnest efforts to relieve the pain in the chest.

See Mark 2:27

SANTA PAULA, Oct. 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] According to the argument for Proposition No. 26, which appears in the booklet on the proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on next Tuesday one might get the impression that this law is solely by, of and for the barbers and would affect no one else. But a careful reading of the measure will convince any intelligent person that, as a "barbers" bill, it is a hoax. It is a "Sunday" law, pure and simple, and if any great proportion of the barbers are really back of it they are merely acting as cat's-paws to pull a nice toasted chestnut out of the fire for that breed of religionists which is continually trying to unite church and State.

We have no law which would prevent any barber, or anyone else, from observing Sunday according to their desires and convictions and there is no possible reason for adopting a law compelling a different observance than we now have, other than the chronic desire of some religionists to force their views of Sabbath observance upon the people as a whole.

Let us kill No. 26.

PEN POINTS

How did train callers get their training in the art of making queer noises before cheer leaders were invented?

India is somewhat like the United States. There, too, social standing depends on which laws a man breaks.

Perhaps you can't travel in all States, but you can size up the people by taking a look at the Senators they elect.

You can tell a man who has just made a great success. Some dear creature is steering him past a jeweler's window.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

GETTING OLD

When a man's inclined to blow, of the days of long ago, when he roasts the present so that he seems a common scold, when he says that virtue died and that merit ceased to ride when our fathers quit their stride, it's a sign he's getting old. When a man's inclined to lose all respect for polished shoes and wears clothes of dingy hues, with a frequent spot of mold, when he lets his collar sag and his tie is but a rag that should reach the old-clothes bag, it's a sign he's getting old. When his little labors tire, and he wants to hug the fire in an effort to perspire, and his feet are always cold; when he talks about his ills and his fevers and his chills, and describes his favored pills, it's a sign he's getting old. When he ceases to enthuse over things that should amuse, when he slights the daily news for old stories often told, when he tells with dripping tears of the darlings and the dears who've been dead for forty years, it's a sign he's getting old. When he says the younger folk make morality a joke and kick up a sinful smoke in their rush for tainted gold, when he says the modern lads lack the honor of their dads and will trade their souls for scads, it's a sign he's getting old. When a man begins to bleat of the things he has to eat, of the stewed denatured wheat he must place within his hold, when he doesn't care a hoot for the contour of his suit or the stains of eggs and fruit, it's a sign he's getting old.

The cost of modernizing old buildings, mainly in cities, amounted in 1929 to more than $500,000,000. Making an old building modern consists principally in installing new plumbing and heating plants and removing fire hazards.

The first census in the United States was taken in 1790. Since then the center of population has steadily moved westward.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Formal announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Mills of 408 East Stocker avenue, of the engagement of their attractive daughter, Miss Nadean Mills, to Arthur J. Plate. The wedding date is November 26, the ceremony to take place in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Glendale. Miss Mills has asked Mrs. W. J. Hinshaw to assist as matron of honor, while Thomas Mills will serve as best man.

The wedding will be the culmination of a romance which started in Winona State Teachers' College.

Mr. Plate is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Plate of Winona. The bride-elect came to Glendale several years ago and recently has been director of kindergarten at the Benjamin Franklin School. She was president last year of the Glendale Kindergarten Primary Club and this year is serving as secretary of the Glendale City Teachers' Club.

After the honeymoon Mr. Plate will bring his bride to make their future home in Glendale.

Charming Affair

One of the attractive affairs in musical circles was the salon, given last evening at the Hollywood Plaza Hotel, when Mrs. John Claire Monteith presided as hostess and Gabriel Ravenelle directed and arranged the program, "California Night." The lyrics were sung by Ann Anderson, other artists including Norma Masterson, Dodson Blunt, Marshall Ames and Daisy Dunham, accompanist.

Benefit Affair

A Hawaiian motif will prevail in the appointments of a benefit to be given by the parish of St. Thomas Church, November 6, 7 and 8, in the hall of the parish school. George Bernard is general chairman of the affair and others on the committee are Mrs. Mary T. Hogan, James Donahue, James Rust and William McLean. Students of the school will assist.

One of the features of the affair will be the drawing for two round trips to Hawaii.

Robert Hollenzer of Chicago was best man and the ushers were Thomas Stevens, Leon Strong, Kenneth Thomas and David Hughes.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of Mrs. J. F. Ohlweiler, 738 Hudson avenue.

Honored With Dinner

A lovely affair of the season was the formal dinner given recently by Mrs. Cecile Lyon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Marks, whose recent wedding was a social event in Cleveland. The guests were Messrs. and Mmes. S. Kopman, S. Spitz, I. Epstein, A. Arnold, R. Ginsburg and M. Gerecht.

Loose Castors

If you have a piece of furniture that loses its castor each time it is moved bind the castor in with a strip of adhesive tape. It takes just a little protection to prevent its slipping out.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

ADOPTION IS FAIRLY BUSINESSLIKE PROPOSITION

Of all the questions which come to us we are puzzled most by those intermittent, heart-breaking appeals from bereft parents or childless parents who want to know, "How can I adopt a baby?"

Seemingly all of these want-to-be-parents have a single idea, which is to get a baby, get him quickly, and bring him up as their own child. On the face of it this is laudable and desirable; actually it is not. There is, and should be more to adopting a baby than just selecting any baby available and making him one's own. For every child there is always a future and always a past, and to secure the first we must investigate the second.

MENTAL DEVELOPMENT

One mother wrote, "I would like a baby 2 days old so that it would seem just like our own baby." But what can be told about a 2-day-old baby? At this tender age all babies are very much alike. Only when age and growth have brought definite signs of mental development do babies begin to differ and become individuals. A 2-day-old baby might be a hopeless mental defective and the parent would not be aware of it. It would hardly be sensible to take to one's heart and home a baby who could never appreciate us or whom we could never appreciate because he was a mental defective.

Likewise one must have the protection offered by reliable placing agencies to insure that both of the baby's parents willingly relinquish him. Otherwise an adoption is not legal, and some day the real parent may turn up and demand his baby. The law stands by the real, not the adoptive parent, for this is a matter about which even sentiment has no weight.

BABY'S BACKGROUND

Heredity plays a role in development, so it is wise for the adoptive parents to make certain that the child comes from parents of normal intelligence. What these parents may have become with regard to their moral or ethical standards is of small consequence, but their mental inheritance they bequeath to their baby as certainly as they donate their physical characteristics. One must be certain that neither parent is a mental defective, thus making education of their offspring difficult and sometimes impossible.

All of these warnings sound hard-hearted. In truth, they are not. A baby whom parents want to make their own and to receive their love must be educable. A baby should be desired by both the adoptive parents, for the father plays as big a part in the life of the child as the mother. An adoption merely to please the mother will deprive the child of that sympathy and companionship and interest which he has a right to demand from the father.

We have prepared a leaflet on "Adoption," which we offer to any parent who intends taking a baby for his own. It offers just those warnings and advice which reputable placing agencies have devised for the protection of adoptive parents and of the child they adopt. Be sure to send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred, "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

HOME DECORATION TALKS—NO. 20

by Fay Fraser

FLEX

This is my twentieth and final article in this year's series of Home Decoration. I have tried to show you how easy it is to change the entire appearance of the home. Joy and happiness depend very much on color and life in the decorations.

Thanks to Flex, the new color finish, it is now possible for any one to brighten up rooms inexpensively. Remember that Flex is neither an enamel nor a lacquer. Combining the best features of both, it is the outstanding new development in color coatings.

Flex can be used by amateurs because it is self-leveling. It dries in a tough smooth finish, is as smooth as porcelain, yet its hard, lustrous finish is flexible and water proof. It is unsurpassed for woodwork, furniture and automobiles. It can even be used on fabrics, window shades and leather. Non-chipping, it stands scuffs and hard knocks.

Good paint and hardware dealers have Flex. It brushes out so readily and covers so well that it goes further and is economical to use. Try Flex today and bring joy, gaiety and color into your home.

LISTEN TO FAY FRASER OVER YOUR RADIO!

Every Tuesday and Friday morning at 9:30 Miss Fraser will take up a special problem in home decoration and show how it can be solved. Listen to her over KFRC, KHJ, KMJ, KOIN, KOL, KVI, KFPY and let her show you how you can increase the beauty and charm of your home.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

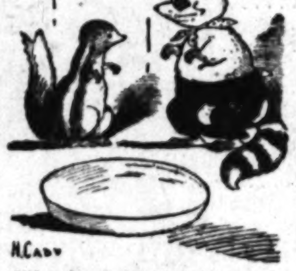
by THORNTON W. BURGESS

MOTHER BROWN HOLDS HER BREATH

Who in him really has the stuff
Can almost always call a bluff.
—Bobby Coon.



When they had finished there wasn't a scrap of anything left.

Mother Brown stood in the kitchen doorway. The light streamed through into the shed full upon a scene that Mother Brown never had expected to see. On the one side of a dish of food stood a big and very angry-looking raccoon. It was Bobby Coon. On the other side, looking equally angry and with a great tail spread over him, was a big skunk. It was Jimmy Skunk. Mother Brown gave a little gasp and then she held her breath. Yes, sir, she held her breath. She didn't move. It looked to Mother Brown as if something serious was about to happen.

Jimmy Skunk was stamping his feet and growling. Bobby Coon didn't stamp his feet, but he growled and his growl had a very ugly sound. Mother Brown wanted to run and she wanted to see what was going to happen. She knew that if Jimmy Skunk should use that scent gun of his there was going to be a terrible odor in that back shed for a long time. She wanted to chase him right outdoors before he had a chance to use it. Of course, she couldn't do this. She didn't dare do it. As a matter of fact, she didn't dare move. She feared that Jimmy Skunk might be so excited that any movement on her part might alarm him and so lead him to use that little scent gun of his. The wisest plan seemed to be to do nothing at all, but hold her breath, which is just what she did.

Jimmy Skunk took a step forward and Bobby Coon growled a little deeper and a little uglier sounding growl than the others had been. Jimmy reached out and very slowly he brought his nose so that it touched the nose of Bobby Coon. If Mother Brown had not already been holding her breath, she certainly would have held it then. Bobby Coon was showing his teeth. It certainly looked as if there were going to be a dreadful fight in just about one minute. You see, Bobby Coon hadn't backed up one step. It was clear, perfectly clear, that he didn't intend to back up one step. There was a look of something like surprise on Jimmy Skunk's face. He wasn't accustomed to having people refuse to back up when he told them to. The look of anger in his eyes began to give way to a look of surprised admiration. He made one more attempt to frighten Bobby Coon. He stamped suddenly and hard, at the same time he threw that big tail of his still farther forward, so that it actually came over on to Bobby Coon's head. "Get out!" said Jimmy Skunk in his ugliest sounding voice. "Get out quickly!"

"I'll do nothing of the sort!" retorted Bobby Coon, and he didn't back up an inch. No, sir, Bobby didn't back up an inch. He simply stood there showing his teeth and growling.

"All right! All right!" replied Jimmy Skunk, and took a bite of food from the plate.

Bobby Coon took one good long look at him and then he settled down and began to eat. Then Mother Brown drew a long breath. "My goodness," said she, "look at them! That was an awful moment. Now, I do believe those two fellows are going to settle down and eat their dinners like a couple of long-lost friends."

And this is just what they did do. They were a little greedy about it, for each was afraid the other would get the most. When they had finished there wasn't a scrap of anything left.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

HONEY FRUIT CAKE

In a warm bowl beat to a cream half a cupful of butter and three-fourths of a cupful of honey, add one-third of a cupful of boiled cider, two well-beaten eggs, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon, cloves and mace and one teaspoonful of soda sifted with enough flour to make a stiff batter. Add two-thirds of a cupful of chopped dried figs, two-thirds of a cupful of pitted and chopped prunes and two-thirds of a cupful of seedless raisins. Pour the batter in buttered and floured cake tins and bake in a slow oven. This cake should be made several weeks before using and kept stored in a tightly closed container.

FILLET OF SOLE FLORENTINE

Remove all the wilted leaves from two large bunches of spinach and wash well until all sand is removed. Drain, place in a saucepan, cover tightly and cook until tender. Drain off all of the water and chop fine, add a seasoning of salt, pepper and a few grains of nutmeg and a tablespoonful of melted butter, mix well and spread the mixture over the bottom of a well-buttered shallow baking dish. Place four even-sized fillet of sole in a buttered saute pan, add a seasoning of salt and pour into the pan one-half cupful of water, one-half cupful of orange juice, one teaspoonful of lemon juice and boil until the fillet are tender. Lift out the fillet and place them on the spinach puree and pour over all a mornay sauce, sprinkle with grated cheese, dot with bits of butter and brown in the oven.

MORNAY SAUCE

Heat two cupfuls of cream or rich milk in the top of the double boiler, stir in the well-beaten yolks of two eggs, one tablespoonful of grated cheese, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt and a few grains of cheyenne pepper. Stir and cook for three minutes, but do not allow to boil.

MARSHMALLOW APPLE PUDDING

Mix four cupfuls of peeled and sliced apples with one and a half cupfuls of light brown sugar and three-quarters of a cupful of seedless raisins, place in a buttered baking dish, pour over one cupful of water, sprinkle with two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, dot with two tablespoonfuls of butter broken in small pieces and bake for thirty minutes in a moderate oven or until the apples are soft. Cover the top with marshmallows, return to the oven and bake slowly until the marshmallows are puffed and lightly browned.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department. PRACTICAL RECIPES published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Winter Data

Fur collars and cuffs can be cleaned by rubbing thoroughly with cornmeal that has been soaked in gasoline.

Metal lace that has become tarnished can be made bright again by boiling it in salt water, using two tablespoonfuls of salt to every pint of water.

If your velour or velvet suit has become wrinkled hang it over the bathtub and turn on the hot water. After thoroughly steaming it, hang it out in the sun and wind and let nature do the pressing.

Clean Radiators

Clean your radiators before the heat is in them, if possible, as they will be much easier to handle. A radiator brush is an absolute necessity as it is the only way you can get into those dusty crevices and remove the accumulation.

AUTHORITY ON BRIDGE WILL GIVE LECTURES

Spencer S. Kapp, whose articles on "Contract Bridge Simplified" are appearing each Sunday in The Times, will give the first of four open lectures on contract bridge Saturday, November 8, at 10:30 a.m. in Barker Brothers' Auditorium. Mr. Kapp is a recognized authority on contract bridge. His system of bidding is widely used. In these four lectures—each Saturday in November—he will give the fundamental principles of his system. Those who are interested in bridge will find this series of lectures of inestimable value. There is no admission charge.

The Summer Screens

Now is the time we have this rather unpleasant job to face, storing away our screens. Brush off all dust and then wipe them on both sides with disinfectant. This will disinfect and at the same time reduce the chance of rust. Mark the screens as to their room, stand all together and wrap in heavy paper. Tie and store out of the dust. In the spring they are ready for use.

Oh, That Rattle

When windows rattle and prove annoying in the winter winds, screw a small hook to the bottom of the window and a small screw-eye to the window sash, having them far enough apart to make a pretty snug fit. It will lock the window tightly and help keep out the cold air.

Ivory White

After cleaning the ivory toilet articles, place them in direct sunlight for an hour or so. Then they will not be apt to turn yellow.

Christmas Cake Will Be Topic of Chef Wyman

Even though the weather isn't particularly seasonable, all of the stores are starting their Christmas shopping campaigns and this same preparation for the holidays will start at the Los Angeles Times free cooking school today with Chef Wyman showing every detail of making the most delicious white fruit cake, which should be prepared now and put away for the holidays. She will also prepare an English plum pudding, which can be made now. Either of these would make a delightful Christmas gift.

In addition she will make walnut oatmeal cookies and prepare two dishes which are particularly suitable for holiday menus, marrons Roma, a pudding made from chestnuts and apple sauce and served with fowls or roasts, and a double salad made from mint gelatin and fruit that is especially appropriate to serve with a hearty meal.

The Times invites every woman to come to the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, at 2 o'clock today and learn how to make these delectable dishes.

To Stiffen Curtains

Many people prefer to stiffen their lace curtains with gum arabic instead of starch. If so, dissolve one ounce of gum arabic in one-half pint of boiling water, strain and bottle. Keep well corked. Use one teaspoon of the mixture to one pint of cold water. Dip the curtains in this and then stretch.

For Nervous Women

MRS. PORTER L. ARNOLD
1013 So. St. Andrews Street, Dothan, Ala.

"What a wonderful help Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been to me. I was so nervous and rundown I couldn't be up half the time. When I had taken one bottle of Vegetable Compound I could tell I felt better, so I took seven bottles and I recommend it highly. It helped my nerves and keeps me strong to do my housework and wait on four little children. I hope some other suffering woman will try it."—Mrs. Porter L. Arnold.

HOBGOBLINS VISIT HOSPITAL TOO

Crippled Children Celebrate Halloween

Fidella Perez in General Hospital

CRIPPLED children in the acute cases ward of the General Hospital can not go out and engage in Halloween pranks tonight like others of their same age. In compensation Halloween was taken to them yesterday.

It arrived in the form of large pumpkins hollowed out and carved into grinning faces topped with large clown hats, in long streamers of crepe paper strung from corner to corner, in the "Hollywood Darlings," entertainers dressed in festive regalia, who danced and sang, and in spritely witches, who capered between the rows of beds and whispered fairy stories to wide-eyed children.

Candy goblins, black and yellow candy corn kernels, cake, cookies and bowls of varicolored punch were served as refreshments.

Today from 2 to 3 p.m. children in the orthopedic ward will be given an opportunity to enjoy the same entertainment, according to Miss Florence A. Mast, official children's hostess at the hospital.

HALLOWEEN CAFE NEWS

Fritzie Ridgeway has issued the most unique Halloween invitations that have been received this year. At her Hopi Indian-style hostelry in Palm Springs, the Del Tahquitz, named for an old chief who lived in the vicinity some 300 years ago, she will entertain 500 guests at one of the most unusual of parties. The invitation reads:

TAHQUITZ SPEAKS

I am the spirit of Del Tahquitz
I bid you gather for a pow-wow in the Hopi tepee of the white woman, Fritzie Ridgeway . . . .
I bid you gather at the tepee when the moon in the crescent casts my shadow . . .
I bid you gather for song dance . . . feasting . . .

The Hopi come from far to dance for you
In the last days of Indian summer
I have spoken
The spirit of Tahquitz.

After old Indian customs, this party takes on the form of a festival and will last for three days. One of the outstanding features of this original entertainment will be the Indian dances. Each day a group of Indians will perform their tribal dances and sing their tribal songs for the guests.

AT GEORGE OLSEN'S

A gala Halloween program will be given at George Olsen's new club, Culver City, tonight, with a brilliant array of famous film stars, directors, composers and other "who's who" of Hollywood in attendance. Olsen's new fall revue, most elaborate of the series, will be presented from 8 p.m. until 2:30 a.m. and there will be no cover charge until 10 p.m. A special menu of Halloween delicacies will be featured. Prominent in the current show, put on by the Mosconi brothers, are George Olsen and his orchestra, George Clifford and Nadine Wayne, ballroom dancers from the Club Deauville, New York; Jack Shutta, popular comedian; Irene Taylor, crooning songstress; Maria Nasha, oriental dancer; Angelo Bruno, tenor, and a glorious ensemble of beautiful show girls.

CARRILLO AT ROOSEVELT

Leo Carrillo, famed stage actor, will be honored guest at celebrity night in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel on Monday. He will also appear as guest artist headlining on the stellar entertainment program which will distinguish the affair, through arrangement with Henry Duffy, for whom he is now starring locally in "Mister Antonio," one of his greatest successes. In the Blossom Room tonight a gala Halloween celebration, featuring a special program, festive decorations, favors and other attractions, is being held. A capacity crowd is expected to be on hand to greet the eve of All Saints' Day in a fitting manner. Ted Weems and his Victor recording orchestra playing their unique dance rhythms will have a very special place in the evening's course of events.

AT MADAME ZUCCA'S

Madame Zucca's two cabarets, the Zucca Inn and Silver Slipper, both located in the Plaza district, are tonight looking forward to entertaining a capacity group of merrymakers who plan a gay Halloween. Arrangements have been made, it is said, for a group of surprise features consisting of individual dance and song numbers. Russ Columbo and orchestra have been engaged recently for a limited stay at the Silver Slipper. A seven-course dinner with dancing is available.

SWAGGER INN OPENING

After several weeks' preparation, the Swagger Inn, located on Hill street at Seventh street, and formerly known as Coffee Dan's, is now open to the public. A regular luncheon and dinner may be had daily, with dancing. Carl Pelley, manager, announces a "Halloween Festival" for tonight, during which time extra entertainment features are planned. Art Varian will act as master of ceremonies. Dinner is to be served at no increase in price. Dancing is scheduled and there is no cover charge.

MULLER'S CAFE

A Happy Halloween at Muller's Cafe, Seventh and Hill streets, is scheduled for this evening. Special decoration effects, gypsy witch entertainers, pajama-clad waitresses and a surprise quartet will provide merriment for all, according to Lil Muller, who also announces 100 pumpkin pies with cider have been ordered in anticipation of a capacity attendance for the event.

OAKS TAVERN CAFE

A new "Winter Revue" will feature tonight's Halloween dance carnival at Oaks Tavern Cafe, West Fourth street near Hill street. A new chorus group will present a number of dance specialties with individual performers added. According to Frank Reiter, manager of the cafe, souvenirs, balloons, noisemakers, will be the order of the evening. There is to be a special dinner with dancing to a nine-piece orchestra. Two dance floors are now available, which will adequately care for the anticipated capacity attendance.

AT LAKE ARROWHEAD

Halloween will be celebrated at Lake Arrowhead next Saturday night with a special Halloween dance at the Village Casino. The Casino will be appropriately decorated for the event in anticipation of a large attendance of festive revelers. The new high-gear road is reported to be in excellent condition, making the trip to Lake Arrowhead from Los Angeles an easy two to two and one-half-hour ride. Autumn colors and Indian summer climate assure all those who celebrate Halloween at this mile-high resort of a novel and pleasant week-end.

SOLOMONS TO REOPEN

Waldemar Guterson and his orchestra, internationally known for scoring motion-picture productions of Hollywood and for their phonograph records, have been placed under contract by Fred H. Solomon, Los Angeles dance magnate, to reopen his Grand-avenue Dancing Pavilion at the Halloween mask ball tonight. This evening the penny-dance policy upon which the institution built its world fame will be revived. Guterson's orchestra has been scoring pictures for both Fox and Universal. Its personnel includes Waldemar Guerson, pianist; Joe Byer, saxophone and reeds; Moe Jackson, saxophone and reeds; Same Middleman, violin and voice; Paul Poole, bass horn and voice; Kenneth Archbald, trombone; Kenneth Koenig, trumpets; Gene Cooper, trumpets; Lemuel Lemon, drums and voice, and Buddy Tillman, banjo and voice. Solomon plans a gala masquerade as the reopening attraction.

RED LION INN

Karno and Cook are now operators of the Red Lion Inn, just west of Culver City on Washington Boulevard. Clever Halloween decorations have been added for tonight's celebration and a special Halloween menu will feature the occasion. The new owners have been located on the boulevard in other locations for the past six years. Advance reservations, according to the management, indicate many of their old friends will greet them tonight at this new location.

Substitution of moving stairways in place of elevators at subways in London has increased the number of passengers in the first twelve months by more than 2,000,000.

FUN ALL RIGHT BUT KEEP IT HARMLESS

Chief Steckel yesterday instructed police to be tolerant toward a proper spirit of fun and frivolity during the observance of Halloween, but to be prompt in dealing with hoodlums.

Soap writing on store windows, annoying women, destroying property, use of feather ticklers and periling of traffic are forbidden, as in other years.

Division commanders were ordered by Steckel to instruct policemen to be vigilant in dispersing gangs. The lawless, seeking to cause trouble under guise of harmless fun, must be curbed decisively.

But as for real fun and frivolity—the sky is the limit tonight.

MANY WILL ATTEND JONATHAN CLUB PARTY

More than 600 reservations have been made at the Jonathan Club for a Halloween dinner dance this evening, it was announced by club officials last night. Max Fisher's orchestra will furnish music for the party which is expected to be one of the largest in the history of the club. According to those in charge, a real old-fashioned Halloween affair has been arranged with appropriate favors and an atmosphere in keeping with the occasion.

CLUB WILL HAVE DANCE

The Commercial Club will combine its Halloween festivities with its first formal dinner-dance and ladies' night of the season tomorrow and has prepared a program of dancing and entertainment. The main dining-room will be orange and black and the music and menu will be in keeping with the celebration.

CANADIANS TO CELEBRATE

Canadians of Los Angeles this evening will celebrate Halloween with a masquerade dance at the Friday Morning Club, 940 South Figueroa street, the new social headquarters of the Canadian Society of Southern California.

MARYLAND PICNIC TOMORROW

The Maryland State Society will have its last 1930 picnic-reunion tomorrow at Sycamore Grove Park. A program will follow the basket lunch.

EVILS SEEN IN DIVERTING SPAN FUNDS

Many Civic Groups Set to Defeat Measure Backed by Council President

A plea to the voters to support Proposition B on Tuesday's ballot, which will have the effect of transferring $400,000 already voted for the construction of the Aliso bridge to the Sixth-street bridge, was made yesterday by Council President Sanborn, who represents East Los Angeles.

Sanborn declared that the Aliso bridge is a necessary adjunct to the union passenger station at the Plaza, now being held up by litigation. He asks that the money, now idle, be devoted to the Sixth-street bridge, which is about to be constructed, thus creating work for the unemployed.

However, many organizations are opposing the measure on the grounds that it is against public policy to divert funds once voted for a specific project.

North End associations also are opposing the proposition on the grounds that diversion of the money from the Aliso-street bridge will be seized upon by the railroads as a further excuse to delay action on the Plaza terminal.

THREE ARRESTED ON YOUNG-GIRL CHARGE

Charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old girl, one young woman and two youths were lodged in the County Jail yesterday. They are Laura Mae Davis, 20, of Ontario, and Edward Berry, 18, and Jacob Rochester, 23, of Pomona. Miss Davis was taken in custody at her home Tuesday night by Policewoman McMullen of Ontario, shortly after Berry and Rochester had been arrested by Pomona police. The latter assert they plied a Pomona schoolgirl with liquor following a public dance Monday night.

INVESTIGATOR PROMOTED

Walter Clairville, investigator in the City Prosecutor's office, has been appointed assistant to Martin L. Thomas, chief investigator, according to an announcement by City Prosecutor Johnson.

Rubber plants, brought to the United States in 1929 from their native home in Madagascar, are now growing in California and Florida.

TALK BY WILL ROGERS EVENT

'Liliom' Also Rare Attraction at Loew's State

Borzage Picture Shows High Vein of Imagination

Noted Humorist Appears on Stage for Charity

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

American can win any war it goes into, but we lost all the conferences. If we entered a parley with Costa Rica we'd come home with our shirt off.

"We've just sunk another battleship. It seems in the latest treaty we signed we agreed that for every battleship that England and Japan would build we would sink one. If we go into a second disarmament conference we'll probably have to borrow a boat to get them.

"I'm the first actor who has come on the stage in weeks who isn't going to address you about daylight saving time. I don't see that daylight saving time will mean much one way or the other. Nobody's working anway. But—prosperity is just around the corner.

"I'll be glad to talk to you about anything you suggest — Mexico, Senators, Congress, disarmament. I handle all the outside affairs; Bob Shuler handles the local ones."

Thus, Will Rogers from the stage at the Loew's State Theater, where he is doing his bit of service for the Community Chest campaign, and entertaining audiences as only Rogers can.

Will comes on the stage minus the props and scenery, so to speak, because he wears a business suit instead of the cowboy garb, and doesn't whirl the lariat, but he retains the gum. Applause brings him back to the stage once or twice, for a continuation of his sagely humorous epigrams.

Rogers is a special attraction of the week, but there will be a plentiful depth of interest for many people in Fox's beautifully produced version of "Liliom" on the screen. I say "beautifully produced," because this picture is amazingly inspiration in its theme, and the inspiration has been richly fulfilled in the direction of Frank Borzage and the photography.

The film far transcends the ordinary ground level of so many screen offerings, nor has the spirit of the original stage play been lost, though it has been somewhat sentimentalized. Liliom acts at times from motives of generosity that are perhaps at variance with the true character, and his attempted crime of robbery has been all too humanly motivated. But quality is none the less apparent. The story is a highly idealized one, peculiarly tender in that final scene where the hero, coming back from the world beyond, slaps his own child and she tells her mother that it was not like a slap, but like a kiss.

This is eminently delicate screen stuff, so delicate and poetic, indeed, in a sophisticated way, that it will scarcely appeal to everybody.

The train, traveling fantastically through the clouds over endless bridges, seemed to evoke an uncertain response from portions of the audience at the show which I attended, but the tribute of applause at the close of the picture was remarkably significant of appreciation.

Charles Farrell is not perhaps the adequate choice for the hero of the picture, but he is to be heartily commended for the earnestness of his portrayal. One can see why he was chosen because in its bravado the character he plays is not unlike Chico of "Seventh Heaven." There are many scenes in which his work is splendid.

Rose Hobart gives an interpretation of the heroine that is subdued and magnetic, at once. She is one of the most interesting of the newer actresses, primarily because of her evident artistry. She should be an important acquisition to the personnel of the screen.

Estelle Taylor brings a dominating note of personality and her impersonation, even though comparatively brief, therefore, registers vividly.

Lee Tracy is admirable in a sinister characterization, decidedly an able actor. H. B. Warner enacts the celestial magistrate ingratiatingly.

Mildred Van Dorn and Walter Abel, Bert Roach, Lillian Roth and Guinn Williams are others.

The stage entertainment averages well in costuming and dancing and fairly in comedy. Frank Melino and company, Ada Broadbent, Ted Ledford and the Mack Bissett dancers take part, and Rube Wolf directs the orchestra. The lively-stepping in some of the chorus numbers indicated the Larry Ceballos staging.

Gala Premiere of 'Mr. Wu' Due at California

Ernesto Vilches, noted Spanish stage and screen actor, will be seen tonight at the International California Theater as the star of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Spanish film, "Mr. Wu," a vivid drama of a Chinese Mandarin.

Vilches is surrounded by a notable cast of Spanish-speaking players, including Jose Crespo, Angelita Benitez, Marcela Nivon, Jose Soriano Viosca, Mrs. Sojin and Martin Garralaga.

The opening at the International tonight is to be a gala affair, and the colony of Spanish-speaking players will be on hand to pay homage to the star, who will act as master of ceremonies and introduce players to the audience.

'Cup of Sugar' Run to Close

Dorothy Mackaye will make her farewell appearance at the Figueroa Playhouse tomorrow night. Tonight's performance, together with the Saturday matinee and evening show, mark the final presentations of Lynn Starling's farce-comedy of domestic infidelity.

George Sherwood, Miss Mackaye's director, is seeking a new play in which to star the comedienne at a later date at the Vine-street Theater in Hollywood.

Noted Players Grace Silver Sheet

Winnie Lightner and Kay Johnson

Enact leading roles in "The Life of the Party" at both Warner theaters, and "Billy the Kid" at the Criterion Theater, respectively. Both features start runs today and will provide a variety of entertainment for movie-minded audiences.

LOVE TALE OF GENERAL IS RELATED

Huston, Kay Francis Seen in "Virtuous Sin;" Fine Stage Bill at Paramount

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

"The Virtuous Sin," a story of a general, a lady and the lady's husband, arriving at the Paramount Theater yesterday is a puzzling picture.

Sometimes it's interesting. Sometimes it's unbelievably bad. It has some moments of dramatic suspense. It has some funny comedy. But it's a weird mixture of the trite and the unusual; the commonplace and the impossible. It moves smoothly at times; again it jerks and the action comes to an abrupt stop—as if a jumping-off spot had been reached. Yet it has definite merits.

Be it worthy material or not, no film which has in its cast two such compelling performers as Walter Huston and Kay Francis can not be dismissed casually. They lend reality to impossible and fantastic situations and roles.

Huston is cast as a cruel disciplinary, a general in the Russian army who cannot be bothered by trifles such as sentiment and kindness when they interfere with the workings of his military machine. Miss Francis is the wife of a young scientist who is torn from his life work to fill a post in the army. He is a hopeless failure in the military regime and finally after a series of catastrophic mishaps, is found guilty of gross insubordination and sentenced to death.

Enter the wife who sets out upon the task of intriguing the attention of the general. It's quite a job to vamp him, but she does it so thoroughly that the general falls terribly in love. So does the lady.

Huston, Miss Francis and Kenneth MacKenna do the best work they can in the roles allotted. Although she doesn't seem to have gotten screen credit, an actress whom I think is Jobyna Howland, contributes a great deal of hilarious comedy.

George Cukor and Louis Gasnier directed from a story by Lajos Zilahy from "The General"—whatever that is, novel or play.

There's a deftly amusing and clever stage show at the Paramount this week—the best I've seen in many a moon. For one thing, Ray Bolger, a gentleman who is at once a comic, a dancer and yet a poised master of ceremonies, is adroitly running things. Lester and Garson, a pair of lads who work so fast it is hard to keep up with them, toss off many an impish jest; Maureen and Soony oblige with some facile dancing; and there is other good entertainment. There are no girls. They don't need them this week.

Askam Proves Popular Star in 'New Moon'

Perry Askam, singing star, is proving as popular a drawing card at the Biltmore Theater, where he opened an engagement Monday night in "The New Moon" as he has on his previous visits to Los Angeles.

Myrah Hubert is Marianne, the prima donna, and for other important roles Lillian Albertson has John Merkyl, Earl Askam, Charles Boyle, Myrtis Crinley, Dorothy McCormick, Don Harding, Howard Nugent, John Wagner and Ed Russell.

Cecil Stewart conducts the orchestra again. The engagement closes a week from Saturday, after which the star and company start on a tour of the West.

Musical Film Screened Today

A gay musical cinema, "Because I Loved You," which opens tonight at the Filmarte Theater for a week's showing, comes direct from the Berlin studios, and stars Mady Christians, remembered for her work in "The Waltz Dream."

Heading the supporting cast are Walter Jankuhn and Hans Stuwe. The story concerns a singer who is trying to live down the memory of a momentary indiscretion.

Director Rudolf Walther-Fein is said to have embodied the simple theme with novelty and distinction.

"BIG MONEY" ENTERTAINS AT R.-K.-O.

Eddie Quillan Portrays Boy Who Can't Lose in Pathe Picture

BY JOHN SCOTT

Holding the limelight at the R.-K.-O. Theater this week is Eddie Quillan, who besides enacting the leading role in "Big Money," the Pathe screen feature, is also present on the stage.

Genuine entertainment can be promised in "Big Money," taken from a story by Walter De Leon, who has been contributing to stage and screen for many years. It presents something new, if novel, in the way of a plot and is refreshing after a siege of photographed stage plays, dramatized novels and metamorphosed musical comedies.

There is action aplenty, suspense, comedy and romance, molded, withal, into agreeable entertainment. There is an appeal made by the boy who "usually always wins," whether in dice, cards, stock market, horse racing or love. He does on the screen what many dream of but never accomplish.

The story concerns an irresponsible messenger, who, through his propensity for rolling the ivory cubes, is late to the bank with $50,000 of the firm's money. He goes to dinner with the boss' daughter, is waylaid by two crooks and escapes, only to find himself in a hotel room where some "gentlemen" are playing his favorite game. He is persuaded to roll the dice and finds that the chips are $1000 apiece. He wins thirty of the valuable discs and is taken under the wing of one of the racketeers, portrayed by Robert Armstrong. The subsequent scenes follow the unusual success of the two and their winning of the girls in the case.

Although "Big Money" concerns racketeers and the underworld, the treatment is different than the usual gangster drama. The various episodes of the picture are quite feasible and the naturalness of the characters also aids in the story telling.

Eddie Quillan plays the role of the boy who can't lose, and is provided with opportunities to indulge in most of his own particular mannerisms. Quillan is an agreeable performer, puts over his comedy in good style and stays within the bounds of the part. Robert Armstrong plays a racketeer, who is afraid of women, in his usual versatile way. James Gleason is prominently present with his derby and "slanguage." Miriam Seegar is the girl and is capable, as are Margaret Livingston and Dorothy Christy. Russell Mack is credited with the direction which is worthy of special mention.

The vaudeville unit, besides Quillan, includes Carl Randall, Virginia Watson, Rob Robinson, the Honey Boys and Sandy Lang, and is better than average this week.

Noted Comedian Keeps Audiences in Good Humor

Hiram Draper, Texas cotton mill owner, goes to England with his family on a business mission, and the result is plenty of humor for audiences at Pantages Hollywood Theater this week, where Will Rogers is seen in the role of Draper in "So This Is London."

Irene Rich is seen as Rogers's wife, a role she has played successfully in past pictures with the comedian. Frank Albertson is the son who falls in love with Maureen O'Sullivan.

John G. Blystone directed the picture, which includes among the supporting members of the cast Lumsden Hare, Dorothy Christy, Mary Forbes and Bramwell Fletcher. The accompanying stage show this week at Pantages is a Fanchon and Marco idea called "Enchantment." Larry Ceballos staged the presentation.

Miss Irving to Resume Work

Katherine Irving, young screen actress and daughter of George Irving, character actor of the films, has returned to Hollywood after a three months' vacation in New York.

Miss Irving will resume her screen work shortly. Among recent productions in which she has played roles are "Madame Satan," "Divorcee" and others.

CARRILLO IN THEATER EVENT

Duffy Regime at Playhouse Welcomed Anew

"Mister Antonio" Familiar in Situations

Star Chief Attraction of Tarkington Piece

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Superseding the mere event of a premiere — "Mister Antonio," by Booth Tarkington, starring Leo Carrillo—last night signalized the return of Henry Duffy, play man of the coast, to occupancy of the Hollywood Playhouse. True, he had not deserted it for long; but the significance of the occasion, I insist, lay in the knowledge that he had come back. The well-wishers were there; at intermission, when Mr. Carillo spoke of Mr. Duffy, they applauded him to the echo.

Subsequent patrons of the Hollywood Playhouse, it may be hoped, will carry the same welkin with them when they make the pilgrimage. Certainly there is little about this prewar concoction of the noted American novelist to require much other beating of the old tocsin. There were times last night, when one was furtively at the business of program-scanning, just in case of error and the substitution for Booth Tarkington's "Mister Antonio," of Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead."

This was more often the case, it must be admitted, at such divers moments as Mr. Carrillo seemed conspicuous by his absence. The actor has an explicit talent: Antonio Camaradonio, the hurdy-gurdy man, is right before you—very Italian, very explosive, and funny if you laugh at words suffixed by a gratis "s" or "a." Antonio is vouchsafed the opportunity of upsetting the smugness of small-towners; when his task is done, he calls to Joe, his infant-minded adjutant-general, and to Capitano, his beast of burden, and they depart.

Largely because of a convenient first act, Antonio is able to do this errand of mercy. It happened in a speakeasy—nee saloon. Antonio befriended the Mayor of Avalonia when he was in a "jam." Consequently the Mayor couldn't eject Antonio from Avalonia, even though Antonio was disturbing the Sabbath peace with his hurdy-gurdy. It stood to reason he couldn't.

So that Antonio's good turn—just after some one had been reading from the Bible the parable of the Good Samaritan, too—became one of those rare blessings which playwrights once found so invaluable a contretemps in heightening an evening's suspense.

The good turn was this: June Ramsey, serving the Jorny family as virtually a slavey, would be summarily dispossessed in twenty-four hours for "carrying on" with the minister's son. "Carrying-on" here signified nothing more than, as far as I could gather, dancing in the moonlight; but these Hoosierites (if indeed they were) were not partial to the moon.

Antonio, holding the whip hand, could afford to make them all do a little jig of their own—and in bright daylight. His reward was June Ramsey herself, whom he returned with a shrug and a characteristic phrase to the safekeeping of the Jornys, and an inner well-being. "Now I gotta glassa wine downstairs insida me," he sang—and was off. Or, perhaps, that phrase came earlier.

Audiences which take an especial pride in the art of Mr. Carrillo will not need this description, or any other, to decide them for "Mister Antonio." Marion Clayton brings a wide-eyed charm to the role of June Ramsey. Lew Kelly makes the nitwit Joe an amusing figure. Chief among the competent others are Hal Price, Leo Lindhard and Byron Hawkins. But again the play remains a vehicle for an explicit talent: Mr. Carrillo as a hurdy-gurdy man—very Italian, very explosive, and suffixed with laughter.

Ruth Roland Acts Leading Role in 'Reno'

There will be a public who will appreciate the matrimonial mix-ups of Ruth Roland as portrayed in "Reno," the Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., sensation now at the Tower Theater.

Miss Roland chose this sermon on the problem of marriage and divorce as her comeback into the world of the cinema. As a personality long absent from the screen, her popularity should be increased by her reappearance. For Miss Roland emerges as a lady still lovely and possessing a voice both musical and intelligent. She hs been bequeathed several songs, which she renders in a pleasing, charming manner.

The Vanderbilt story, which caused so much commotion among the natives of Reno, the thriving divorce center of Nevada, has been put upon the screen by George Crone, who in a long series of close-ups takes his audience through a sightseeing trip of the city and treats one to theatrical interludes which seem to have bearing on the plot.

The story, as it goes, concerns a wealthy and unhappy marriage among the upper New York circles. Montagu Love becomes the husband brutal employing a female detective in the person of Doris Lloyd to get his wife back from Reno. Why he did this is unknown, for Miss Roland is the embodiment of all that is wifely, nay, maidenly, and thinks only of her child.

The child is the point. Should one, or should one not submit to divorce with a child's future at stake? That is the story and around and around it goes until it finishes off in an eventual conclusion. The characters, with the exception of Miss Lloyd, Sam Hardy and Mr. Love, all talk as though they had just arrived at a party and didn't know just what to say. Perhaps this fault was more of direction than actual ability; nevertheless, the effect is one of strained politeness unnatural to even such a place as Reno.

Kenneth Thompson, Judith Vesselli and Master Douglas Scott also appear in the cast.

ACK OAKIE VEHICLE SELECTED

lar Comedian Will Star in "Five Yards, Please;" Ernst Lubitsch to Direct "Man I Killed;" Chaplin Plans Holiday Journey

Y GRACE KINGSLEY

Oakie is next to play the of a department-store yarn, yesterday.

ACK OAKIE

The title of the story is "Five Yards, Please," from which one deduces that Jack will be a ribbon clerk in his next starring opus for Paramount.

No less skillful a director of farces than Lloyd Corrigan will direct the picture.

George Marion is already at work on the story.

T LUBITSCH FILM ANNOUNCED

Lubitsch's first eastern- production will be "The Man " taken from a stage play creating quite a sensation d, advices from the east Lubitsch has previously di- his pictures in Hollywood recently left for New York. this time little or nothing said regarding his first assignment for Paramount. Man I Killed" is an indict- war, but contains no actual scenes to speak of. Most of takes place after the war and the story concerns the psychological, endured by because of his having shot to death a certain man in the war, whose family he later seeks out and which acquires a deep friendship for him.

Chaplin Plans Trip

Charlie Chaplin expects to have finished and previewed his latest picture, "City Lights," so as to leave for Europe before the holidays.

CHARLES CHAPLIN

The picture will not be released, in all probability, until his return. In the meantime those who have been privileged to look at scenes from the comedy declare that Chaplin need not worry just because he isn't talking in it.

While nobody, including himself, knows how long Chaplin will be gone, it is expected that he will return around March 1. So far he has no story definitely in mind as his next effort, although he is still milling his "Suicide Club" story around in his mind.

Lenore Coffey Writes

Lenore Coffey has been signed by Universal to write the adaptation and dialogue for "Seed."

John Gilbert to Europe

John Gilbert is to have a two months' holiday from his labors for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The star is leaving next week for New York and thence for Europe. Ina Claire, Gilbert's wife, is now busy in New York, making a picture for Paramount, and it is not known whether she will finish in time to accompany him or not.

Jose Crespo Stars

Jose Crespo, noted Spanish actor from the Benevente Theater in Madrid, who has been playing leading roles in Spanish versions made by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is now to become a full-fledged star of pictures done in that language for M.-G.-M.

JOSE CRESPO

The actor has been assigned the John Gilbert role in the Spanish edition of "Way for a Sailor."

Crespo is being groomed for leading roles in English versions of stories also, his ability both to act, and to speak perfect Spanish, being considered a big asset.

Clive Brook In It

Clive Brook has been assigned to play opposite Tallulah Bankhead in "Her Past," which Paramount will produce. Jesse Lasky made the announcement yesterday. The original play was by Frederick Johnson.

Production is to start early in January, following the arrival in this country of Miss Bankhead.

Mary Nolan Soon

Universal officials let it be known yesterday that Mary Nolan is to return from her vacation in the mountains within the next fortnight. No story has yet been selected for the star, but several are considered.

Skeets Gallagher In It

Now that "New Morals," adapted from "Spring Cleaning," has been shelved as William Powell's next starring vehicle for Paramount, and he has been assigned to "Alias Mrs. Wallace," to be renamed "Buy Your Woman," casting is rapidly getting under way.

Skeets Gallagher is one of the first players to be assigned. He will play the leading comedy role in the picture.

Victor McLaglen Loaned

Victor McLaglen has been borrowed from Fox to play opposite Marlene Dietrich in the Lasky production of "Dishonored," we learned yesterday.

Harry Langdon Ill

Harry Langdon isn't having to do much rehearsing in order to preserve an entirely uninterested expression of countenance as he looks out on life. The comedian is ill at his Beverly Hills home, suffering from an attack of influenza. His physician, Dr. Fishbaugh, said last night that he is slightly better, although he will be confined to his bed for the next several days.

Benny Rubin's Next

Benny Rubin made such a hit with Radio Pictures in "Leathernecking," that he is back on the lot as star of a comedy of his own, playing a dual role.

Louis Brock yesterday announced the signing of Rubin for his next Radio two-reel comedy, as yet untitled.

The cast also includes Vernon Dent, Carl Gerard, Arthur Thalasso, Ed Argus, Kewpie Morgan, Theodore Lorch and Aileen Carlyle.

Stork Serves Two

Two members of the writing fraternity connected with pictures have enjoyed visits of the stork during the past week.

VALLEY COTTON GROWERS SIGN

Marketing Arrangement Given Indorsement

During Past Month 40,000 Bales Pledged

Co-operative Arranges Loan; Price Advances

"The campaign has met with the most prompt and complete success of any I have been connected with," said C. O. Moser of New Orleans, vice-president in charge of organization and public relations of the American Cotton Co-operative Association, yesterday upon his return from a month in the San Joaquin Valley aiding in the reorganization of the California Cotton Co-operative Association and signing the members to marketing agreements.

"In this one month," he said, "we have signed up about 350 growers, representing a production of about 40,000 bales, which is a greater proportion of the total crop than any other State cotton co-operative has ever signed up in a similar period."

The national co-operative of which Mr. Moser is vice-president, was organized with the aid and under the supervision of the Federal Farm Board. It will handle the sales work of all the State co-operatives and it will also sponsor production credit corporations being formed by the State co-operatives with the aid of funds advanced by the Federal board.

LOAN ARRANGED

The California Co-operative has, he revealed yesterday, completed arrangements to receive a loan of $80,000 at interest of 1 3-4 per cent from the Farm Board, which money will comprise four-fifths of the capital stock of the new credit corporation in this State. The other $20,000 is to be subscribed by California interests. Frank A. Cooper of Tulare is chairman of the committee working out the details of this financing organization, which will loan money to members of the co-operative to finance the growing of their crops.

The financing organization will be able to rediscount its loans at the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank at Berkeley up to the amount of seven times its capital stock which means that it will be able to loan up to $700,000 to the growers.

PRICE STIMULATED

Reorganization of the California co-operative has had an immediate effect on the cotton price situation in the San Joaquin Valley, Mr. Moser said, pointing out that within the past month the basis for cotton in the valley, that is, the relation of the spot cotton price to the future price, has advanced more than $3 a bale.

Mr. Moser, who was formerly president of the American Cotton Growers' Exchange, left here last night for Dallas to visit his family before going on to Washington, where he has been assigned the task of directing a national cotton acreage adjustment campaign being sponsored by the Federal Farm Board.

OFFICERS ELECTED

He is leaving his assistant, John H. Caufield, here for another month to continue the campaign to enlist the State's cotton growers in the new co-operative. He confidently expects, he said, that by the end of the month, at least 600 growers, representing a minimum of 50,000 bales, will have signed up. That figure represents more than 25 per cent of the total expected output of the State.

Reorganization of the California co-operative was completed at a meeting at Delano on Wednesday, at which directors were elected. J. W. Guiberson of Corcoran was elected president and L. W. Frick of Bakersfield vice-president.

Visiting College Professor Dies

William Prentiss Drew, professor at Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., died yesterday morning following a heart attack at 8951 State street, South Gate.

Funeral services will be conducted today at 2 p.m. from the E. W. Holman and Son Chapel, 1724 East Florence avenue. The body will be shipped tonight to Galesburg for interment.

Dr. Drew, who was 60 years of age, had been here two months on a visit, accompanied by Mrs. Drew. Besides his widow, he leaves a son, Phillip W. Drew of South Gate.

HOSPITAL ASKS MORE FUNDS

The Los Angeles Community Welfare Federation yesterday asked the City Council to increase to $100,000 the city's annual allotment to the Children's Hospital. The request was referred to the Finance Committee.

EEL CRAWLS INTO PROMINENCE

Odd Creature From Mexico Has Legs

Mrs. Sakai and Piscatorial Freak

SALAMANDERS with feathers and two-legged eels—the wildest dream of an ichthyologist come true.

These were the strange types of creatures brought to Los Angeles this week by an American hunter, recently returned from a fishing expedition in the wilds of Mexico.

Capture of the salamander has awakened interest in the hunt for the feathered serpent described in old Mayan legends. Many expeditions have gone to Mexico in the hope of discovering some trace of the fabled serpent's existence. The latest attempt was made about six months ago by Paxson Hayes, who returned with many peculiar species of snakes but not the feathered one.

The freak salamander is of the usual type except for six yellow and black feathers standing upright in the form of a crown directly in back of its head. Each feather can be moved independently of the others.

Piscatologists have advanced the theory that the feathers are used to help the salamander in its movements through the water. It also has a transparent tail as long as its body.

The eel, except for the fact that it is a biped, is the same as those sold in local fish stores. Each foot is about one inch long and has five claws. The feet are used to aid the eel in crawling along the bottom of a stream.

Hundreds of offers from interested collectors to buy the piscatorial freaks have been refused by their owner, Mrs. Sakai, who says she will donate them to a museum.

POLITICS

THE WATCHMAN

Trend of Political Thought and Action

—BY THE SENTRY ON HIS BEAT—

Nine Los Angeles radio broadcasting stations have united in an appeal to Southern California voters to turn thumbs down on Proposition No. 26 on next Tuesday's State election ballot, the so-called Sunday-closing law.

Advised by legal counsel that the measure is so ambiguously worded that under its provisions all radio broadcasting in the State might be prohibited on Sunday, and that nearly every line of manufacturing would be hindered, radio station owners and managers are daily appealing over the air for votes against the initiative.

Radio station owners and managers who are working to defeat No. 26 include Don Lee of KHJ, V. C. Freitag of KMTR, John Swallow of KFVD, Navlor Rogers of KNX, Earle C. Anthony of KFI and KECA, Monroe Manning of KMIC, Glenhall Taylor of KTM and Gerald King of KFWB.

Proposition No. 26 not only threatens industry but constitutes an attack upon personal liberty, said Mr. Lee. "This is a Sunday-closing law which, if passed, would be a powerful weapon in the hands of a small, unprogressive, un-American minority intent upon depriving intelligent people of the right to determine their actions. It is a work of rare stupidity or of deliberate deception."

The importance to the welfare of the State of getting out a heavy vote on election day will be stressed to church-goers through the United Church Federation's dedication of next Sunday as "citizen's Sunday," it was announced yesterday by H. L. Herberts, executive secretary of the Register and Vote League. Every agency available has been used in urging a record-breaking vote.

Motorists throughout the State are opposing Proposition No. 18, which proposes to make the personal property tax on automobiles collectible by the State at the time the license plates are obtained. While the purpose of the act is to catch tax dodgers, who own nothing but their automobiles, the Automobile Club of Southern California and other large automobile clubs of the State oppose it on the ground that it will increase the levies on automobiles. They argue that the existing laws are sufficient to catch the tax dodgers if the county assessors are vigilant.

Judges Hartley Shaw and Edward T. Bishop, candidates for re-election to the Superior Court, have been indorsed by every bar association in the county.

The Los Angeles County Bar Association has issued a statement to the effect that any list of its indorsements omitting the name of J. Walter Hanby for re-election is not authorized. Judge Hanby has been indorsed by the association.

Among the indorsements for Municipal Judge Sheldon for election to the Superior bench is that of the American Salon of Beauty Arts.

Regard in which Supervisor Sidney T. Graves is held by Hollywood property owners was evidenced yesterday, his campaign headquarters reported, by the action of owners of choice real estate who signed a resolution commending him for his administration and urging his re-election. Among those who signed the resolution are William S. Hart, Mrs. Wallace Reid, Francis S. Montgomery, R. V. Jones, W. R. Coyne, W. A. Miller, George Lanly, W. D. Ballantine, William Burgwald, J. Paul Geraghty, Sidney L. Briggs, Ted Haas, and Mrs. W. S. Barrows. In their resolution, the signers state of Mr. Graves: "During his incumbency we have always found him alert, careful, easy of access to any and all at all times, and we believe that the best interests of the people of the entire district would be best served by returning a competent experienced official to the office of Supervisor."

Mayor Rolph, Republican nominee for Governor, is listed as an enthusiastic supporter of Proposition No. 5, the State Employees' Retirement Act, which provides for pensioning State servants after a certain term of service.

The Northern California Firemen's Association, meeting at Marysville, voted to oppose Proposition No. 2, apportioning State tax funds to firemen's pension funds. Sixteen fire departments in the northern part of the State were represented. Most of the firemen's organizations of the State and firemen themselves are now on record against the measure, supposedly drawn for the benefit of firemen. Such firemen as Chief Scott of Los Angeles, Chief Brennan of San Francisco, State Fire Marshal Stevens, Chief Williams of Fresno, and others oppose the measure.

The Pacific American Steamship Association and the Shipowners' Association of the Pacific Coast have gone on record as favoring the adoption of Proposition No. 17. This act proposes to place California's marine insurance business on a parity with foreign underwriters.

Attention of voters is called again to the fact that San Francisco Harbor is owned by the State and not by the city of San Francisco. Hence the need of asking State voters to approve the $10,000,000 bond issue for improvement of the harbor. It is recognized as a much needed bond issue and will be presented to the voters as Proposition No. 9.

NEW BIDS ASKED ON PLASTER JOB

Offers on General Hospital Unit Rejected

Supervisors Order Clerk to Advertise Again

Three Contracts Let for Other Work

Bids on the plastering job at the acute unit of the new General Hospital were rejected yesterday by the Board of Supervisors when it was discovered that the low one submitted by MacGruer & Co., amounting to $331,164, was irregular in form and subject to contest if adopted.

The next lowest bid was $379,600, submitted by E. B. Fallgren. As it was $48,436 higher than the MacGruer bid the Supervisors are of the belief money can be saved the county by readvertising for bids. On motion of Supervisor Graves the clerk was ordered again to advertise.

The bids were as follows:

Ed Westberg, $434,845; Weymouth Crowell, $512,390; William Makin, $506,371; E. B. Fallgren, $379,600; MacGruer & Co., $331,164.

Three contracts for furnishing work and equipment for the new institution were let by the board. The items and the successful firms are:

Painting, D. Zelinsky, $130,850; electric clocks, Newbery Electric Corporation, $41,725; shades, Sunset Shade Company, $12,595.35.

The awards were made on the recommendation of the allied architects' committee whose members check all bids on material and equipment before any contracts are let.

PRINCIPALS NAMED FOR NEW SCHOOL

Sniffin Will Be Head of John Marshall High With Mrs. Keith as Aide

John Marshall High School, now in course of construction to serve the East Hollywood and Griffith Park districts, will have John Madison Sniffin as its principal, the Board of Education decided yesterday on recommendation of Superintendent of Schools Bouelle. The school is expected to be ready for occupancy at the opening of the next school term.

The new principal has been in the local school system since 1912 and since 1972 has been vice-principal of Franklin High School.

The board yesterday also appointed Mrs. Geraldine Youngs Keith vice-principal of the new school. She has been in the school system since 1922 and is at present a teacher at Thomas Starr King Junior High School. This is her first executive assignment.

To fill Sniffin's place at Franklin High School the board transferred to that school George M. Montgomery, at present vice-principal of Belmont High School, and in his place at Belmont the board put D Raymond Brothers, now vice-principal of Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School. These transfers leave the post of vice-principal of the last-named school temporarily vacant.

Bandits Shoot at 'Victim' Who Foiled Scheme

Three wild shots were fired by a couple of bandits last night at Benjamin Ripsey of 2237 North New Hampshire avenue, when he foiled their attempt to hold him up in the garage of his home, which is around the corner from the home of Rupert Hughes, the author, at 4751 Los Feliz Boulevard.

Ripsey had just driven his roadster into the garage when he noticed two men in his sedan, which was also parked there. The men had opened the door and were about to step out when Ripsey jumped out of the roadster, slammed the door of the sedan, and ran down the driveway. The two men jumped out of the car and fired at him.

Ripsey turned into the driveway of the Hughes home. Hughes had just left his car to see what all the shooting was about when Ripsey dashed into his driveway. The bandits, however, did not continue the chase but turned and fled in the other direction up New Hampshire avenue.

Hughes took Ripsey into his home and telephoned to the Hollywood police, who obtained a fair description of the men.

HOLD-UP VICTIM KIDNAPED

Bandits Force Walnut Buyer Into Car and Relieve Him of $1292 in Noon-Hour Robbery

Trailed to a bank by three bandits apparently aware of his mission, Jack Fisher, a walnut buyer of 1018 Sentinel street, was kidnaped yesterday a moment after departing with $1292 in cash in his pocket, then robbed of the money and ousted from a moving automobile with a hissed threat of death resounding in his ears. The hold-up, perpetrated at noon in the 3400 block on East Ninth street, was pronounced by police as one of the most audacious jobs of its kind in their recollection.

With $990 in currency on his person, he told Capt. of Detectives Trainor, Fisher entered the California Bank's branch at Eighth street and Central avenue, and there cashed a check for an additional $302. Stuffing the wad of crisp bills into his pocket he strode from the bank, wholly unaware that he was a marked man.

As Fisher stepped into the sunlight and mingled again with the noonday procession of pedestrians, he felt a jab in the back. Before he could whirl about to investigate, a voice with a foreign accent warned him to keep walking to "that automobile on the right." He obeyed fearing to signal for help lest his captor fire.

Directed into the rear seat of the automobile, Fisher found himself between two men. The man who had ordered him into the car took his place at the steering wheel and drove south on Central avenue. All three of his captors, Fisher told police, looked like Mexicans or Italians.

Turning into East Ninth street, the car proceeded at high speed to the 3400 block, where the driver slowed it down and signaled his two companions to execute the robbery. They turned Fisher's pockets inside out until they had located the roll of bills. They then cautioned Fisher to walk behind an indicated building or suffer instant death, and shoved him from the car.

As Fisher sprawled out on the pavement the car sped away. He obeyed the command not to look until he had reached the shelter of the building; then he shot a glance after the abductors, but they were out of sight. He was unable to give police the car's license number.

HIGH SCHOOL SEPARATION PLEA FOUGHT

City Board Opposed to More of Beverly Hills for Withdrawal

Withdrawal of Beverly Hills High School from the Los Angeles City High School District and formation of a separate high school district to administer it is strongly opposed in a report adopted yesterday by the Los Angeles Board of Education. This report will form the reply of the local board to the petition submitted by the Beverly Hills elementary school district to the State Board of Education, asking for permission to call an election in Beverly Hills to form the separate high school district.

The main contention of the Beverly Hills petition is that taxpayers of that city are paying more in taxes for the support of the Beverly Hills high school than is actually being expended in the school for the education of Beverly Hills children.

While the local board recognizes this main contention, it argues that it fails to take account of the fact that the unit costs per pupil on which it is based do not include costs for general education and business supervision and administration.

The main basis of its opposition, however, is the fact that of the 1590 students now enrolled in the school 882, or more than half, reside in Los Angeles. New school facilities would have to be found for these students if the proposed separation were made effective.

Harbor Hearing Delay Granted

The public hearing to be conducted by the War Department on the proposed dredging, breakwater extension and improvement of Los Angeles Harbor, recently announced for November 26 at San Pedro, has been postponed until January 15, 1931, in the Harbor Commission's quarters in San Pedro, Maj. W. H Lanagan, United States engineer, announced yesterday.

He explained the delay had been asked by the Board of Harbor Commissioners and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Inquiry yesterday developed that the Harbor Commission asked no postponement but that chamber officials did on the ground that one of its trade experts, a member of one of its committees, will be absent in Mexico during November.

ARMED MEN ROB JEWELRY STORE

Downtown Shop Held Up in Rush Hour

Seventh-Street Crowds Not Aware of Crime

Loss May Be $5500 or as High as $50,000

Within a few feet of scores of rush-hour pedestrians, two armed bandits late yesterday held up the Wuerker Jewelry Company at 419 West Seventh street, and escaped with jewelry variously estimated in value at from $5500 to $50,000.

The robbery occurred about 5:30 p.m., when T. A. Westmayer, a watchmaker, and a clerk named Ure were preparing to close the store for the night. O. L. Wuerker, proprietor of the store, had gone to his home.

DIAMONDS SEIZED

Stepping leisurely into the shop, which is between Olive and Hill streets, the robbers first represented themselves as prospective customers, but as Ure produced a tray of diamond rings, both whipped out revolvers and commanded him not to make an outcry. Westmayer, the watchmaker, glanced up in surprise and received the same command.

While one bandit kept both men covered, the other walked behind the counter and helped himself to the contents of several trays. A moment later he and his companion walked from the store and were lost in the pedestrian traffic on Seventh street.

LOSS UNCERTAIN

Westmayer placed the loss, which he declared was represented principally by unset diamonds, at approximately $50,000. Wuerker, however, told police he believed an inventory would reveal it to be about $5500.

The hold-up was the second experienced by Wuerker during his business career here. Several years ago his store, then located in the old Orpheum Theater Building, was held up in a similar manner and looted of several thousand dollars in jewels.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the improvement of Gravois avenue between Charnwood and Lansdowne avenues and for the improvement of Regal Place at Cahuenga Boulevard.

WOMAN TRAPS SUSPECT

Man Accused of Victimizing Many of Fair Se

Varied Ruses Upset by Feminine Officer

Trusting women in Canada, San Francisco, Los Angeles and cities will learn today that a man they accuse of having victim was taken into custody here last night through a clever tra member of their own sex, a policewoman who is not easily decei

The man is Anson L. Shepard, 36 years of age, well dressed and with an easy flow of language. He is accused of having sometimes represented himself to be Royal R. Brown, the writer, in need of a secretary and literary assistant, and at other times as a physician who desired to employ an attractive nurse or perhaps a housekeeper, and yet again a general assistant.

ANSON L. SHEPARD

On three occasions, according to charges on police blotters, he forsook business entirely and made himself subject to accusations of very grave character. Grand theft is another charge lodged against him.

Policewoman Mary Ross laid the trap, which was sprung when Detective Lieutenants Sanford and Mollinette walked into an apartment near Western avenue and Santa Monica Boulevard and snapped a pair of handcuffs about Shepard's wrists.

Police say Shepard made an astonishingly frank confession of his activities, which have extended through five years, two countries and many provinces and States.

San Francisco has a long list of women who are said to have lost baggage, money or jewels through becoming acquainted with Shepard, and there are at least five others in Los Angeles who have made complaint to police against him. These are Mrs. Margaret Peddie of 2059 West Sixty-fifth street, Miss Beverly Vaughn of 3451 Third avenue, Loris Rooney of 1953 Ivar avenue, Marie Nielsen of 915 West Seventeenth street and Maurine Simpson of 1117 West Forty-ninth street.

Shepard's method, according to police, was to communicate with women and girls who advertised for positions in the newspapers. He would find pretexts for borrowing money, or disappearing with their baggage or making love, it is said.

Determined to trap the man at his own game, Policewoman Ross put an attractively worded advertisement in a local newspaper and Shepard answered. A meeting was arranged and Detective Lieu Sanford and Mollinette came soon after.

After telling his story, he locked in a cell on charges of ing bad checks, grand theft, and three cases of attack.

FRENCH APPLE PIE

M. McK., Inglewood: Bake a shell, peel, core and cut in quarters twelve medium-sized tart apples and place them in a saucepan with three tablespoonfuls of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of lemon rind, and a small piece of stick cinnamon. Let simmer slowly until the apples have been reduced to a thick, smooth mass, add three tablespoonfuls of apricot preserve and the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs, pour into a baked pie shell and when cool cover with whipped cream that has been flavored with vanilla.

CHESS PIE

Line a pie tin with pastry, having a high rim around the edge, beat to a cream one-third of a cupful of butter, one cupful of sugar, the yolks of four eggs and two egg whites, add one cupful of seedless raisins, mix altogether, pour into the pastry-lined tin, place in a rather hot oven for the first ten minutes, then reduce the heat and bake until firm. When partly cool, cover with a meringue made with the two remaining egg whites and a few drops of lemon juice. Brown with the meringue in a slow oven.

BOSTON CREAM PIE

Two eggs, one cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two-thirds of a cupful of sugar, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of scalded milk, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Beat the egg yolks until creamy and fold into them the stiffly beaten egg whites, sift the flour, baking powder, sugar and salt together three times and gradually add it to the beaten mixture, add the hot milk very slowly and the extract. Bake in floured layer cake tins in a moderate oven. When cool put between the layers the following cream filling: One-half cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one-eighth teaspoonful of salt, two eggs, three-fourths cupful of scalded milk, one tablespoonful of butter, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Mix the sugar, cornstarch, salt and beaten eggs together, gradually pour over this the scalded milk, add the butter and cook in a double boiler until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Add the flavoring, allow to cool and spread between the layers of the cake.

BUTTERSCOTCH WAFERS

E. A. M., Redlands: There was a mistake made in the amount of flour used in the wafers. It should have been two cupfuls of flour and three eggs.

MOCK MINCE MEAT

F. W., Burbank: Six green tomatoes, six apples, one-fourth pound of seedless raisins, one-fourth pound of seeded raisins, one tablespoonful of cinnamon, one-fourth cupful of fruit juice, such as orange, or any fruit juice remaining from canned fruit, one-fourth cupful of vinegar, one-half cupful of citron, three tablespoonfuls of grated orange rind, one teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of cloves, one-half teaspoonful of allspice, one-half teaspoonful of ginger, one-fourth teaspoonful of nutmeg. Wash the tomatoes, cut off the stem and blossom end and cut in small pieces, chop the apples, add all the rest of the ingredients, place in a saucepan and cook slowly until thick, this amount will make about three pies, but you can increase the recipe, place it in jars while hot, seal and keep until the holidays.

BURNT SUGAR CAKE

A. B. W., Anaheim: Beat to a cream one-half cupful of butter, gradually add, beating constantly, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, then add the well-beaten yolks of three eggs, sift two and one-half cupfuls of flour with four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and add alternately to the butter, sugar and egg mixture with one cupful of cold water and beat well, add three tablespoonfuls of burnt sugar and one teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Beat again, then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs, place in oiled and floured layer cake tins in a moderate oven and, as soon as raised to the top of the pan, increase the heat to 400 deg. Fahr. and finish the baking. Be sure and test it with your fingers. When it is done it will leave no impression when tested.

POMEGRANATE JELLY

E. D., Los Angeles: Pick the pomegranates before they are quite ripe and roll them until they are soft, then cut a small slit in the side and squeeze out the juice, being careful not to get any of the pips, as they are bitter, then strain the juice through a fine cloth, place it in a saucepan and for every cupful of juice add one tablespoonful of lemon juice, heat the juice and add one cupful of sugar for each cupful of the pomegranate. Cook until two drops will form on the spoon and run together. Place in your sterilized glasses and allow to cool.

WHOLE-WHEAT MUFFINS

G. G. B., Los Angeles: Sift three cupfuls of 100 per cent whole-wheat flour with one tablespoonful of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt and six level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, add two well-beaten eggs, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter and one and a half cupfuls of milk. Beat until smooth, fill buttered muffin pans two-thirds full of the mixture, brush the top with melted butter and bake twenty minutes in a hot oven.

OVEN CONTROL

You can get an oven control and have it put on your gas range and am sure they will be glad to do it for you if you will go to a hardware store and ask about it. If not, you can buy a small oven thermometer and set it inside of your oven and that will work just as satisfactory.

ONIONS AU GRATIN

J. B. C., Los Angeles: Cut boiled onions into quarters, place a layer of them in a baking dish and cover them with a layer of white sauce, sprinkle with bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter, season with salt and white pepper and sprinkle over the top grated cheese, continue this way until the required amount has been used, having the last layer of crumbs, and cheese.

Your other question for a fancy salad will be given in next week's Practical Recipe column.

*Select a round steak of medium thickness, remove all fat and gristle, and cut into pieces about four inches in diameter. On each piece place a mound of the following dressing: Slice and slightly toast the desired amount of real whole-wheat bread or whole-wheat muffins. Break into bits and moisten with milk. Add diced celery, minced ripe olives, ground roasted peanuts, and seedless raisins, gauging the quantities to suit your own taste. Mix all together by tossing about with a fork, being careful not to add too much milk—only enough to hold ingredients together.

Roll each piece of meat around the dressing and fasten with toothpicks, place on grill and brown on all sides. Put into heavy pan (such as iron skillet or Dutch oven) with a small amount of boiling water, cover tightly and let simmer for an hour over a slow fire. Add a little cold water from time to time as needed.

SUIT AGAINST CRUZE TO BE HEARD LATER

Pauline Starke's suit against James Cruze, motion-picture director, in which the actress seeks $6050, asserting breach of contract, yesterday was continued by stipulation of counsel until February 5, 1931. Miss Starke's complaint, filed in the Superior Court, asserts that she entered into a contract with Cruze on May 9, 1929, to portray the role of the wife in "The Great Gabbo." She sets up that she was to be engaged for four weeks at $1500 a week and that on May 14 she began work. Four days later Cruze discharged her, she adds.

BURGLARS BUSY, ALSO BANDITS

Twenty-one Homes, Stores Entered by Thieves

Highwaymen Hold-up Seven, Police Report Shows

Robbery Record Now Above Last Month's Figure

Burglars broke into twenty-one dwellings and stores and obtained $5000 worth of valuables and bandits perpetrated seven robberies in which the plunder totaled $2170 in cash and jewelry Wednesday night and early yesterday morning.

Robberies so far this month have reached 131, an increase of twenty-seven when compared with the total of 114 last month, while burglaries increased from 435 to 455.

WILL WATCH IDLE

Attributing the crime increase in a large measure to the unemployment situation Chief Steckel yesterday declared that special efforts will be made to prevent any large influx of idle men into the city. The vagrancy squad under Detective Lieutenant Learnihan will be enlarged to patrol the railway yards and highways inside the city limits. Learnihan reports that large numbers of idlers have already started to come in.

These men will be ordered to move on, Steckel said, as lack of jail facilities, due to construction work at the Lincoln Heights stockade, makes it impossible to hold them as vagrants as has been done in former years. The blockade system will also continue in force, Steckel said, with motorcycle officers added to the regular patrolmen assigned to this work nightly.

ROBBED IN BED

The most remunerative robbery from the standpoint of the bandit Wednesday night occurred in the apartment of M. H. Shenitzer at 337 North Cornwall avenue. Shenitzer reported he was asleep in bed when a bandit who had crawled through a window, poked him in the side with a revolver and demanded his jewelry.

He pointed to a $1100 ring on Shenitzer's finger. "Come on, pull it off or I'll bite it off," he said.

Besides the ring the bandit obtained a woman's ring valued at $850 and $12 in cash. He then locked Shenitzer in the bathroom and left through a window. Shenitzer broke the lock on the bathroom door a few moments later and reported the case to police.

As he was about to drive away from the Lakeside Golf Club, F. C. Krueger of 939 Muirfield Road was held up by two youthful bandits armed with revolvers and robbed of $110 in cash. After ordering Krueger to drive on the bandits stepped into an automobile and fled in the opposite direction.

A bandit wearing a black Halloween mask held up Jim Loving in an oil station at 2236 East Seventh street and robbed him of $41. Loving was forced to jump over a back fence and told to run for two blocks. "I'll plug you if you turn around before I get away," the bandit warned.

BANDITS GET CASH

L. C. Dixon of 2600 South Hoover street was sitting in his automobile with Miss Helen Pursley of 1205 North Alexandria avenue at Quebec and Vine streets, according to another report, when two bandits with hats pulled low over their faces, held them up and robbed them of $4.

Black Halloween masks were also worn by two bandits who held up T. J. Medland in his drug store at 6508 Crenshaw Boulevard and, after locking him in a small room, plundered the cash register of $35.

"Keep your trap shut and your arms down if you want to live," growled a bandit who leveled a revolver at Clifford Gleason in an oil station at 640 West Washington Boulevard. Gleason reported he lost $20.

Dr. Lawrence Harrell of 1556 North Beverly Glen Boulevard reported he was forced into the curb near his home by two bandits and robbed of $10.

Burglars obtained $900 in jewelry and clothing from the home of Mrs. E. F. Lodoiel at 5006 Marathon street.

DIVORCE CASE FAILS TO ANNOY CLARA BOW

Clara Bow, the screen's famous red head, yesterday refused to be annoyed or to enter into a discussion of a divorce case filed in a San Francisco court by the wife of Elmer F. Remmer, part owner of a Lake Tahoe resort where she lost $13,900 and then repudiated her checks. In the divorce complaint Miss Bow's name received prominent mention.

Mrs. Remmer asserts that ever since the publicity her husband received following Clara's visit to the resort with Will Rogers that he has told her she is a social detriment "because he is now hobnobbing with the elite of the country as a result of his handling of the Clara Bow incident."

"Its even too ridiculous for me to discuss," Clara said at the studio yesterday. "I've made all the statements I'm going to about that incident. Its closed so far as I am concerned."

Miss Bow went to the resort, Calneva, on the California-Nevada line at Lake Tahoe, to visit her boy friend, Rex Bell, who was playing in a Will Rogers picture. Clara, Bell and Rogers made a visit to the resort. Clara avers she was playing with 50-cent pieces and made out some blank checks to meet her obligations.

When the bank notified her that $13,900 worth of checks had come through from Calneva Clara refused payment, asserting she had not been told the 50-cent pieces in reality represented $100 each.

Humane Groups Ask Crail For Support on Law

Passage of the antivivisection act now pending before Congress was urged yesterday when representatives of fifteen humane organizations in Los Angeles county conferred with Representative Crail and presented him with petitions of 4000 voters of the Tenth Congress District.

The petitions asked the putting an end to all experimentation on dogs in the governmental laboratories located in the District of Columbia. Other petitions signed by voters of the Ninth Congress District will be presented later to Representative Evans, according to Mrs. Rosemonde Rae Wright, president of the California Antivivisection Association, who headed the delegates.

Ex-Councilman Roberts Dies

Funeral services for W. A. Roberts, one-time State Assemblyman and City Councilman, who died unexpectedly Tuesday night, will be conducted at 3:30 p.m. today in the Wee K'rk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale. The mourners will include delegations from the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles and the Elks Lodge, No. 99, headed by Rev. Clyde P. Metcalf and J. J. Doyle.

Mr. Roberts, who had been a resident of the city twenty years, lived at 5327 Monte Vista street. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Hatti May Roberts; two sons, Harold William Roberts, bandmaster, and Russel B. Roberts, radio technician, and one brother, John W. Roberts, San Francisco.

The following former associates and friends have been named honorary pallbearers:

Mayor Porter, Judge Crail, Judge Ambrose, Col. Dwight M. Green, Col. Harry Burdam, Edward A. Dickson, Charles Randall, Frank S. Hutton, J. Paul Elliott, Dr. W. L. Y. Davis, Dr. T. J. O. Volkman, L. Fred Edmiasten, George Lee, Lee Porter, J. Pratt Ellis and James Garth.

Honorary Frat to Be Installed

A chapter of Alpha Pi Zeta, national honorary social science fraternity, is to be established at the University of Southern California on Saturday evening, the ceremony to take place at the residence of Dr. George D. Mangold, professor of sociology, 1337 West Forty-first street, Los Angeles.

Alpha Pi Zeta has chapters at Princeton, Northwestern, Minnesota, Chicago University, North Dakota and at the University of Missouri. Dean F. A. Middlebush of the University of Missouri is national president.

"POP" SWEENEY PAID TRIBUTE BY OFFICIALS

Captain of Police Clarence J. (Pop) Sweeney, who retires tomorrow after twenty-one years' service, got the surprise of his life yesterday. Sergt. Eddie Barnes in the transportation department of which Sweeney has been the head for ten years, called for him at the City Hall and remarked that a few of the boys wanted to say good-by to him in the police garage.

"Pop" went along. And when he got to the garage he found, assembled amid bunting and flowers, Mrs. Sweeney, Mayor Porter, members of the City Council, Chief Scott of the Fire Department, the entire personnel of the Police and Fire commissions, Chief of Police Steckel with the complete staff of his executive officers, police and detective captains from all police divisions, and not less than 500 members of the various public services of the city, and friends.

After ex-Deputy Chief of Police Hilf extolled his career and a dozen others told of a lot of good things they knew about him, "Pop" recovered his equilibrium sufficiently to get up and say, "Doggonit, this is just too much for me." But he said a lot more and tried to reflect the credit given to him to the "boys" who had worked with him.

"Pop" always had the reputation of being able to get more out of the City Council than any other man in any of the city departments, according to Chief Scott.

"Whenever I wanted a new fire engine I always found 'Pop' ahead of me with a requisition for new ambulances," said Scott. "And now that he is leaving maybe I'll be able to get somewhere."

Chief Steckel closed the ceremonies by presenting a large electric refrigerator to the veteran captain as token of esteem from members of the police department.

Wilma Goodwin, editor of the 1930 University of Southern California comic magazine, Wampus, will be official hostess at the annual convention of the Western Association of College Comic Magazine Editors to be conducted in Los Angeles November 13 to 15.

Editors from Oregon, Washington, Colorado, Arizona and California will attend. Miss Goodwin is the second girl to edit the Trojan comic sheet.

U.C.L.A. ENTERTAINS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Delegates from twelve college newspapers on the Pacific Coast assembled as guests of the University of California at Los Angeles yesterday, when the annual convention of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press Association opened at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house.

The convention is under the direction of Carl Schaefer, president of the association, and Tom Davis, vice-president. The two officers are editor and business manager of the California Daily Bruin, U.C.L.A. student newspaper.

A tour of the Paramount studios with luncheon on the lot will begin today's program of activities for the visiting delegates. In the afternoon separate meetings of the editorial and managerial contingents will be held on the campus at Westwood. An evening banquet and attendance in a body at the U.C.L.A.-Stanford football game will complete the day's functions.

Bowman Leaves Most of Estate to His Brother

Dr. William Burley Bowman left most of his $500,000 estate to his brother, Charles Chester Bowman, according to Dr. Bowman's will, on file yesterday.

The brother of the decedent was bequeathed $50,000, personal effects, real estate and a share in the residue. William Robert Bowman, father of the decedent, who lives in Washington, D. C., will get $5000 and an income of $100 a month for life. E. B. Hager, uncle, was bequeathed $5000; Cathering Hager, grandmother, $1000; Miss Clare Heine, secretary, $5000; Miss Gertrude Tucker, former employee, $2500, and employees of Dr. Bowman's X-ray laboratory will divide $5000 among them, according to the length of their employment.

GIRL NEAR TO DEATH IN MOTORCYCLE CRASH

Katherine Sullivan, 18 years of age, of 149 South Alvarado street, was probably fatally injured early yesterday morning when a motorcycle on which she was riding with J. S. Purseley, 23, of 504 West Twentieth street, collided with a light auto truck at Beverly Boulevard and Alvarado street. Purseley received a severe sprain of the back. The truck, according to police, was driven by W. H. Welty of 1502½ San Fernando Road.

FOES OF BONDS TELL OF BEATING

Power Bureau's Employees Accused of Terrorism

Letter to Board Reports on San Pedro Slugging

Commissioners Get Warning on Propaganda Fund

Complaint of a virtual campaign of terrorism directed against citizens opposing the proposed $13,300,000 power bonds, culminating in the beating up of a man at San Pedro by asserted employees of the Power Bureau, was forwarded to the Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday.

According to a letter of protest signed by prominent men of San Pedro, a citizen distributing literature against the bonds was set upon and beaten by two men who took his literature from him and destroyed it.

LETTER OF PROTEST

The letter of protest sent to the Power Bureau, is as follows:

"Men employed by your department soliciting votes in San Pedro for power-bond issue on the ballot for the November election have become so overzealous in their work as to threaten violence to citizens working in opposition thereto. They have persistently destroyed literature, tampered with cars, and threatened to wreck automobiles employed in the work with trucks owned by your department. At Twenty-third and Leland streets this morning two of the men beat up a citizen and destroyed all literature.

VIOLATE PRINCIPLES

"Your department has no right by reason of its official connection to violate the American principle of fair play. Both sides have the full right to present their arguments to the people of Los Angeles. The actions of your men bring your department into ill repute and thus directly thwart the very cause they are advocating.

"The undersigned, regardless of our stand upon the particular bond issue, hereby protest to you against this sort of vandalism, and demand that any of your employees engaged in such rowdyism be instantly dismissed."

Those signing included Henry E. Sherer, chairman of the board of the Bank of San Pedro; Gilbert C. Van Camp of the Van Camp organizations; Robert C. Baly, president of the Bank of San Pedro; H. M. Carr, real-estate man; George G. Aickenhead, contractor, and A. B. Moores.

SIMILAR COMPLAINTS

Similar complaints have been registered with the Board of Water and Power Commissioners against the conduct of power bureau employees "ganging" meetings held to discuss the power bonds. It has been charged that employees have moved in on such meetings, interrupted speakers opposed to the bonds, and in other ways hampered a free discussion of the question. Upon receiving one such protest the board adopted a resolution last Tuesday expressing itself as opposed to such tactics and ordering employees to desist. When the matter was then being discussed before the board, Dr. John R. Haynes, president, objected to Commissioner Strassberger's phrasing of his resolution on the ground that it assumed that the complaint made was justified and that employees were indulging in such tactics.

BOARD WARNED FUNDS MUST NOT BE UESD

A warning that city funds are being used for the promotion of the $13,300,000 power bonds is contained in a letter filed with the City Council and the Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday by Harold J. Perkins, a subdivider, with offices in the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Perkins, while declaring that such expenditure is against public policy, cites in his communication the noted Mines case, wherein the board members were required to reimburse the city for public money expended in a power bond campaign.

The letter is as follows:

"As a taxpayer of the city of Los Angeles, this letter is directed to you on behalf of myself and all of the citizens of said city, and in the interests of safeguarding the public funds of the city against illegal expenditures.

"I distinctly recall that within the last few months the municipal affairs of the city of Los Angeles were in such a condition that the strictest economy was advocated by the Mayor and by the Finance Committee of the City Council. My recollection is that contemplated reductions in salaries and suspension of many municipal employees was considered. I am greatly surprised, therefore, to learn, on what appears to be good authority, that you, or some of you, have recently authorized the illegal payment of large sums of money of the city for the purpose of promoting the $13,300,000 power bond issue on the November ballot.

"On a matter such as this, where it is well known that the majority of the citizens of this community entertain grave doubts as to the propriety of assuming further bonded indebtedness for power purposes, it would seem strange, even though legally permissible, that you, or any of you, would authorize, directly or indirectly, the expenditure of the taxpayers' money for this or any other political purpose.

"Your attention is hereby called to the decision of the Supreme Court of the State of California in the case of W. W. Mines vs. Del Valle, et al, 201 Cal. 273, which clearly holds that for such illegal expenditures you may be individually held liable.

"Respectfully yours,
"HAROLD J. PERKINS."

WORTHLESS CHECKS CHARGED TO COUPLE

Mrs. Freda Collins, 22 years of age, of 6090 Salem Place, was arrested yesterday by Detective Lieutenants Posner and Crowley charged with having passed worthless checks at Hollywood department stores. Police say the woman was also known as Freda Breeding. James A. Breeding, 27, was taken into custody at the same address accused of having cashed worthless checks in stores at Glendale.

OIL-UNIT GROUP WILL BE NAMED

Kettleman Hills Regulation Project Goes Forward

Committee of Engineers and Attorneys to Handle Job

Word Follows Deliberations of Conservation Body

A committee of engineers and attorneys will be appointed at once to draft the operators' plan for future development of the Kettleman Hills oil field, according to an announcement by the oil and gas conservation committee headed by William Reinhardt. This is taken as an indication that rapid progress was made at yesterday's session of the committee, held in the assembly rooms of the California Oil and Gas Association.

Announcement of the proposed appointment of a drafting committee was made at the close of the yesterday's meeting. Chairman Reinhardt and members of the committee expressed themselves as pleased with the results of the discussions and predicted early adoption of a unit plan for Kettleman Hills. It was not indicated how many members will comprise the committee of engineers and attorneys, nor was it made known who will serve as chairman of the group.

A word of praise for the work was given Dr. George Otis Smith, chief of the United States Geological Survey and personal representative here of Secretary of the Interior Wilbur. Dr. Smith has made six trips to the Pacific Coast in the interest of the Kettleman Hills unit plan, having attended every session of the oil and gas conservation committee. He was credited with imparting to the operators the attitude of the government and aiding materially during the deliberations to form a plan for future operations.

WOODCOCK LAUDS DRY STAFF, THEN LEAVES

After completing an inspection of Federal prohibition offices in Southern California, Col. Amos W. W. Woodcock, head of the enforcement division of the prohibition department, left yesterday for San Francisco. While here, Col. Woodcock praised the manner in which the local prohibition department is conducted. He will leave shortly for Honolulu to complete his inspection.

COUGARS LEAVE FOR CRUCIAL CONTEST WITH OREGON STATE

PULLMAN (Wash.) Oct. 30. (AP)—Washington State's Crimson Cougars went on the prowl tonight to meet the team they have fought by proxy all week—Oregon State.

PAUL SCHISSLER

BABE HOLLINGBERY

Coach Buck Bailey, who scouted the Orangemen, organized a mythical Beaver football team, which gnawed and slapped Hollingbery's regulars with all the strategy O.S.C. is known to have. The thirty-five Cougars who entrained had been pointed and whetted against O.S.C. for months, and they had put the University of Washington game, last hurdle in their race toward the conference title, out of their minds. They had matched an intricate defense against a Notre Dame shift and O.S.C. tricks for weeks. Coach Hollingbery said he hoped for a dry field at Portland Saturday, for a wet grid when this is the Cougars' first experience on the dirt of Multnomah Stadium might gum the W.S.C. attack. W.S.C. will work out at Portland tomorrow.

TUNNEY IN LEGAL BATTLE

Gentleman Gene Returns to Wars but This Time It Is Courtroom; on Defense Again

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Back into the fawning gaze of the crowds, the public attention he abhors, came Gene Tunney today to lift his fists in legal defense against Tim Mara's suit for $500,000 for alleged breach of contract back in the budding heyday of the retired heavyweight champion's fistic career.

Hundreds lined the long stairs leading up to the Supreme Court, flashlights popped, the almost forgotten whisper "There goes Tunney"—ran through the building. It looked more like a weighing-in day before one of his title fights than the opening of a legal battle that may pry from Gentleman Gene a fourth of the $2,000,000 fortune he amassed in the ring.

GENE TUNNEY.

The retired champion, affable and proud of the fact that he weighs only a pound more than he did the night he slaughtered Tom Heeney in his ring valedictory back in 1928, sat at the table of his counsel, Emory A. Buckner, former United States District Attorney, and followed intently the opening arguments of both sides. Presentation of evidence begins with the opening of court at 10 a.m., tomorrow.

The suit revolves about the contention of Mara, prominent politician and sportsman, that Tunney agreed to give him 10 per cent of his purse, and 25 per cent of his ring earnings during the remainder of his career, in return for Mara's aid in gaining him a title match with Jack Dempsey in 1926. The one mild sensation of the presentations was the admission of Tunney's counsel that Gene offered Mara $25,000 if the politician could influence the New York State Athletic Commission to lift the ban that had been put on the bout here. The commission had recognized Harry Wills, the "Black Menace," as the outstanding contender.

As a matter of boxing history the commission, with members George E. Brower and William Muldoon in favor and Chairman James A. Farley op-

POP WARNER'S WARRIORS PERFORM AT COLISEUM

Red Team Takes Only Bow This Season in Southland; U.C.L.A. Hopes to Make Good Showing

BY FRANK ROCHE

Stanford University's "Big Red" 1930 football machine, battered and bent from a collision with the Trojans, but still quite a figure on the gridiron market, rumbles into town this morning with "Pop" Warner at the steering wheel for an engagement tonight at the Coliseum with the Bruins of U.C.L.A.

The Cardinals despite their 41-to-12 licking at the hands of Howard Jones's warriors will rule heavy favorites to hand Spaulding's players a thumping. Tonight's appearance, incidentally, will be the only one in the Southland this season for Stanford and because of that reason between 40,000 and 50,000 fans are expected to be present when the two teams take the field. The kick-off is at 8 p.m.

"POP" WARNER

For the first time in their history the Bruins are going into a Coast Conference game with Stanford honestly believing they have a chance to get somewhere other than being trampled into the turf. Coach Bill Spaulding is not as optimistic as his players about the outcome but he is not trying to discourage them any in their views. The Bruins' attitude of everything to gain and nothing to lose is a good one in many respects, the coaching staff believes. It means they will make a fight of it from the opening kick-off.

SOUTHLAND CARDINALS

Stanford is very likely to start a team made up mostly of Southern California boys. With the exception of Laird, a left halfback and Heiser, left guard, the team that faces the Bruins will be made up of boys from the good old Southland.

Bill Simkins, Manhattan Beach flash, will come into his own tonight if things go right. Bill will play fullback for the Cards. Simkins has been in the background during most of his time at the farm. He did play last year against the Trojans but an injured knee had him out for a good deal of the season. Last Saturday he was in for about twelve minutes of the last quarter and during that time he heaved a pass on which the Cards scored one of their two touchdowns.

Phil Neill, Santa Monica youngster, and one of Stanford's leading stars, despite an injured rib will play left end. Neill got a lot of publicity from the experts early in the season but he did not show a good deal in the Trojan game. He is very likely to uncover some stuff tonight. Watch him.

Marks, a third-stringer, will hold down the pivot position for Stanford. Perry Taylor and Marcellus Albertson, first and second-string centers, respectively, are on the injured list. K. Albertson, brother of Marcellus (a name you can't help repeating) will play right end for dear old Stanford. The Stanford tackles will be Gray and Ehrhorn. The guards nominated are Hulan and Heiser. Hillman will play quarter. Laird and Caddel will be halfbacks

OXY, REDLANDS COLLIDE

Rival Southern California Conference Elevens Clash in Rose Bowl Tonight

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

With malice for all and charity toward none the Oxy Tigers and the Redlands Bulldogs will clash tonight at 8 p.m. in the Pasadena Rose Bowl. The game is the feature Southern California Conference contest for this week-end and figures to be a terrific struggle as the Tigers and the Bulldogs are very evenly matched.

Lee Trine's Redlands outfit, seriously hampered at the beginning of the season with a number of injuries, have finally got all the cripples back into shape and are out to do or die and beat the Tigers tonight.

HANK BEIDEN.

Oxy, on the other hand, after losing to San Diego State two weeks ago, more or less rested up last Saturday by letting the reserves bear the brunt of the Arizona Wildcat attack at Phoenix. While Arizona defeated Occidental, 21-0, Eddie Kienholz feels that the loss did his eleven more good than harm for most of the regulars enjoyed a restful week-end.

Last week, Redlands gave the Pomona Sagehens a wild battle, being nosed out, 6-0. However, the Bulldogs earned quite a bit of glory even in defeat, making more yards from scrimmage and from passes than did the Sagehens.

Tonight, both elevens will be at full strength, with the Tigers given the edge. However, the odds are

WHITMAN TEAM OFF FOR PACIFIC GAME

WALLA WALLA (Wash.) Oct. 30. (AP)—Twenty-nine Whitman players, including several who were recently in the hospital, left today for Portland to play Pacific University in a night-football game Friday in Multnomah Stadium.

Three regulars, Yeager, guard; Phillips, tackle, and Applegate, quarterback, will not start in the game because of injuries. With several others suffering from minor injuries, Coach Nig Borleske said he was worrying about his reserve strength.

S.C. RESERVES OPPOSE DENVER

Howard Jones Going North to Watch Bears

BY BRAVEN DYER

While Howard Jones is up north tomorrow watching California play Montana, Bill Hunter will start a group of Trojan shock troops against Jeff Cravath's hopefuls from deah old Denvah. Whether the reserves will be able to provide enough of a shock to satisfy Bill remains to be seen, but at any rate the Trojan regulars will be parked conveniently near at hand so as to prevent any undue uprising on the part of the visitors.

BILL HUNTER

Jones has not seen California play this year and inasmuch as Nibs Price is employing a modification of the Notre Dame shift, Jones wants to get a look at the formation first hand. Nibs is shifting his line after the huddle, then shifting ends and backs on the second signal. Of course, Sam Barry, Gordon Campbell and Clif Herd have already reported on what Price is doing, but Jones figured he wouldn't be needed here tomorrow and that a peek at the Bears would be time advantageously spent.

Here's the line-up Hunter will start tomorrow:

Quarterback — Blanchard Beatty.

TROBABES TACKLE CARDS

Unbeaten Freshmen Team Travels North Tonight for Game With Stanford Yearlings

University of Southern California's unbeaten freshman football team will leave here tonight on the Padre for Palo Alto to meet the Stanford babes in the Cardinal bowl on Saturday. Having already trounced the California frosh by a 27-to-0 score, the Trobabes are just around the corner from a "little big three" championship and hope to clinch the title by repeating the varsity's maneuvers of last Saturday on the Palo Alto greensward.

Following the Stanford game, Freshman Coach Aubrey Devine will leave his mentoring duties for the season to go East and scout Notre Dame for the varsity, and as the contest will be the last one with Boss Devine on the job the Trojan yearlings are on edge to make a good showing.

AUBREY DEVINE.

Homer Griffith, former Fairfax High star, made such a good impression in directing the team and carrying the ball when the Trobabes slammed the Bear Cubs two weeks ago that he is slated to get the call at quarterback from Devine. With Herald Williams, ex-Lindsay High player at full, Gordon Clark of South Pasadena at left half, and Kenneth Fay of L. A. High at right half, Coach Devine has a backfield of considerable speed and power despite the mediocre showing of the Trobabe backs earlier in the season.

Curtis Youel, Santa Ana's star center last year, will get the call at the snapperback position over Frank Williamson, brother of the varsity center, but Frank is expected to see much action against the Cardlets. Aaron Rosenberg of Fairfax at running guard, John Dye of Roosevelt at standing guard, Lawrence Stevens of Piedmont at left tackle and Ray Gribi of Hanford at right tackle, Bob Erskine of Iowa at left end and Ford Palmer of Hollywood at right end will complete the Trojan freshmen's starting line-up.

If the Trobabes win Saturday, it will mark the third straight season that a Southern California freshman team has won the "little big three" championship from Stanford

HOFFMAN NOW DIRECTOR OF BAER'S PERFORMANCES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Ancil Hoffman, San Francisco boxing promoter, announced today he had signed a contract to handle the affairs of Max Baer, sensational heavyweight of Livermore, Cal., for six months. The contract gives Hoffman the right to make matches for Baer and promote fights featuring him any place in the world.

MAX BAER.

Services of Baer, considered the finest prospect developed in this section since Jack Dempsey was getting started, are in great demand. Hoffman said he had received approximately fifty offers from eastern promoters, including some from Madison Square Garden, New York, Chicago and Boston.

Prospective matches with Young Stribling in Chicago, Jimmy Maloney in Boston and George Godfrey in Newark, N. J., were turned down by Hoffman, who said he intended to start Baer in New York City.

Baer recently was reinstated by the California Boxing Commission following investigation of the fight here August 25, last, which resulted in the death of Frankie Campbell.

Lincoln and Franklin Elevens to Clash Today in Lone City League Game Scheduled

PANTHERS HAVE CHANCE TO WIN

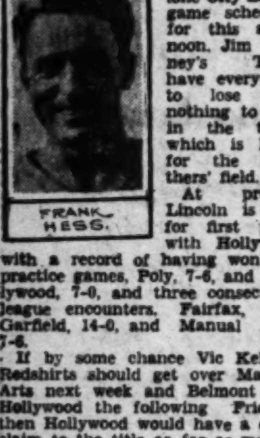
Hess's Underdogs May Upset Bengal Applecart

Tigers Out to Keep Clean Gridiron Slate

Crucial Games Listed in Out-of-Town Loops

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Heavy favorites to win, but in a great psychological spot to lose, that is how the Lincoln Tigers stack up against the Franklin Panthers in the lone City League game scheduled for this afternoon. Jim Tunney's Tigers have everything to lose and nothing to gain in the tussle which is listed for the Panthers' field.



FRANK HESS.

At present Lincoln is tied for first place with Hollywood with a record of having won two practice games, Poly, 7-6, and Hollywood, 7-0, and three consecutive league encounters, Fairfax, 6-0; Garfield, 14-0, and Manual Arts, 7-6.

If by some chance Vic Kelley's Redshirts should get over Manual Arts next week and Belmont and Hollywood the following Fridays, then Hollywood would have a clear claim to the title as far as we are concerned. Kelley, with a green team, lost two practice games, one to Lincoln and the other to Long Beach Poly.

Getting back to this afternoon's encounter, Frank Hess's Panthers are about due to break into the win column. They have lost three league games, to Belmont, 6-2; to Roosevelt, 13-7, and to Hollywood, 13-0.

In all three, the margin of victory has been small and in all three the "breaks" have been decidedly on the side of the opposing team. Franklin fans figure that the law of averages ought to start clicking today and that the Panthers should get at least an even share of the breaks.

Hess really has a good eleven this year, the only weak spot being in the center of the line. Roosevelt made most of its yardage straight over center and both guards.

Franklin's line-up today will most likely find Hanlon and Hood at ends, Kozinsky and Daley at tackles, Ivy and Woolridge, guards, and Johnson, center. Bob Allaire is slated to start at quarter, with Bob Held and Brennan, halves, and Robinson fullback.

This is "crucial" week in at least four of the many out-of-town prep leagues. Championship games are to be played this week-end in the Bay League, the Coast League, the Citrus Belt and the Foothill League.

San Diego and Santa Ana, two of the strongest elevens in Southern California, will clash tomorrow at San Diego in a game that will undoubtedly decide the championship of the Coast League. Both are undefeated to date. "Ambling Alva" Reboin is the big gun of the Saint attack, while most of the San Diego plays work around Irvin Warburton of prep track fame.

The powerful Redondo Seahawks will take on the Inglewood Sentinels in the feature tilt of the Bay League. Both the teams are undefeated in league play, with the Seahawks boasting the best record. Walt Schell, Redondo's great all-around athlete, was injured in the Santa Monica game last week and isn't in the best of shape. However, Schell will see action if he is needed, but Redondo figures to win without him.

The Whittier Quakers, heralded as the best eleven to ever gallop on the greensward for the Poet town, makes the trip to Glendale today to meet Vic Cameron's undefeated Hoover outfit. While the Quakers, with Johnny Arrambede at the helm, are figured to win, Hoover promises some very tough competition.

Butter Gorrel's Covina Colts play host to the Chaffey Tigers today in the leading Citrus Belt League struggle. Gorrel is trying hard to put Covina back on the football map and seems to be headed in the right direction this season.

LONG BEACH CEES BEAT GLENDALE

LONG BEACH, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—Long Beach Poly's Class C gridders scored a 27-2 victory over Glendale here today, the lone safety for the Dynamiters being the only score made against the Bunnies in two years of play. Johnston, fullback, scored two touchdowns on short line plunges.

The summary:

Long Beach (27)		Glendale (12)
Crilly	L.E.R.	Fareed
Pehrson	L.T.R.	Simmons
Quinn	L.G.R.	Lockwood
Bamble	C.	Alberts

SCORE BY QUARTERS

Long Beach	6	7	14	0—27
Glendale	0	0	0	2—2

Touchdowns—Johnston, 2; Rosenberg, Takahashi.

BRUINS SLATE THREE GAMES FOR CAGEMEN

Three games, including two intersectional tilts, have been scheduled by the U.C.L.A. basketball team so far, and more will be scheduled next week, according to Caddy Works, Bruin cage mentor. The conference season opens on January 9 and 10 with the Westwood Villagers facing the Stanford Cardinals in the Olympic Auditorium.

The Bruins play the reputedly strong Los Angeles Athletic Club quintet on December 20 at the club gymnasium, and two engagements will be played with the University of Montana cage outfit on December 29 and 30 at either the Olympic Auditorium or the L.A.A.C. gymnasium.

Irish, Purple Tilt Sold Out

EVANSTON (Ill.) Oct. 30. (AP)—The Notre Dame-Northwestern football game November 22, fast approaching the complexion of a mythical championship natural, already is a sell-out.

Forty-nine thousand seats, the limit of Dyche Stadium's capacity, have been sold, Kenneth L. Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern, announced today.

OXY, REDLANDS CLASH TONIGHT

very slight and the Bulldogs enjoy a great chance to break into the win column.

Trine has been drilling the Bulldogs all week on fundamentals, believing that it was their tackling, charging and blocking last week that gave Pomona the victory.

Out at Eagle Rock, Kienholz and Bill Anderson haven't let any grass grow under their feet either. The Tigers have been well instructed as to how and when to stop the Redlands aerial attack, which is Trine's most potent mode of warfare.

The Tigers are putting lots of faith in Dick Glover, the Tigers' fleet halfbacks, who wrecked havoc in both the Mexico game and in the Whittier massacre. Glover will start at full, with Bill Meyers and Tuffy Reed, halves, and Stoney Johnston, quarter.

Both the Beiden brothers, Hank and Pete, are scheduled to start in the Bulldog backfield. Hank calls signals, while Pete cavorts at left half. Frank Keele will hold down the other half, with Ralph Massey, star sophomore, at fullback.

Broken hands will keep two sophomore players out of the contest. Johnny Wadell, one of Oxy's best guards, will be on the sidelines, while Joe Rabun, speedy Bulldog backfield man, will also sit on the bench. Rabun has been nursing his injury for quite some time, while Wadell broke a bone last week.

Proof that Redlands is on the upward grade as far as football is concerned is noticed in the fact that five of the regulars this year are second - year men. Del Carlo at end, Minor, tackle; Speth, guard, and Hales at the other tackle and Massey at full are all sophomores. Besides those five, Rabun, Wanless, Holiday and Fiscus are all showing up well in their first year at varsity football.

Three other games are listed for Southern California teams for this week-end. The only local struggle will find the Cal Christian Panthers at Caltech, tomorrow afternoon The Engineers are favorites.

Chief Newman and twenty-seven Whittier Poets make the trip south to San Diego tomorrow morning. The Poets and the Aztecs will collid in the evening at Service Field.

The Pomona Sagehens with Eugene Nixon in charge leave tonight for Phoenix, where they will meet the Arizona Wildcats tomorrow afternoon. Last year the Sagehens upset the Wildcats and the southerners are out for revenge on Nixon's gang.

TWENTY-FIVE REPORT FOR LION CAGE TEAM

JEFFERSON IN 12-0 GRID WIN

Roosevelt Babes Bow to Democrat Lights

Led by a substitute quarterback whose all-around brilliance was the highlight of the game, the Jefferson High School lightweight football team upset the Roosevelt Roughriders, 12 to 0, yesterday on the losers' gridiron. Replacing Yamoto in the first quarter, Hicks threw a long pass to Saumkie, who was downed on the Roughriders' 3-yard line, from where Hicks took the ball over on the first play.

In the last period Hicks broke away from the Roosevelt linemen and ran 40 yards for Jefferson's second touchdown. Both of the attempted conversions failed. Roosevelt nearly scored in the first quarter when Slotnikow tossed a long pass to Blackman, who managed to evade the Democrats' secondary defense and then slipped and fell with nobody between him and the goal line.

The victory was the first Jefferson has won this year in league competition and was scheduled to be played three weeks ago, but was postponed because of unfavorable weather.

SAN PEDRO LIGHTIES TRIP VENICE, 19-6

San Pedro High lightweight football eleven turned in another victory yesterday, this time at the expense of the Venice babes, who were defeated, 19-6. The game was played on the Gondolier field and was marked by the strong playing of Metzger, Pirate fullback, and an 80-yard touchdown gallop in the first quarter by Masuda of Venice.

RIVERSIDE WINS OVER POMONA, 19-0

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 30.—Riverside High School sophomores defeated Pomona here this afternoon, 19-0, their third league victory. Keyes, right end, and Sawahata, quarterback, played an outstanding game for the winners.

Riverside and San Bernardino are now favorites for the sophomore championship of the Citrus Belt League. The line-ups:

BEVERLY HILLS BABES TRIM EAGLE ROCK

Scoring all their touchdowns in the last half, the Beverly Hills lightweight squad defeated the Eagle Rock babes, 27 to 6, in a game played yesterday on the winners' field. The visitors scored first when a pass from Taylor to O'Neil was good for a touchdown in the second quarter. The Beverly babes came out in the second half with a rush, however, scoring one touchdown in the third quarter and chalking up three more in the fourth. Massey, halfback, accounted for two of the markers and Frye and Hann for the other two.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD BEATS VAN NUYS

With Brean packing the ball over for two touchdowns, the North Hollywood lightweights turned in a 13-7 victory over the Van Nuys babes yesterday afternoon at Van Nuys in a San Fernando Valley League game. Foote scored for Van Nuys.

MUIR CEES NOSE OUT BURBANK BABES, 6-0

The Muir Tech Class C team proved rather rude hosts yesterday, defeating the visiting Burbank midgets, 6-0, in a close game. The only score in the game came in the second quarter when Thomas, Muir Tech quarterback and captain, ran fifteen yards around end for a touchdown. The conversion was blocked. LOYOLA IN FINAL DRILL FOR OLYMPIC CLUB TILT

Coach Tom Lieb of Loyola University will wind up his practice grind for the Olympic Club game tonight when he sends his Lions through a light signal drill under the arc lights of Wrigley Field. The Del Rey mentor has his eleven all primed for the invading club team, which meets the Lions tomorrow night at Wrigley Field.

The Olympic Club will rule heavy favorites over the lighter Loyola team, due to the splendid showing it made against Nibs Price's California eleven. The northern team beat California by a 13-to-7 score. It also boasts victories over the West Coast Army and the Los Angeles Fireman.

Although Loyola has suffered two defeats this year, the eleven has been improving rapidly and at present looks like a first-class team. In holding St. Ignatius last week to a 14-to-0 score the Lions displayed a remarkable fighting attack, which may prove disastrous to the invading clubmen.

The Lions will be without the services of two of their stellar linesmen tomorrow night. Both received injuries in the Gray Fog battle which have not yet healed. These men are Bill Sargent and Max Haines. Gerrie will replace Sargent at left end, while Frank Weber will take over Haines's duties at the right-guard position.

For the first time since the California game the Olympic Club will be able to play with all of its stars in the line-up. All the injured men have fully recuperated and will be seen in action tomorrow night. The northern team will bring thirty-five men to Los Angeles. They will arrive tomorrow morning.

ALHAMBRA LIGHTIES BEAT WILSON, 18-6

LONG BEACH, Oct. 30. (Exclusive)—A touchdown in each of the last three quarters gave Alhambra's Class B eleven an 18-6 victory over Woodrow Wilson here this afternoon. Badger, Moor halfback, scored two touchdowns on short line smashes, while Sifton, tackle, counted the third when he recovered a blocked punt and raced eleven yards for the score.

RITTERHOUSE, SAL READY FOR BATTLE

Baby Sal Sorio and Herman Ritterhouse will go through their final workouts today in preparation for their scheduled ten-round bout at the Main-street club tomorrow night. The two are making 142 pounds. Indications are Sorio will be picked to win because of his greater punching ability.

Poets Tackle Visalia J.C.

A small but scrappy Visalia Junior College football team will be seen in action Saturday night against the Whittier College freshman eleven on the Poets' field, according to reports from the northern institution. Coach Oakley Morris, a former Whittier College football captain, is hopeful of bringing home a victory for Visalia, however.

Morris's team is expected to average around 167 pounds in the line and 152 pounds in the backfield. The biggest man on the squad, Elmo Polly, weighs 180 pounds and knows how to use every bit of it when it comes to ramming into an opponent's line. Kenny Lowe, weighing but 145, is said to be a real triple-threat man. Stationed at quarterback he punts, passes, runs with the ball and guides the team. The guards Edward Mello and Clayton Partridge, are light but full of fight and ability. The latter is said to be one of the best defensive men in the valley. Pete McCain and Robert Barryhill hold down the end positions and seem to be at their best when the opposing team has the ball.

MONROVIA CEE TEAM IN GRID VICTORY

After a scoreless first half, Monrovia pushed over a touchdown in the third quarter and converted to nose out the South Pasadena lightweights, 7 to 6, in a game played yesterday on the former's field. Pasadena tallied in the final period, but was unable to score the extra point. The Tigers were making a determined effort to score again in the last period when the game ended. Bunshau accounted for Monrovia's touchdown, while Work tallied South Pasadena's marker.

TROJAN BASKETBALLERS OPEN PRACTICE MONDAY

Director of Athletics Bill Hunter today issued a call for all University of Southern California varsity basketball candidates to report Monday at 4 p.m. for opening practice in the new Trojan gymnasium. Although Sam Barry is varsity basketball coach, the first five weeks of basketball training will be in charge of Forrest Twogood, assistant coach, as Barry will be occupied as one of Coach Howard Jones's assistants in football until after the Notre Dame game, December 6.

The new Trojan gym, located in the new million-dollar Physical Education Hall, now almost completed on the Southern California campus, has a spacious floor that will give room for two practice courts, and the large turn-out that is expected by Director Hunter can be amply taken care of this season.

With three of the regulars of last year's Coast Conference championship five lost to the coming team, Southern California faces a hard pull in developing a quintet the equal of last season's title-holders. Jesse Mortensen, all-coast center, John Lehners, all-coast guard, and Frank Smith, forward, are the regulars of the championship team lost by graduation.

Captain-elect Wilbur (Web) Caldwell and Jack Gardner are the returning regulars, while Bill Pi[illegible], another letter winner of last season, will also return. What reinforcements may be expected from last year's frosh and recent junior college transfers will be revealed in the early practice sessions.

SAN PEDRO WINS CLOSE GAME FROM VENICE

In a hard-fought game, the San Pedro midgets trounced the Venice Gondoliers, 20 to 13, yesterday in a game played on the victor's gridiron. The Pirates forged into the lead in the second quarter and were never headed, although Venice almost tied the score in the third period, but the conversion which would have evened things up failed. Sardisco and Kondo starred for San Pedro, while Bradenta was outstanding for Venice.

OLD GOLD WINS..

with Broadway's Midnight Golfers

By ROBERT RIPLEY, Creator of Believe It or Not

"In the past 3 years, I have served 'Believe It or Not' facts to more than 200 million people.

"And I've never printed a fact that I could not prove. If there was the slightest doubt about any of them . . . it went in the waste basket.

"When I accepted OLD GOLD'S challenge to make a series of cigarette taste-tests, they agreed in advance to publish results . . . win, lose or draw.

"Here are the results of my latest test. 237 Midnight Golfers on the course back of the Roxy Theatre in New York tested the 4 leading brands of cigarettes . . . OLD GOLD included . . . with brand names concealed. Each smoker picked the cigarette he or she liked best. Then . . . and not until then . . . off came the masks that concealed brand names.

"And OLD GOLD won hands down . . . fair and square as a die. As everybody knows, I prove my facts. So look below and you'll see an actual photograph of the scoreboard. Believe it or not, that was the final score . . . OLD GOLD 76% ahead of its nearest rival!"

"RIP" AND SCORER. Those broad grins prove it! OLD GOLDS are leading!

Speedy Dado Favored Over Robleto in Hollywood Go Tonight

FLYWEIGHTS TO FEATURE CARD

Duffield Guest of Honor at Legion Stadium

Al Schact Puts on Famous Boxing Act

Galvis, Peltz Trade Punches in Semifinal Bout

It should be a big night at the Hollywood American Legion stadium tonight. Al Schact, who clowns with Nick Altrock in the American League and who is here with the Major League All-Star ball club, is going to do his boxing act and he may have Nick Altrock with him if Nick can get over his homesickness. Schact is a riot of fun and with Altrock with him he would make the stadium fight fans fall off their chairs with laughter.

Marshall Duffield, Trojan football quarterback, is the guest of honor and will be called to the ring and introduced to the fight fans. He will receive a wrist watch from Hollywood Post, 43, American Legion.

The fight's the thing and the main event is rated a corker. Speedy Dado and Canto Robleto, flyweights, head a bill that should be one of the best of the year. With celebrities like "What-a-Man" Art Shires, Lefty Grove and other stars of the baseball world present, Dado is out to make one of his great fights. The little Filipino has lost prestige by having his trick shoulder go bad on him when he has an important fight. His two greatest bouts should have been with Newsboy Brown and Midget Wolgast and his shoulder went bad in both shots. Dado must make up for lost time and he is starting with Canto Robleto. The Mexican doesn't fear Dado. He held him to a draw and many thought beat the Filipino at Pasadena a few years back. Robleto on that occasion looked better than the Filipino.

Having had the greater experience Dado must be rated favorite. He may find the going tough after a long lay-off. Both boys are in fine fettle.

The main event is just one of the good fights. Joe Galvis, Filipino lightweight who beat Young Papke two weeks ago, battles Benny Peltz in the semi-wind-up. Peltz is a stranger in these parts but the boys say he is a better fighter than Galvis and should win.

Young Papke is back in the special fighting Chuck Whaples. Little is known of Whaples and Papke should beat him, maybe by a knockout. Papke has lots to learn but he is a comer.

The four-rounders will be George [illegible] and Leo Domingo, featherweights in the second spot and Wid Galwin fighting Jack Campbell in the curtain raiser.

STANFORD AND BRUINS CLASH

MULHAUPT ON SHELF

The Bruin chances to do some real damage on the offense, especially on forward passes, were hit hard when Mulhaupt, left end, was put on the shelf with an infected toe. Mulhaupt has been one of the finest receivers on the Coast this season. His mate, Wellendorf, will play, but he is also ailing, according to the Bruin attaches, with an injured vertebrae.

Spaulding evidently has something cooked up for the opening period as he is starting Lenny Bergdahl in place of Capt. Eddie (King) Solomon at quarterback. Bergdahl is both a passer and a ball carrier. Solomon can pass and that lets him out. Bergdahl has been accused of not being able to run the team as well as Solomon, but of the two players Spaulding likes the former the best, although he will not come right out and say it that way. At any rate Bergdahl looked very good in the S.C. game when he got in there—hence his chance to start tonight.

Bob Decker will play right half and Howie Roberts left half. Norm Duncan will start at fullback, but Ruben Thoe will be given a shot at that if Norm shows any signs of fatigue. Thoe looked good against Caltech at that position. Decker is the best ball carrier the Bruins have shown to date. He may show some stuff tonight. The Bruin tackles will be Willoughby and Norfleet. McMillian will be used also later. The guards picked to play are J. Duncan and Gordon Jones. This is one department where the Bruins will be weak. Duncan is small and not too fast. Jones is inexperienced. They may cross up the dope, however, and turn in a whale of a game. Jim Brader, Bruin line coach, has been working hard with them all week.

The Bruin rooting section promises something new in night entertainment between halves. They won't say just what it is. I guess you will have to go to get in on it.

The Stanford team arrives on the Lark. They will stay at the Hotel Huntington.

RABBIT PUNCHES
BY PAUL LOWRY

POP AND THE CARDS

ONE FOOTBALL game doesn't make a season, and even though the Stanford Cards were licked badly by a clawing Trojan team last Saturday don't count them entirely out of the picture.

Just remember that a Trojan team which its supporters smugly believed would beat Washington State four touchdowns to one, was defeated 7 to 6.

That this same team came back like a million dollars to wreak its vengeance on a Stanford eleven, which was rated at least equal on a man-to-man basis.

This isn't pep talk for Stanford's game with the U.C.L.A. Bruins at the Coliseum tonight. With all due respect to Bill Spaulding and his battling Bruins Stanford should take that game in stride with a team composed largely of reserves.

If it can't, there is something wrong with team spirit on the campus at Palo Alto.

But I do believe Stanford will be hard to take in the remaining games on its schedule. Following tonight's fray the Cards meet Washington, California and Dartmouth in major struggles.

My guess is Stanford will win all three games.

That's how much I think of Pop Warner and Stanford despite that pasting Howard Jones's boys handed Pop's boys last week-end.

A WARNER DEFENDER

WHEN a guy's down I like to see somebody stand up for him, and the following letter from V. M. Rider of Whittier is very much to the point:

"It seems that the result of the Stanford-S.C. game Saturday has brought down a lot of criticism on the head of Pop Warner, but let's give the old boy the credit that is due him.

"Before the game he was faced with the fact that in the last two years his Cards had not scored on the Trojans. He knew that if a team can't score it can't win, and consequently devoted most of his time to developing scoring plays. If the last two games hadn't taught him that, then the Minnesota game surely did. He no doubt felt that defensively the team was okeh, and you and I and every one else thought the same thing; that is, before the S.C. game.

"So Pop, drilling his team offensively, saw them score two touchdowns, and that is not such an easy job against a team coached by Howard Jones. Warner did what he set out to do; that is, develop an offense, and the fact that his line went to pieces certainly is not his fault, because it was, and still is, I think, a good line.

"But Saturday it was up against an inspired S.C. line and that was just too bad. At that it didn't look much worse than the S.C. line did against California last year. So three cheers for Pop. He still knows just as much football as he ever did, and that's plenty."

Very pertinent remarks, Mr. Rider, and maybe you want to climb on my bandwagon that Stanford wins all its remaining games this year.

HEAVYWEIGHT BALLYHOO

IT BEGINS to look as if Jack Kearns is going to ballyhoo that proposed Max Schmeling-Mickey Walker fight for the heavyweight title into Chicago next year.

Either that, or Kearns, having nothing else to do, is having a lot of fun with a full-fledged publicity bureau.

At any rate Kearns has dug up a lot of arguments to prove that other men no larger than Walker, now middleweight king, have fared well with heavyweights.

He cites as examples James Figg, first champion of England, who fought at 170 pounds.

Charley Mitchell of England, 160 pounds, who fought John L. Sullivan twenty-nine rounds to a draw.

Joe Walcott, 142 pounds, who once knocked out a six-foot giant and won fights from men he spotted ten, twenty and thirty pounds.

Tommy Ryan, Kid McCoy, Stanley Ketchell, Sam Langford, Joe Choynski and Bob Fitzsimmons, all of whom did the same thing with ease.

Harry Greb, who made all the heavyweights run for cover.

Jack Dillon, who, as a middleweight, once beat Frank Moran, when Frank was a darned good heavyweight.

FIFTY STANFORD MEN COMING FOR GAME

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 30. (AP)—Fifty Stanford gridders left here tonight for the south where they will meet the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins Friday night.

Coach Pop Warner announced his starting line-up as follows: Ends—Colvin and K. Albertson; tackles—Grey and Ehrhorn; guards—Hulen and Dawson; center—Marks; backs—Hillman, Simkins and Caddel and Moffatt.

The Cardinal freshmen, with three regulars injured, went through a hard workout today in preparation for the game with the Southern California frosh Saturday.

Fullbacks—Havelock Fraser, Long Beach; Thomas Sherman, St. Paul, Minn.; Herald Williams, Lindsay.

Assistant Coaches Russ Saunders and Cecil Hoff will accompany the squad.

GARFIELD C's WHIP BELMONT ELEVEN, 6-0.

Coach Herb Morey's Garfield class C gridders defeated the Hilltopper Babes in a closely contested league tilt on the Bullpup's oval yesterday. The Belmont aggregation has to yet win a conference tussle this season.

After being held even for the first three quarters the Garfield eleven romped through to a 6-to-0 victory, scoring late in the final period. Working the ball to the visitors' 30-yard stripe, a Garfield man took the oval to the Hilltopper 10-yard marker on an off-tackle plunge. A short Bulldog pass was knocked down by Panich of Belmont to fall into the waiting hands of Tanaka of Garfield who carried it to the 2-yard line. Williams pushed it over on a line buck. The try for conversion was incomplete.

HOOVER CEES WALLOP WHITTIER MIDGETS

The Hoover C team ran roughshod over the Whittier midgets yesterday on the former's field to win a 40-to-0 victory over the visitors. Hoover put the game on ice in the first period when they scored thirteen points before the game was five minutes old. Bob Solomon led the Hoover attack, scoring two touchdowns and throwing passes that were responsible for two others. Davis also chalked up two touchdowns. Hushaw and Stooner accounted for the other scores.

WHITTIER LIGHTWEIGHTS WIN OVER HOOVER BABES

The Whittier lightweights trampled the Hoover babes under a 40-to-0 score yesterday, in a game played on the winner's gridiron. Kumishima scored three touchdowns and converted four extra points to establish himself as the outstanding player on the field. Crawford chalked up two touchdowns to run a close second for individual honors. Joon accounted for Whittier's other score.

SHIRES GIVEN REFEREE'S JOB

'Whataman' Will Perform in Reister-Burchard Bout

Noted Baseball Star Will Take Olympic Berth

Ex-Chicago Ball Player to Follow Jack Dempsey

Art Shires—that "whataman" of baseball, who once aspired to be a ring champion—will referee the Bobby Reister-Don Burchard semi-wind-up at the Olympic next Tuesday night on the Newsboy Brown-Claude Varner show.

"THE GREAT" SHIRES.

Commissioner James Woods yesterday wired Jack Kipper, chief inspector at the local office, to issue Shires a courtesy license.

Shires intends to follow the footsteps of Jack Dempsey in the matter of capitalizing on his name as a boxing referee. The famous Chicago ball player plans to spend the winter in California.

Brown announced yesterday that his manager, Emmett Ledwith, had practically closed for a match in London in December. His opponent will probably be Teddy Baldock.

This will make the second trip the Newsboy has made across the Atlantic. He will probably box in Paris and other European centers before returning.

Both Brown and Ledwith are having some difficulty trying to figure out their offer, which is worded in pounds and stones. The London trip means that Brown is again being sidestepped by Midget Wolgast, New York flyweight champion, and Frankie Genaro, recognized by the N.B.A.

Although Brown got the decision from Varner when they clashed a short time ago, the Bakersfield boy will be the popular choice. Varner believes he will stop the Newsboy in the return engagement and will go into the fight with more enthusiasm and confidence.

The hard-punching Varner will share honors with Reister and Billy Papke, Jr., on Tuesday's card.

Reister and his opponent, Don Burchard, are both punchers and may make the decision easy for Referee Shires. Young Reister does his training at the old gymnasium in Vernon.

Papke meets Sig Ecklund in the special event. Henry Rollins and Guy McKenna box another six. Mike Cordova and Al Hamilton clash in the opening four-rounder.

TUNNEY FACES LEGAL FIGHT

posed, reversed its position and sanctioned the match, but the licensing committee, since abolished, vetoed the affair by refusing to grant Dempsey a boxing license. The late Tex Rickard then promoted the match in Philadelphia and drew the first $2,000,000 gate in fight history.

Mara, represented by Martin Littleton, promised to prove that he had a contract signed by Tunney guaranteeing him 10 per cent of his $200,000 purse for helping bring about a match with Dempsey. Two other contracts, neither signed by Tunney, but allegedly bolstered by a letter from Gene purporting to agree to the provisions, are to be offered as evidence. counsel said, that Tunney agreed to give up 16 2-3 per cent of his earnings and his manager, Billy Gibson, 8 1-3 per cent of his share, to make up Mara's per cent.

The trend of the Tunney presentation was that Rickard "lined up" with Tunney for the Dempsey bout four days before an oral agreement was entered into between Gene and Mara on April 3, 1926, and that Tunney approached the politician only after Rickard asked: "Haven't you any friends who can go to work on the commission?"

One throwback to the old days lightened the proceedings when Littleton said relations became strained between Tunney and Mara after the politician offered the fighter, then in Florida, this first bit of advice.

"Throw away those books, that typewriter, the golf suit and dinner clothes. Come back to New York and drive a truck if you want to get anywhere in the fight game."

CALLAHAN, MILLER ON EXHIBITION RING CARD

Mushy Callahan and Benny Miller, two of the most popular Jewish boxers developed in local rings in recent years, will box an exhibition on the boxing card to be staged at the Main-street Athletic Club November 24, next. Billy Papke, former world's middleweight champion, will also appear in an exhibition, boxing Billy Papke, Jr., a likely young middleweight prospect. Carlo Curtis has also arranged an exhibition between Joe Rivers, the greatest Mexican lightweight Los Angeles ever produced, and Baby Sal Sorio, San Bernardino welterweight. The show will be staged for the purpose of raising funds for the annual Thanksgiving Day dinner for the Los Angeles newsboys.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR STEWART TODAY

Funeral services for Ed Stewart, popular semipro baseball umpire and former minor league pitcher, will be held this afternoon at the Rosedale Crematory at 10 a.m. Stewart was run into by a hit-and-run driver while driving home from a ball game last Sunday with Rod Murphy. Murphy escaped unhurt, but Stewart suffered severe injuries about the head which caused his death on the following Tuesday. Stewart was very popular with baseball players and fans throughout the country and a large gathering of his former associates is expected to be on hand for the funeral rites.

ROYAL GIANTS AGAIN DEFEATED

Grove, after whiffing the first three men to face him in the opening inning, ran into difficulty in the second, when the Giants nicked him for a brace of counters. With one away, Suttles singled to right, took third when Dixon singled, and went to second on the throw-in. Suttles scored and Dixon took third when one of Grove's fireballs whistled past O'Neill. Dixon tallied while Kress was tossing out Wells.

The All-Stars finally got to Lefty Foster in the sixth and took the lead with a five-run barrage that was climaxed by Sweeney's homer into the bleachers with two on. After Miller had fanned, Shires and Kress singled, and Heilmann walked to load the cushions. Schang, who had replaced O'Neill behind the plate, singled to center, Shires and Kress counting. Henry, replacing Groves flied out, but Sweeney followed with his circuit clout to clean up. O'Doul doubled and Foster craved retirement, but was prevailed upon to stay in, and got rid of Gehringer and ended the round.

Charleston blanked the All-Stars in the last three rounds, but the Giants picked up their run in the eighth when Allen got a home run inside the park when his hot grounder queerly hopped past Kress, and then Miller, to go to the center-field fence. Score:

		R.	H.	E.
All-Stars	...100 005 000—	6	10	1
Giants	.......020 000 010—	3	6	0

RUBE WALBURG HURLS AFTERNOON VICTORY

In a free-hitting struggle that saw Skipper Fred Haney's Kelley Kars almost but not quite hit Rube Walberg as hard as the big leaguer's rapped Augie Walsh and Glenn Gabler, Lefty Grove's All-Stars defeated the local Winter League club, 10 to 8, at Wrigley Field yesterday afternoon.

Walberg, one of Connie Mack's regular hurlers, was touched for fourteen safeties by the Kelley Kar klouters. Rube had trouble baffling the locals in the early rounds but finished strong and managed to send ten of the Kelley Kar crew down on strikes.

Harry Heilmann, Cincy Red outfielder, showed some of the wallop that three times made him the American League batting king in years gone by by ramming out two home runs and a double in five trips to the plate. Harry poked one over the center field wall off Walsh in the third and touched Gabler for a drive over the left-field fence in the ninth. Red Kress, St. Louis Brown shortstop, also clicked a circuit clout for the All-Stars along with a double and two singles. Skipper Haney and Cedric Durst poled out homers for the Kelley Kars.

JUDY ZUNIGA SCORES KAYO OVER CAMPBELL

In one of the most sensational bouts ever witnessed in the Arena, Judy Zuniga scored a two-round knockout over Cliff Campbell in the scheduled eight-round main event at Pasadena last night. Zuniga was on the floor twice in the first round, but came back strong in the second to put Campbell away with one punch. In the semi-wind-up Lew Title won the decision over Rickey Aguayo. Pete Cardenas won the special event from Jack Leyva. In the other bouts Bob Douglas outpointed Steve Pollock. Benny Moselle decisioned Kid Venerable, and Young Andy Martin won over Harry Alton in the curtain raiser. Reg Gilmore refereed the card.

"TIMES" NINE WINS 10-4 BALL CLASH

Merely chalking up another victory in its lengthy string of victories, The Times indoor baseball team last night conquered the Los Angeles Evening Express, 10 to 4, in a practice game. The Times outfit is unbeaten in its league season, and having drawn a bye, took on the Express in a practice contest. The unbeaten squad has only to beat the Hollywood Cubs next week to insure capturing the league pennant.

LIONS WHIP PIRATES

The Gilmore Lions trounced the Union Oil Pirates, 6 to 1, last night in a Southern California Major League ice hockey game at the Winter Garden rink. The victory put the Lions in a tie with the Pirates for second place in the league standings. A fist fight between Jack Lawrence of Gilmore and Rube Brandow of the Oilers enlivened the affair. Charley McDonald goalie for the winners, was the outstanding player of the evening.

JUDSON A.C. WINS

The Judson Athletic Club defeated the Waldemars, 23 to 12, in a basketball game played last night at the Hazard Playgrounds. Warren, forward for the winners, was high-point man with 13 digits.

Halfbacks — Kirkwood and Hammack.
Fullback—Musick or Shaver.
Ends — Sparling and Clarke.
Tackles — Plaehn and Brown.
Guards—Black and Jensen.
Center—Hawkins.

Beatty will be followed by Al Maloney and there is a chance that Duffield, Mohler and all the other big shots may play a few minutes.

Jones feels that Musick, who is a huge chap inclined somewhat to obesity, can stand a little work this week-end so Jim will be used at full, along with Shaver and perhaps Ritchey and Ev Brown.

Ernie Smith did so well against Washington State, Utah and Stanford that Tay Brown is virtually a second stringer now. And both the boys are sophomores. Brown was bothered by an injured hip or Smith probably never would have secured the chance to show what he could do. Which has been the case with many good football players at Southern California.

Byron Gentry would normally be in at running guard tomorrow, but an infected foot put him in the hospital and it is unlikely that he will play at all. Jensen, third stringer, will start in his place.

Cravath has been quoted as thinking that "Utah is as good as Washington State." For Jeff's health it is a lucky thing that his Denver boys are not meeting Washington State this season for I am sure that the terrible Cougars would resent that remark almost as much as the Trojans did Mr. Glenn Warner's oration. Utah may and probably does have a fine football team. Even if Jeff is right it doesn't hold out much hope for tomorrow inasmuch as the Trojans were only one point worse than Washington State, while Denver struggled along some 59 digits behind Utah.

An enthusiastic member of Harold Roberts's inimitable Trojan band, in an effort to supply spice and ginger to what looks like a rather unappetizing menu, writes in that it won't matter much about the football game for the well-known and justly famous Mr. Roberts has prepared a couple of his quaint stunts calculated to knock even 200-pound spectators out of their respective seats. So there may be some excitement after all.

Incidentally, if you are looking for excitement don't pass up tonight's Stanford-Bruin game at the Coliseum. The Cards ought to be mad enough to tear down Zack Farmer's big bowl but even if they are the battling Bruins ought to be capable of hindering them from making a thorough job of it.

PRICE STARTS REGULARS AGAINST MONTANA TEAM

BERKELEY, Oct. 30. (AP)—With the varsity eleven still working behind closed gates for the Southern California tilt on November 8, Coach Nibs Price today announced the starting line-up of California for its game with Montana Saturday.

The line-up finds Avery and Stone, ends; Del Giorgio and Cahn, tackles; Capt. Handy and Beckett, guards; Medanich, center; Griffiths, quarter; Schaldach and McCutcheon, halves, and Castro, full.

The Saturday Round-up

Yale-Dartmouth: A week ago we rated the Yale-Army game as a toss-up. There was no choice. The score was 7-7. What is more, each won a game in the motion pictures. That made it a double tie.

The Yale-Dartmouth game is almost in the same class, except that on this occasion the Green looks to have something on the Blue—just enough to win with. The center of that Green line is a formidable combination with Andres, Bromberg and Hoffman. The whole line is strong and Dartmouth has her full supply of good backs.

The one off-side detail is that Dartmouth has developed a habit of losing to Yale and there are times when habits are hard to break. The Green's slogan for this game should be—"if ever—why not now?" It will be a battle between two strong teams, but the Green should float about a touchdown higher than the Blue.

Pennsylvania-Kansas: With big Jim Bausch in the line-up, what now looks to be the best team Kansas ever sent anywhere has a good chance to beat Pennsylvania. Bausch is one of the best backs in football—one of the most dangerous—and he is playing with a big, fast team that can give him all the support anyone needs.

Out in the Big Six section they rate Kansas as one of the strongest aggregations many seasons have known. They thought the same about Pennsylvania until the Wisconsin game. This Kansas party will show whether or not Pennsylvania had an off day at Wisconsin, or the squad was badly overrated.

Alabama-Kentucky: This will be one of the most decisive games in the southern season. Which is to say it will eliminate one of two strong, unbeaten teams. Alabama beat Tennessee two weeks ago and the Crimson Tide then rolled across a strong Vanderbilt team. This makes its third hard test in a row.

Alabama has greater all-around strength with a big, hard-charging line and a first-class set of backs. Kentucky has a good team, is playing at home, and in "Shipwreck" Kelly the Blue Grass squad has one of the star backs of football. The advance dope favors Alabama.

Chicago-Princeton: Here is the struggle to get up in the world. It has been an indigo season for both. Neither has had the material to match the opposition. Of the two, Princeton has more man power and the Tiger is about due to get somewhere. Princeton ought to have the edge.

Fordham-West Virginia: This makes Fordham's fourth hard game in a row. Fordham came to its first peak against New York University and there may be some reaction. And West Virginia is no team to slump against. Yet Fordham's powerful defense should be the winning factor that will protect at least 7 or 14 points.

Northwestern-Minnesota: Two conference leaders in a clash where Northwestern has a decided advantage. Fritz Crisler and Tad Wieman have done a good job with Minnesota, but Northwestern has too much stuff with a powerful line and one of the best backfields in football.

N.Y.U.-Carnegie Tech: One of the best games of the day between two high-class teams. Carnegie Tech looks to have too much experience for N.Y.U.'s sophomore backfield. Carnegie has one of the best teams in football. Being beaten by Notre Dame is no sign of weakness. A high-ranking team might be beaten four touchdowns by Notre Dame when Rockne wants to put on his full power.

N.Y.U. also came to a high point against Fordham and may be due for a slight recession. Even if this recession doesn't take place, Carnegie Tech looks to have too much all-around speed and power for N.Y.U.'s defense to handle.

Wisconsin-Ohio State: Another hard conference game where Wisconsin has the jump and should win.

Cornell-Columbia: Cornell's unbeaten team has too much for Columbia to face and hold. Columbia has a fine back in Hewitt and Cornell has a star in Viviano, but Cornell has too many other good ones for the Lion to bowl over.

Syracuse-Brown: Here again are two of the strong teams of the East in one of these nip-and-tuck, head-and-head engagements with little to spare. The advantage is slight either way, but what there is belongs to Syracuse. This should be one of the best and closest games of the day.

Army-North Dakota: No easy game for the Army after facing Harvard and Yale on successive Saturdays, but in spite of this a strong all-around Army team, still unbeaten, should be good enough to win.

Georgia-Florida: You can check this one up for Georgia, but it will be no runaway.

Marquette - Boston College: Marquette, still unbeaten, with a star in Halfback Sisk, looks to have a touchdown advantage over Boston College.

Purdue-Illinois: Another good chance for George Ade of Purdue to stand up and give three rousing cheers.

Southern Methodist - Texas: S.M.U. will have too much in the way of a passing offense for Texas to stop. It was the one offense that crowded Notre Dame to the limit.

Washington State - Oregon State: Washington State was strong enough to beat Southern California and California. That means Washington State should be strong enough to beat Oregon State.

Clemson and Tennessee will have another hot skirmish, just about 50-50. Notre Dame will romp over Indiana. Pittsburgh should have a slender margin over Nebraska—this could go on for another hour and still not run out of games.

Soccer Rivals Tangle Sunday

With the two oldest rivals in the league meeting in one game and two of the outstanding teams in the league also on the same bill, Loyola Field's soccer program Sunday afternoon looms as the most promising of the season to date. In the opening game on the card, the unbeaten Los Angeles A. C. eleven faces the Vikings, one of the real threats in loop competition this year. At 3 p.m. those two arch rivals, the Scots and the Sons of St. George, tangle.

The Highlanders and the Sons can lose to everyone else and get away with it but if they are beaten by each other their followers take it like a tragedy. The Viking-Mercury contest is expected to bring out a potent brand of football if the local critics are right. The Norsemen are pointed for the club team and a bitter battle looms, they say.

Two games will be staged at Tournament Park, Pasadena, by the league. In the opener the Richfield Oilers, with their revamped and rejuvenated team, meet the league champions, Hollywood. At 3 p.m. the Magyars, the highest scoring team in the loop, face the Pasadena C. C. eleven. Claude Brown promises an upset for the Redshirts.

The early games at both fields start at 1 p.m.

COLORADO PREPS SET NEW SCORING RECORD

HUGO (Colo.) Oct. 30. (AP)—Hugo High School's football team, a strong contender for the Colorado interscholastic championship, has established a high mark for other teams to shoot at in the scoring line.

In the last three games Hugo's Pirates have scored 386 points. Nothing approaching this mark has ever been set in Colorado prep annals. Hugo defeated Vona, Colo., 176-6, yesterday. In the last two games Hugo beat Burlington, 104-0, and Flagler, 106-0.

Things happened so fast in yesterday's game little attention was paid when a Vona player stole a pass and ran for his team's only touchdown.

EVERYTHING SET FOR LAKE NORCO EVENT

William (Doc) Beazley, coach of the Lake Norco Club aquatic teams, announced yesterday that everything is in readiness for the junior national diving championship meet at the lake resort Sunday. Two junior crowns, one for women and one for men, will be decided from the high tower at Norco. Some of the finest diving performers in the Southland will participate, Beazley states.

Norene Forbes will defend her 300-yard free-style Southern Pacific swimming championship on the same program.

Firemen Hop South Sunday

Los Angeles City Fire Department football players, thirty-five strong, head for San Diego Sunday morning, where they are scheduled to pit their gridiron weapons against the Submarine Base team. The game is expected to be one of the toughest on the Fire Laddies' schedule. The Divers recently thumped the Bruin frosh team and they have cleaned up everything in sight in service circles.

Word reached Bill Blewett, coach of the firemen, that the Divers were pointed for the Smoke-Eaters. With that in mind Blewett is sending his squad through a stiff drill today against the Base team's plays. Blewett had intended using the shock-troop idea of Rockne's by sending in his second stringers against the Divers and then shooting his first-string eleven in the game.

He, however, will take no chance of letting the service team run up a couple of touchdowns on his team so the first team with its power backfield will go in from the start. Don Moses, Boots Beyers, Milt Nolan and Les Grimes, the big scoring threats of the firemen, are all in splendid shape for the contest, Blewett states.

The next appearance locally of the firemen will be at Wrigley Field on Armistice Day when they collide with Arizona State College.

Fullerton to Face Compton

Fullerton vs. Compton, Los Angeles vs. Long Beach, and Pasadena vs. Glendale is the football dish that will be served followers of Southern California junior colleges tomorrow. The first named game is the most important and will be held on the Compton field. Los Angeles will travel to Long Beach and Glendale will be hosts to Pasadena in the other scheduled matches. The Santa Ana team draws a bye.

Two games are also scheduled in the eastern division of the Jaysee conference with San Bernardino meeting Chaffey in Ontario and Pomona playing at Riverside. Riverside and Chaffey are the strongest teams in this division and should win their games easily tomorrow.

Compton is a slight favorite to beat the Fullerton Yellow Jackets, although a close game is expected. Much rivalry is present between these two teams which should make the battle even more exciting. Los Angeles is favored over Long Beach and Pasadena is expected to win from Glendale in the other games.

TAX DISPUTES LEAD

A few years ago trust prosecutions and railroad legislation filled the larger part of the docket of the United States Supreme Court. Now it is the question of taxes. So time moves.

An analysis of that docket shows that 357 cases have been filed since the court adjourned about the June 1, and that ninety-three of those are tax disputes. Some of the other leading subjects follow: Controversies in which the States are parties, 47; in which Indians are parties, 26; railroad disputes, 23; infringements of patents, 22; bankruptcy, 20; prohibition, 11.

When the court took its recess it had 172 cases pending. When it resumes its sessions October 5 there will be about 470 cases on the docket—about forty cases more than last year. But the work is not so formdiable as it would appear, for many of the cases are requests for reviews, which will be denied.—[Pathfinder.

Rings Bell for Sixty-two Years

Francis Fraser has completed his sixty-second year as bell-ringer at the Eltham (Eng.) parish church. He is 80 years of age and plans to ring bells for many more years, although it is not an easy task. "When we ring what we call an Oxford 'triple bob major,'" he said, "it means two hours and forty minutes' continuous ringing, with 5040 changes and no two changes alike. Bell-ringing isn't a job; it's an art."

German Memorial in Oxford

In memory of German undergraduates of New College, Oxford, Eng., a tablet has just been erected in the chapel of the college. It bears three names and the following inscription: "In memory of the men of this college who, coming from a foreign land, entered into the inheritance of this place and, returning, fought and died for their country in the war, 1914-1918."

Boy Real First-Nighter

London's Children's Theater boasts a boy first-nighter. He is 9 years of age and has never missed a show in several years, according to Miss Joan Luxton, the manager. He always buys his tickets in advance—in 3-cent installments, and purchases his programs ahead of time, also. He insists on having seat No. 6 for every performance because it is near the piano.
